May View Viaduct Plans Soon

Early Okay Could Mean Bids in 1961

Plans for razing the Washington Avenue viaduct and replacing the narrow Esopus Creek bridge west of it, are to reach the stage of advancement this month where they may be studied and discussed by officials concerned, a state engineer said today.

This means the project could be up for bidding this year, if early approval follows discussion if first drafts by Albany and local officials.

May Be in 2 Weeks

First review of plans could take place in about two weeks, the public works engineer said.

The local project, sought locally for more than a decade, is expected to retain priority because it is a phase of the city's arterial route system, and because elimination of the nearly half-century-old viaduct is on order of the State Public Service Commission.

Expect Detour Included

A detour route serving the uptown area more directly than the arterial route spur, is expected to be included in the plans. Engineers, after announcement of the PSC order, announced early this year that the spur alone was to be used as the detour, but this point was reconsidered after protests by local merchants, Mayor Edwin F. Radel, and others, plus the support of Assemblyman Kenneth L. Wilson, of Woodstock.

The viaduct, built originally to overpass two railroads, is now a grade separation for only one, the mountain branch of the New York Central, which has a light train schedule. Its crossing will be re-established at grade with a signal unit regulating train travel.

Washington Avenue in the area will be resorted to its full width and repaved for several hundred feet. A section of Route 28 west of the Esopus Creek Bridge will also be repaved for several hundred feet.

Kennedy Flying May 31 For 3-Day Conference With French President

Police, FBI Hunt Burglars Who Got $200,000 in Loot

GRAND RAPIDS, Mich. (AP)—Police and the FBI today sought burglars who carried off an estimated $200,000 in gold, silver and gems as loot from a jewelry firm Sunday.

An abandoned green sports shirt smelling of tear gas and some burglar tools were major clues.

Thieves broke into the H. R. Terryberry Co. and stole the valuables from eight safes. The firm is a manufacturer of school rings, pins and specialized jewelry.

Police said the burglars set off a tear-gas trap in a futile attempt to open three more safes. The sports shirt was found in a nearby alley.

The FBI entered the case because of illegal possession of gold by other than a dealer.

The loot, police said, included 300 pounds of gold and silver pressed into sheets of varied thicknesses, and unset diamonds and other stones.

Adenauer Will Be In U. S. April 11

PALM BEACH, Fla. (AP)—President Kennedy will fly to Paris May 31 for three days of talks with French President Charles de Gaulle.

Announcing this today, the President's vacation headquarters said he will be accompanied by his wife, Jacqueline.

In reply to questions, White House press secretary Pierre Salinger told a news conference that at this time he knows of no plans for Kennedy to visit other European capitals in connection with the Paris trip.

1st as President

The Paris visit will be Kennedy's first trip abroad as president. He will go to Canada in advance of going to France.

Plans for a trip to Ottawa to address the Canadian Parliament were announced earlier. Indications now are that Kennedy will go to Ottawa perhaps two weeks before visiting Paris.

Kennedy plans to leave for Paris by jet plane probably on the night of May 30. He will leave Washington May 29 to attend a "Salute to Kennedy" dinner in Boston marking his 44th birthday, then go on to New York the next day for a dinner being given to raise funds to fight cancer.

Will Make Three Talks

163: trip. .. ..

Kennedy's talks with De Gaulle, whom he has never met, will complete a round of conversations with the Big Three leaders of Western Europe.

The President met eight days ago at Key West, Fla., with Britain's Prime Minister Harold Macmillan for discussion of the Laos crisis. They will resume their talks on this and other problems Wednesday in Washington.

Adenauer Coming

And West Germany's Chancellor Konrad Adenauer will be in Washington April 11-12 for conferences with Kennedy.

After a bit more than four months in office, Kennedy will have discussed with Macmillan, De Gaulle and Adenauer the administration's strategy on efforts to ease East-West tensions. The talks are certain to embrace a variety of Western problems in dealing with the Soviet Union, including disarmament, the Berlin situation and Laos.

Changes Travel Policy

Kennedy's decision to accept De Gaulle's invitation to go to Paris reflects a change in travel policy as set forth by the White House about the time he took office last January.

At that time, Salinger said Kennedy had no plans to go abroad for international conferences during at least the first six months of his administration.

The decision also reflects an obviously changing Kennedy attitude toward talks at the summit, including meetings with the leaders of friendly nations.

Dems Pushing Hard On JFK Program

WASHINGTON (AP) — Democrats are launching a big effort to bring public pressure to bear on Congress for enactment of President Kennedy's New Frontier program.

Instructions have gone out from the Democratic National Committee to party workers across the country to drum up support for the President's program by urging citizens to write and call their senators and congressmen.

Appeal to Women

Margaret Price, vice chairman of the committee, is sponsoring a "Support the President" drive among women. She has pointed it in its initial stages toward exerting pressure on the Senate to get the kind of minimum wage bill Kennedy wants.

Kennedy's proposal for a step-by-step increase in the minimum wage from $1 to $1.25 an hour, with an extension of coverage to $3.8 million additional workers, was beaten by one vote in the House.

The House then passed a Republican substitute raising the minimum to $1.15 and covering 1.4 million additional workers.

In what seemed an obvious attempt to give time for public pressure to accumulate, Senate Democratic leaders postponed Senate action on the Kennedy bill until the middle of next week.

Publish 'Benefits'

Through its publication, "The Democrat," the national committee spelled out some of the spending benefits it said states and local communities will get from a Kennedy program Republicans have attacked as offering "pie in the sky."

The committee listed six proposals it said will pump $2.1 billion additional spending power" into the economy. They included aid for dependent children of the unemployed, Social Security increases, housing and community development, additional surplus food distribution, acceleration of the highway program and speeded up payments of veterans life insurance dividends.

The insurance dividend and food distribution moves have been accomplished by executive order. None of the other proposals have cleared Congress.

Vehicle Mishaps Kill 15 Persons During Weekend

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP) — Traffic accidents over the Easter weekend in New York State killed 15 persons. A man and his son-in-law were the victims in the only two-car collision.

A man and his wife died in a one-car accident at Rensselaer and two men were killed in another single-car accident near Utica.

Easter Fatalities

No one was killed in other types of accidents between 6 p.m. Friday and midnight Sunday.

In the two-car crash, in Brooklyn Sunday, the victims were Julio DePaula, 62, and his son-in-law, Hector Arche, 30, both of Queens.

Carl Petersen, 54, of Albany, and his wife, Florence, 40, were killed Sunday night when their automobile struck a concrete abutment in Rensselaer.

Near Utica, a car ran off a highway Sunday, struck a tree, knocked down a utility pole and was pierced by another tree. Robert E. Swingle, 28, of Binghamton, and Allen M. Every Jr., 34, of Bloomville, were killed.

Other accidental deaths, by community:

Centereach—Onni Wuorinen, 41, Smithtown car ran off Jericho Turnpike Saturday and struck a tree.

Car, Train Collide

Lackawanna—Mrs. Emma Napsch, 62, died Saturday of injuries suffered Friday when struck by a car.

Roosevelt — Michael O'Connell, 16, The Bronx, struck by a car Friday while crossing a street.

Cobleskill—Ralph W. Rendo, 35, Fultonham, car struck a car parked on a highway Sunday.

Washingtonville — John E. Nelson, 24, Rock Tavern, car struck a tree and overturned Sunday.

Newburgh—Mrs. Anna Bulson, 59, struck by a car while crossing a street Saturday.

New York — Arthur McCready, 55, struck by a car Sunday.

Hearing Set On New Paltz 1961 Budget

A public hearing on the 1961 tentative budget of $199,567.66 for the Village of New Paltz will be held Friday, April 14 at 8 p. m. in the trustee rooms. The estimated tax rate for the new budget is $33.33, and increase of $2.33.

The appropriations include general fund, $106,892.16; water fund, $35,108.10 and sewer fund, $57,597.40.

Must Raise $81,343

Total estimated revenues are $118,254.50, leaving $81,343.16 to be raised by taxes.

The assessed valuation of the village is $2,440,464, an increase of $34,410 over last year.

It was announced at a recent Village Board meeting that the village now has a population of 3,041, according to the 1960 census and New Paltz has become eligible for second class village classification. The new classification decrees that the trustees may no longer serve as village assessors and must appoint an assessor board.

Marinus Petersen, village treasurer reported that the the water and sewer funds have been exhausted because the state owes the village $16,000 for bills issued for water and sewer service at the State University College of Education in the village. The village has a contract in which the state agrees to pay $10,000 for the year ending April 1, 1961, and another $10,000 for the coming fiscal year.

Behind in Payments

Petersen reported that the state is five and one-half months behind in payments on its bills. He said this necessitated the borrowing of $5,000 in February on a revenue anticipation note to cover current expenses.

Mayor Henry DuBois said the village must borrow additional funds unless payment of the bills is forthcoming.

Board members recommended that Governor Rockefeller, As-

Area Chamber Has New Secretary

Callers at the office of Kingston Area Chamber of Commerce, starting today, will see a new face and those who call will hear a new voice. The new office secretary is Mrs. Mary De File. The former secretary was Mrs. Catherine Holmes.

In making this announcement today Chamber manager, Albert Kurdt also invited all members to stop in and get acquainted. The new office quarters will make it possible to be of still greater service to members and the public.

The Chamber of Commerce is also preparing for the beginning of the new fiscal year on May 1. President Joseph E. O'Connor is now working on the appointment of new committees. The tentative budget for 1961-62 will be approved at the next meeting of the board of directors on April 11. The final budget will not be approved until after the membership campaign.

Shultis Sees April Snow, Frost in May

As weather prophet Tom Shultis of Bearsville issued a dreary forecast for April and May, residents in the Western and Southern Tier, according to The Associated Press, are experiencing a late-season storm which blanketed most of that area with nine inches of snow early today.

Easter morning in the Kingston area was cool but sunny until about 11 a. m. when the sky blackened and spat out several resounding bolts of spring lightning, accompanied by an hour of blown snow.

Cool for Easter

It was cool for Easter regalia and flowered hats but they were much in evidence despite the unseasonably inclement weather.

Area utilities reported no damage from the brief storm which did not drop enough snow to trouble highway crews. The white stuff was soon melted, the sun shining pleasantly for most of Sunday afternoon.

Western and Southern Tier counties were hardest hit, with Little Valley in Cattaraugus County reporting the heaviest fall, nine inches overnight. Eight inches fell in sections of Chautauqua County and near Boonville in Oneida County.

Home to Work With Rusk on Laos Note

WASHINGTON (AP) — Lord Home, the British foreign minister, arrives here tonight to start preliminary work with Secretary of State Dean Rusk on a Western reply to the Soviet Union's note on Laos.

They are expected to have a draft reply ready when Prime Minister Harold Macmillan reaches here late Tuesday afternoon for conferences with President Kennedy.

Evaluations Identical

U.S. officials speculated it is unlikely the reply will be delayed until the end of Macmillan's visit. The U.S. and British evaluations of the Soviet note virtually are identical.

The Soviet Union, in its note to Britain last Saturday, agreed with the British proposal to hold a 14-nation conference on the political future of Laos, but remained vague on the timing of a cease-fire, which the British, backed by the United States, proposed as a first step.

Kennedy said in a statement that he viewed the Soviet note as a "useful next step toward peaceful settlement of a potentially dangerous situation."

In Laos, fighting subsided Sunday as military sources reported no new major encounters with pro-Communist rebels. The government said Saturday the rebels were attacking three major points in eastern and southern Laos.

Warn About Claims

In Washington, officials cautioned that claims of the royal Laotian government about a large-scale rebel offensive should be considered with reservations.

Rusk and his top aides, among them Charles E. Bohlen, ranking Soviet expert, and Richard Usher, deputy director of the State Department's Southeast Asian Office, met for almost three hours Sunday.

Officials indicated that the United States would insist on an effective cease-fire before it entered any international conference to settle Laos' fate.

Mystery Message Baffles Police In Girl's Death

RICHMOND, Va. (AP) — A crudely penned note gave police a new puzzle to solve today in the bizarre Dudley murder case.

The note, scrawled by Kenneth Dudley last week to Maryland authorities, purports to show a spot near Laurel, Md., where the wiry carnival worker now claims his daughter Carol Ann, 8, died the night of Jan. 31-Feb. 1.

Face Murder Charges

It could complicate the case, since Dudley and his wife Irene have been charged with murder in Carol Ann's starvation death on evidence she died in Hanover County, Va., 95 miles south of Laurel, the night of Feb. 1-2.

Two Maryland state policemen, Cpl. G. R. Grant and Trooper C. F. Greffen, questioned Dudley Sunday in his jail cell here, and Grant said afterward: "We have reached no conclusion."

But Virginia State Police Investigator E. M. Lloyd, who joined Grant and Greffen in talking with Dudley said, he did not believe Dudley's claim that Carol Ann died in Maryland.

Starvation Reported

The child's body was found Feb. 9 in a woods off U. S. 1 not far from Lawrenceville, south of Han-

Pine Hill Fire Destroys House, Threat to Sector

Fire of undetermined origin gutted a two-story frame summer residence on lower Main Street, Pine Hill, Sunday evening and threatened a drug store next door and other buildings in the area, including the Paradise Hotel.

The flames were brought under control, however, without spreading to neighboring structures.

Chief Charles Smith of the Pine Hill Fire Company told The Freeman that when the company's two trucks reached the scene about 9 p. m. the "whole upstairs seemed to be ablaze."

He said it "almost looked as if it might have started upstairs." Chief Smith said it was "really burning pretty good."

Gusty winds swept the flames about, threatening a drugstore next door, about 30 feet from the burning dwelling, owned by a metropolitan family reportedly named Hyman, a private home about 100 feet away and the Paradise Hotel directly across the street.

The dwelling was only a minute away from the fire house and equipment reached the scene shortly after the fire was reported.

Another truck was dispatched to the scene from the Big Indian Fire Company.

Chief Smith said he was going into the structure again today to see if the cause of the blaze can be determined.

There was very little furniture in the house, which had about seven rooms, he said.

The house was unoccupied when fire started but it was reported and others had been there during the weekend, and that he had done some work around the place.

Chief Smith said the roof was completely gone, although the walls are still standing. The fire apparently burned straight up through the house. All the rooms were badly charred.

The chief set a watch at the scene for the rest of the night after volunteers returned to their firehouses about 1 a. m. Some of the asphalt shingles threatened to ignite again.

Mother Descends Into 24-Foot Well for Child; Son, 6, Helps

HAMILTON, N.Y. (AP) — The mother took off her coat, acting calmly but quickly. She sent her 6-year-old son running for help. Then she climbed 24 feet down the wall to save her 4-year-old daughter from drowning.

Mrs. Arthur Lisley plucked her Barbara from the water. The woman braced her back and feet against the rough walls of the dark, three-foot-diameter well and waited, her daughter in her arms.

Her little David did his part. He ran a half mile to the nearest house.

Firemen arrived in 15 to 20 minutes, Mrs. Linsley estimated.

"I was getting a little shaky," she related Sunday after firemen pulled her and Barbara to the surface with ropes.

The firemen said the water was seven feet deep.

Mother and daughter escaped without a scratch.

Barbara had lost her balance and tumbled down the rock-lined, open shaft in an abandoned house.

The experience began with an Easter drive into the country from Hamilton, where Mrs. Linsley's husband is a professor of paleontology at Colgate University.

The children spotted the abandoned house and asked to explore it. The mother agreed.

In her fall, Barbara missed the protruding stones that enabled Mrs. Linsley to get a foothold in her descent.

Barbara went under but rose to the surface and was clinging to a stone when the mother reached her.

Last summer, Mrs. Linsley said, she had taught Barbara to hold her breath under water and to stay calm.

Kingston Student Among 65 Who Landed Safely Sunday on Crippled Air Liner

A 23-year-old Kingston graduate student was among 65 passengers who arrived safely at Boston Sunday night in a big turbo-prop plane which landed with a damaged tire on one of its nose wheels on a foam-slicked runaway at Logan International Airport.

Thelma Friedman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Milton Friedman of 1 Dietz Court was returning to Simmons College where she is a graduate student and has another year to attend for a master's degree.

The passengers were told of the trouble by the stewardesses about a half hour after leaving La Guardia Field, New York City.

Miss Friedman said, "When I first heard the news I got emotionally sick and I was sick for the whole trip."

A 1955 Kingston High School graduate, Miss Friedman has an older brother and sister, both married.

The tension of the short run to Boston was described in an Associated Press dispatch.

"There wasn't a whisper. Everyone was waiting to see what would happen."

That was one passenger's description of the tension aboard an Eastern Air Lines Electra Sunday night as the big turbo-prop plane — with a damaged tire on one of its nose wheels—slid down for a safe landing on a foam-slicked runway at Logan International Airport.

The plane carried 65 passengers and a crew of 5 on a flight that began at Atlanta, with stops at Raleigh-Durham, N.C., Richmond, Va., and La Guardia Field, New York.

Landing gear trouble plagued a Trans-Canada Air Lines plane at almost the same time at Montreal International Airport.

In that case, the four-engine Vickers Vanguard from Tampa belly-landed with 42 passengers and 7 crewmen after circling the field for nearly two hours in an unsuccessful effort to free a stuck left wheel.

There were no reports of injuries in either incident.

The Electra apparently stripped the tread from its left nose wheel on takeoff from La Guardia. Capt. Arthur A. Hinkley of Hampton, N.H., the pilot, radioed that he felt a tire had blown. Pieces of the tire were found on the runway.

That set in motion extraordinary disaster measures at Logan, including 30 fire trucks, ambulances and harbor rescue craft.

Tension mounted as the big plane circled Boston for 2 hours and 8 minutes to use up fuel. The plane finally rolled safely down the runway through 1,500 feet of foam.

Jane Stein, 18, of Scarsdale, N.Y., a pretty Boston University freshman, burst off the plane,

In making this announcement today Chamber manager, Albert Kurdt also invited all members to stop in and get acquainted. The new office quarters will make it possible to be of still greater service to members and the public.

The Chamber of Commerce is also preparing for the beginning of the new fiscal year on May 1. President Joseph E. O'Connor is now working on the appointment of new committees. The tentative budget for 1961-62 will be approved at the next meeting of the board of directors on April 11. The final budget will not be approved until after the membership campaign.

Shultis Sees April Snow, Frost in May

As weather prophet Tom Shultis of Bearsville issued a dreary forecast for April and May, residents in the Western and Southern Tier, according to The Associated Press, are experiencing a late-season storm which blanketed most of that area with nine inches of snow early today.

Easter morning in the Kingston area was cool but sunny until about 11 a. m. when the sky blackened and spat out several resounding bolts of spring lightning, accompanied by an hour of blown snow.

Cool for Easter

It was cool for Easter regalia and flowered hats but they were much in evidence despite the unseasonably inclement weather.

Area utilities reported no damage from the brief storm which did not drop enough snow to trouble highway crews. The white stuff was soon melted, the sun shining pleasantly for most of Sunday afternoon.

Western and Southern Tier counties were hardest hit, with Little Valley in Cattaraugus County reporting the heaviest fall, nine inches overnight. Eight inches fell in sections of Chautauqua County and near Boonville in Oneida County.

Sleet and freezing temperatures made roads in the western sec-

Home to Work With Rusk on Laos Note

WASHINGTON (AP) — Lord Home, the British foreign minister, arrives here tonight to start preliminary work with Secretary of State Dean Rusk on a Western reply to the Soviet Union's note on Laos.

They are expected to have a draft reply ready when Prime Minister Harold Macmillan reaches here late Tuesday afternoon for conferences with President Kennedy.

Evaluations Identical

U.S. officials speculated it is unlikely the reply will be delayed until the end of Macmillan's visit. The U.S. and British evaluations of the Soviet note virtually are identical.

The Soviet Union, in its note to Britain last Saturday, agreed with the British proposal to hold a 14-nation conference on the political future of Laos, but remained vague on the timing of a cease-fire, which the British, backed by the United States, proposed as a first step.

Kennedy said in a statement that he viewed the Soviet note as a "useful next step toward peaceful settlement of a potentially dangerous situation."

In Laos, fighting subsided Sunday as military sources reported no new major encounters with pro-Communist rebels. The government said Saturday the rebels were attacking three major points in eastern and southern Laos.

Warn About Claims

In Washington, officials cautioned that claims of the royal Laotian government about a large-scale rebel offensive should be considered with reservations.

Rusk and his top aides, among them Charles E. Bohlen, ranking Soviet expert, and Richard Usher, deputy director of the State Department's Southeast Asian Office, met for almost three hours Sunday.

Officials indicated that the United States would insist on an effective cease-fire before it entered any international conference to settle Laos' fate.

Mystery Message Baffles Police In Girl's Death

RICHMOND, Va. (AP) — A crudely penned note gave police a new puzzle to solve today in the bizarre Dudley murder case.

The note, scrawled by Kenneth Dudley last week to Maryland authorities, purports to show a spot near Laurel, Md., where the wiry carnival worker now claims his daughter Carol Ann, 8, died the night of Jan. 31-Feb. 1.

Face Murder Charges

It could complicate the case, since Dudley and his wife Irene have been charged with murder in Carol Ann's starvation death on evidence she died in Hanover County, Va., 95 miles south of Laurel, the night of Feb. 1-2.

Two Maryland state policemen, Cpl. G. R. Grant and Trooper C. F. Greffen, questioned Dudley Sunday in his jail cell here, and Grant said afterward: "We have reached no conclusion."

But Virginia State Police Investigator E. M. Lloyd, who joined Grant and Greffen in talking with Dudley said, he did not believe Dudley's claim that Carol Ann died in Maryland.

Pine Hill Fire Destroys House, Threat to Sector

Fire of undetermined origin gutted a two-story frame summer residence on lower Main Street, Pine Hill, Sunday evening and threatened a drug store next door and other buildings in the area, including the Paradise Hotel.

The flames were brought under control, however, without spreading to neighboring structures.

Chief Charles Smith of the Pine Hill Fire Company told The Freeman that when the company's two trucks reached the scene about 9 p. m. the "whole upstairs seemed to be ablaze."

He said it "almost looked as if it might have started upstairs." Chief Smith said it was "really burning pretty good."

Gusty winds swept the flames about, threatening a drugstore next door, about 30 feet from the burning dwelling, owned by a metropolitan family reportedly named Hyman, a private home about 100 feet away and the Paradise Hotel directly across the street.

The dwelling was only a minute away from the fire house and equipment reached the scene shortly after the fire was reported.

Another truck was dispatched to the scene from the Big Indian Fire Company.

Chief Smith said he was going into the structure again today to see if the cause of the blaze can be determined.

There was very little furniture in the house, which had about seven rooms, he said.

The house was unoccupied when fire started but it was reported and others had been there during the weekend, and that he had done some work around the place.

Chief Smith said the roof was completely gone, although the walls are still standing. The fire apparently burned straight up through the house. All the rooms were badly charred.

The chief set a watch at the scene for the rest of the night after volunteers returned to their firehouses about 1 a. m. Some of the asphalt shingles threatened to ignite again.

Mother Descends Into 24-Foot Well for Child; Son, 6, Helps

HAMILTON, N.Y. (AP) — The mother took off her coat, acting calmly but quickly. She sent her 6-year-old son running for help. Then she climbed 24 feet down the wall to save her 4-year-old daughter from drowning.

Mrs. Arthur Lisley plucked her Barbara from the water. The woman braced her back and feet against the rough walls of the dark, three-foot-diameter well and waited, her daughter in her arms.

Her little David did his part. He ran a half mile to the nearest house.

Firemen arrived in 15 to 20 minutes, Mrs. Linsley estimated.

"I was getting a little shaky," she related Sunday after firemen pulled her and Barbara to the surface with ropes.

The firemen said the water was seven feet deep.

Mother and daughter escaped without a scratch.

Barbara had lost her balance and tumbled down the rock-lined, open shaft in an abandoned house.

The experience began with an Easter drive into the country from Hamilton, where Mrs. Linsley's husband is a professor of paleontology at Colgate University.

The children spotted the abandoned house and asked to explore it. The mother agreed.

In her fall, Barbara missed the protruding stones that enabled Mrs. Linsley to get a foothold in her descent.

Barbara went under but rose to the surface and was clinging to a stone when the mother reached her.

Last summer, Mrs. Linsley said, she had taught Barbara to hold her breath under water and to stay calm.

Kingston Student Among 65 Who Landed Safely Sunday on Crippled Air Liner

A 23-year-old Kingston graduate student was among 65 passengers who arrived safely at Boston Sunday night in a big turbo-prop plane which landed with a damaged tire on one of its nose wheels on a foam-slicked runaway at Logan International Airport.

Thelma Friedman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Milton Friedman of 1 Dietz Court was returning to Simmons College where she is a graduate student and has another year to attend for a master's degree.

The passengers were told of the trouble by the stewardesses about a half hour after leaving La Guardia Field, New York City.

Miss Friedman said, "When I first heard the news I got emotionally sick and I was sick for the whole trip."

A 1955 Kingston High School graduate, Miss Friedman has an older brother and sister, both married.

The tension of the short run to Boston was described in an Associated Press dispatch.

"There wasn't a whisper. Everyone was waiting to see what would happen."

That was one passenger's description of the tension aboard an Eastern Air Lines Electra Sunday night as the big turbo-prop plane — with a damaged tire on one of its nose wheels—slid down for a safe landing on a foam-slicked runway at Logan International Airport.

The plane carried 65 passengers and a crew of 5 on a flight that began at Atlanta, with stops at Raleigh-Durham, N.C., Richmond, Va., and La Guardia Field, New York.

Landing gear trouble plagued a Trans-Canada Air Lines plane at almost the same time at Montreal International Airport.

In that case, the four-engine Vickers Vanguard from Tampa belly-landed with 42 passengers and 7 crewmen after circling the field for nearly two hours in an unsuccessful effort to free a stuck left wheel.

There were no reports of injuries in either incident.

The Electra apparently stripped the tread from its left nose wheel on takeoff from La Guardia. Capt. Arthur A. Hinkley of Hampton, N.H., the pilot, radioed that he felt a tire had blown. Pieces of the tire were found on the runway.

That set in motion extraordinary disaster measures at Logan, including 30 fire trucks, ambulances and harbor rescue craft.

Tension mounted as the big plane circled Boston for 2 hours and 8 minutes to use up fuel. The plane finally rolled safely down the runway through 1,500 feet of foam.

Jane Stein, 18, of Scarsdale, N.Y., a pretty Boston University freshman, burst off the plane,

State Tax Aide Has Office Here

"Even though the last day for filing 1960 State income tax returns on a calendar year basis is Monday, April 17, the temporary office in Kingston will not be open on that day," Cornelius Spencer, a Civil Service employee of the New York State Income Tax Bureau said today.

Spencer was assigned to the temporary office of the State Income Tax Bureau in Kingston on March 23. Since that time he has been giving assistance at the Ulster County court house to taxpayers.

The office is in the commissioner of jurors room on the first floor of the county court house on Wall Street. The office is open from 8:30 a. m. to 12:30 p. m. and from 1:30 p. m. to 5 p. m., through Friday, April 7, to assist taxpayers in making out their state income forms.

Beginning Monday, April 10, and continuing through Friday, April 14, the office will open at 9 a. m. During this last week the hours will be from 9 a. m. to 12:30 p. m., and from 1:30 p. m. to 5:30 p. m. This additional half hour during the last week is to give those who may be working until 5 p. m., an opportunity to seek assistance.

Information, forms and assistance may be obtained at the temporary office in the court house during the hours the office is open and Mr. Spencer may also be reached by phone.

Help may be obtained April 17 and thereafter only at the permanent offices of the Bureau, the two nearest being 14 Mamaroneck Avenue, White Plains, and Governor Alfred E. Smith State Office Building, Albany.

Woman Pedestrian Killed by Vehicle

A Newburgh woman died late Saturday night at St. Luke's Hospital in that city about 25 minutes after she was struck by a car at a Newburgh intersection.

Newburgh police told The Freeman that the vehicle failed to stop.

Mrs. Anna Bulson, 59, was struck by an unknown car about 11:17 p. m. and died at the hospital at 11:40 p. m.

Police said Mrs. Bulson was crossing the intersection at Broadway and Mill Street at the time of the fatal mishap.

Speed Limited

A 35-mile-an - hour speed limit was in force on the State Thruway from Rochester to the Pennsylvania state line, including the Niagara section.

Erie, Genesee, Cortland and Orleans counties had one to three inches, but in most other sections there was only flurries.

High winds plagued Easter paraders throughout the state Sunday.

A cold wet spring through April and May, "with snow in April and frost in May," has been forecast by the Bearsville weather expert.

In his seasonal forecast for the period April 1 to October 1, the prophet lays it on the line.

Delay Planting

"My advice," he said, "would be not to set your garden plants out until after June 1."

He also cautions residents of Ulster County not to put away their snow shovels yet.

From June 1 to October 1 the weather will not be as wet as in the spring, but it will be "cool with westerly winds." The winds will be easterly this spring.

He points out, however, that there will not be much "hard wind" during this period.

Average temperature during the past winter was 21 degrees, he says, with 5¾ inches of rain and 68 inches of snow.

Forecast Bad Winter

In his forecast last fall Shultis hit the mark cleanly. "Get ready for another bad winter," were his words.

He said at that time that all signs point toward a winter with "plenty of cloudy weather and storms of all kinds—snow, sleet, rain and ice."

Most of the bad weather, he predicted then, "will be during December and January, with the coldest weather in those two months. So, you better have plenty of sand ready for your driveways — also town and county highways."

Apparatus Overturns

A large Euclid dirt remover employed on construction on Route 28 just outside the city reportedly overturned during the weekend. A check with John Arborio, Inc., of Brabrant Road, however, indicated that no one was hurt in the mishap. The giant construction equipment was reportedly returned to its wheels by special power booms.

Motel Owner Fined $12,000 in Tax Case

ALBANY, N. Y. (AP)—Douglas C. Burton of Warrensburg, a Lake George hotel and motel operator, was fined $12,000 in U. S. District Court today for evading income taxes.

Judge James T. Foley also placed Burton on probation for one year. Burton pleaded guilty Feb. 6.

The government said Burton paid $1,128 in taxes for 1957 when he owed $12,780, and $1,175 in 1958 when he owed $24,505.

Burton was fined $6,000 on each charge.

Red China Holds Threat Over West On SEATO Troops

JAKARTA, Indonesia (AP) — Red China today held a threat over the West to turn Laos into another Korea if the Southeast Asia Treaty Organization sends troops into the strife-torn Indochina kingdom.

Peiping's Foreign Minister Chen Yi, winding up a visit to Indonesia, told newsmen that if SEATO sends troops into Laos, "then China will also send troops."

Marshall Chen Yi, who led the Chinese Communist 3rd Army into Korea in 1950 before becoming foreign minister, alluded to SEATO's warning that it was prepared to take "appropriate action" to prevent an armed Communist takeover of Laos.

The foreign minister said Peiping's solution to the fighting between pro-Western and pro-Communist forces in Laos is to "let the Laotian people settle their differences themselves and withdraw all foreign intervention. This would insure peace and neutrality in the country."

Chen Yi left before newsmen got a chance to question him about Moscow's latest proposals on Laos. But Peiping has declared a willingness to participate in the proposed 14-nation conference on the political future of Laos.

A communique on Chen Yi's talks with Indonesian President Sukarno contended that the United Nations efforts to solve world problems would be seriously weakened unless Peiping is admitted to membership in the international organization.

On Laos and the Congo, the two leaders declared: "All foreign intervention in all its forms and manifestations in these two countries should be discontinued."

The situation in Laos was described Sunday by Malayan Prime Minister Abdul Rahman as "still extremely serious." He pointed out the vagueness of the Soviet reply to the British proposal about the timing of a ceasefire in the jungle kingdom.

Leaving Britain after a month-long visit, the Malayan leader suggested that the Soviets were hedging about ending the fighting.

The neutralist Asian prime minister said "the fault in Laos lies on both sides, on the Western and the Communist bloc. The situation is still danerous despite the Russian reply (to the British peace plan). My only prayer is that the Americans won't do anything to worsen it."

Radio Moscow said in a German-language broadcast Sunday night that "the way to a peaceful settlement in Laos may be regarded as opened."

Add Advertising Cost to Taxes Unpaid by Apr. 14

Taxpayers who have not paid their general taxes due January 1, 1960, still have a few days in which to pay their taxes at the Ulster County treasurer's office without having to pay the additional cost of advertising and other additional expense.

This also applies to those in the towns who have not paid their 1960-61 Kingston School District, Consolidated, school taxes.

Fred H. DuBois, Ulster County treasurer, today announced that delinquent taxpayers, those taxpayers who did not pay their taxes while the tax rolls were in the hands of local town tax collectors, will have until April 14 to pay their taxes. These are general taxes due January 1, 1960, which were turned over to the county treasurer for collection, and also the 1960-61 Kingston School District, Consolidated, taxes for the various towns of the school district which were due in September of 1960 and still remain unpaid.

They may be paid at the office of the county treasurer in the court house, Wall Street, through April 14 without addition of the advertising costs.

Shortly after April 14, when the list will be prepared, the delinquent properties will be advertised, County Treasurer DuBois said.

New Paltz Man To Face Court In Tax Evasion

NEW PALTZ, N. Y. (AP)—The Internal Revenue Service said today that contractor Stanley Hasbrouck would be arraigned April 10 on an income tax evasion charge.

Hasbrouck is charged with underpaying his income taxes in 1954, 1956, 1957 and 1958 by a total of $32,744.81.

He was indicted March 29 by a federal grand jury, the IRS office in Albany said. He is charged with wilfully trying to avoid payment of income taxes.

He is to be arraigned in federal district court at New York.

Red China to Free Man After 15 Years

LONDON (AP)—Robert E. McCann, an American citizen jailed for 15 years by the Communist Chinese on charges of espionage, is being freed and will leave China Wednesday, Peiping radio announced today.

Peiping said Communist authorities decided to free the ailing McCann after his wife, who visited him in jail, appealed for his release.

McCann is said to be dying of lung cancer. Formerly of Altadena, Calif., he long was engaged in business in China. He was jailed in Tientsin June 14, 1951 under a 15-year sentence.

Destroyer, Jets Free Cable Ship Blocked by Cuba

GUANTANAMO BAY, Cuba (AP)—U.S. naval authorities said today the American cable ship Western Union was intercepted by a Cuban gunboat and then freed after U.S. jet planes and a destroyer went to her assistance.

A naval spokesman said the cable ship was stopped in international waters Saturday, about five miles off the Cuban port of Baracoa on the northeastern part of the island.

The U.S. destroyer, the John W. Weeks, did not enter Cuban waters and the planes did not fly over them, the spokesman said.

The captain of the Western Union radioed Guantanamo she had been intercepted by an armed Cuban gunboat, the spokesman said.

"Loaded with gasoline and with a maximum speed of only a few knots, the Western Union's skipper had no alternative but to obey an order backed by arms," he added.

Jet planes flew out and located the Western Union midway between the point of interception and Baracoa. There the cable ship halted. Four hours later, when the destroyer arrived at emergency speed the cable ship was released by the gunboat and steamed back on course toward Key West.

Kennedy Faces 2 Easter Crises, Learns of Plot

PALM BEACH, Fla. (AP) — President Kennedy figured in two crises over the Easter weekend, one a reported assassination-kidnap plot against his family and the other involving Southeast Asia.

The President and his smartly dressed wife attended Easter Sunday church services under a doubled security guard because of deep concern about the Kennedy family's safety.

Threat in Laos

On the international front, the President's attention centered on what he called the potentially dangerous situation in Communist-threatened Laos.

The President has had no comment on reported plots by pro-Castro Cubans to kidnap his daughter Caroline, 3, or assassinate the entire Kennedy family—father, mother, Caroline and John Jr., four months.

Secret Service agents have had the Cuban suspects -- three men and a woman—under around the clock surveillance.

While the President has been keeping mum publicly about all this, he and his wife obviously were aware of the extra precautions the Secret Service took to safeguard them.

Attend Church

A crowd estimated at up to 1,000 had assembled in the vicinity of St. Edward's Catholic church long before the President and the First Lady arrived—almost 10 minutes late—for 10 a.m. Easter Sunday Mass.

The first precaution the Secret Service took disappointed the crowd. The usual route from the Kennedy estate was changed and the President and his wife slipped in through a side door of the church almost unnoticed.

Well in advance of the Kennedys' arrival, Secret Service men augmented by local, county and state police had filtered into the roped-back crowd to keep a close watch for any potential troublemakers.

The First Lady wore a pale blue two-piece shantung dress—a straight skirt with a collarless overblouse with seven buttons down the back—and a matching pillbox hat.

Ushered to Pew

On their arrival the Kennedys were ushered swiftly to a pew just inside the side door. They usually sit on the opposite side, near the back.

At the end of the service the side aisle was cleared and the Kennedys left by the front door. Both smiled and the President waved to the applauding crowd as they walked to their car.

TV Staffers Get Rusk Briefing On Overseas Policy

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary Dean Rusk and other high State Department officials spoke today at a foreign policy briefing for broadcasters from around the country.

President Kennedy will address the group Tuesday.

Under the rules set forth for the conference, nothing Rusk or the others said could be quoted directly or attributed to them by name.

The information could be used only through such means as a reporter saying he "understands" U. S. policy is thus-and-so.

The two-day briefing is being held by the State Department in a move to spread public understanding of U. S. foreign policy. Attending this morning's session in the State Department auditorium were about 500 radio-TV executives, commentators and newsmen, who came to Washington at their own expense.

A similar session for newspaper and magazine men will be held April 24-25.

Court to Hear Appeal of Beck

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Supreme Court today agreed to hear an appeal by Dave Beck, former Teamsters Union president, from his conviction in a Washington State court on a charge of grand larceny.

Beck, 66, was convicted in King County Superior Court in December 1957 on a charge of embezzling $1,900 received from the sale of a Cadillac owned by the union. He was sentenced to 15 years in the state penitentiary, but has been free on bail pending outcome of appeals.

The conviction came shortly after Beck resigned from the presidency of the Teamsters Union in the wake of a U. S. Senate investigation of labor-management affairs. The Senate inquiry developed stories of what the senators called extensive misuse by Beck of union funds.

Beck's appeal to the Supreme Court said the grand jury which accused him "was convened in an atmosphere of the most extreme public passion and hostility" and he was "forced to trial under circumstances which manifestly defeated his right to a panel of fair and impartial jurors." The appeal contended Beck's rights under the U. S. Constitution were thus denied.

State Tax Aide Has Office Here

"Even though the last day for filing 1960 State income tax returns on a calendar year basis is Monday, April 17, the temporary office in Kingston will not be open on that day," Cornelius Spencer, a Civil Service employee of the New York State Income Tax Bureau said today.

Spencer was assigned to the temporary office of the State Income Tax Bureau in Kingston on March 23. Since that time he has been giving assistance at the Ulster County court house to taxpayers.

The office is in the commissioner of jurors room on the first floor of the county court house on Wall Street. The office is open from 8:30 a. m. to 12:30 p. m. and from 1:30 p. m. to 5 p. m., through Friday, April 7, to assist taxpayers in making out their state income forms.

Beginning Monday, April 10, and continuing through Friday, April 14, the office will open at 9 a. m. During this last week the hours will be from 9 a. m. to 12:30 p. m., and from 1:30 p. m. to 5:30 p. m. This additional half hour during the last week is to give those who may be working until 5 p. m., an opportunity to seek assistance.

Information, forms and assistance may be obtained at the temporary office in the court house during the hours the office is open and Mr. Spencer may also be reached by phone.

Help may be obtained April 17 and thereafter only at the permanent offices of the Bureau, the two nearest being 14 Mamaroneck Avenue, White Plains, and Governor Alfred E. Smith State Office Building, Albany.

Woman Pedestrian Killed by Vehicle

A Newburgh woman died late Saturday night at St. Luke's Hospital in that city about 25 minutes after she was struck by a car at a Newburgh intersection.

Newburgh police told The Freeman that the vehicle failed to stop.

Mrs. Anna Bulson, 59, was struck by an unknown car about 11:17 p. m. and died at the hospital at 11:40 p. m.

Police said Mrs. Bulson was crossing the intersection at Broadway and Mill Street at the time of the fatal mishap.

Tass Reports Death

MOSCOW (AP) — The death of Khachatur Koshtoyants, the Soviet Union's most eminent physiologist, was reported today by Tass. He was 60.

Speed Limited

A 35-mile-an - hour speed limit was in force on the State Thruway from Rochester to the Pennsylvania state line, including the Niagara section.

Erie, Genesee, Cortland and Orleans counties had one to three inches, but in most other sections there was only flurries.

High winds plagued Easter paraders throughout the state Sunday.

A cold wet spring through April and May, "with snow in April and frost in May," has been forecast by the Bearsville weather expert.

In his seasonal forecast for the period April 1 to October 1, the prophet lays it on the line.

Delay Planting

"My advice," he said, "would be not to set your garden plants out until after June 1."

He also cautions residents of Ulster County not to put away their snow shovels yet.

From June 1 to October 1 the weather will not be as wet as in the spring, but it will be "cool with westerly winds." The winds will be easterly this spring.

He points out, however, that there will not be much "hard wind" during this period.

Average temperature during the past winter was 21 degrees, he says, with 53¼ inches of rain and 68 inches of snow.

Forecast Bad Winter

In his forecast last fall Shultis hit the mark cleanly. "Get ready for another bad winter," were his words.

He said at that time that all signs point toward a winter with "plenty of cloudy weather and storms of all kinds—snow, sleet, rain and ice."

Most of the bad weather, he predicted then, "will be during December and January, with the coldest weather in those two months. So, you better have plenty of sand ready for your driveways — also town and county highways."

Apparatus Overturns

A large Euclid dirt remover employed on construction on Route 28 just outside the city reportedly overturned during the weekend. A check with John Arborio, Inc., of Brabrant Road, however, indicated that no one was hurt in the mishap. The giant construction equipment was reportedly returned to its wheels by special power booms.

Shun Marital Reports

NEW YORK (AP) — If screen star Marilyn Monroe and former baseball great Joe DiMaggio have any intentions of remarrying each other, they're still keeping it a secret.

Motel Owner Fined $12,000 in Tax Case

ALBANY, N. Y. (AP)—Douglas C. Burton of Warrensburg, a Lake George hotel and motel operator, was fined $12,000 in U. S. District Court today for evading income taxes.

Judge James T. Foley also placed Burton on probation for one year. Burton pleaded guilty Feb. 6.

The government said Burton paid $1,128 in taxes for 1957 when he owed $12,780, and $1,175 in 1958 when he owed $24,505.

Burton was fined $6,000 on each charge.

Red China Holds Threat Over West On SEATO Troops

JAKARTA, Indonesia (AP) — Red China today held a threat over the West to turn Laos into another Korea if the Southeast Asia Treaty Organization sends troops into the strife-torn Indochina kingdom.

Peiping's Foreign Minister Chen Yi, winding up a visit to Indonesia, told newsmen that if SEATO sends troops into Laos, "then China will also send troops."

Marshall Chen Yi, who led the Chinese Communist 3rd Army into Korea in 1950 before becoming foreign minister, alluded to SEATO's warning that it was prepared to take "appropriate action" to prevent an armed Communist takeover of Laos.

The foreign minister said Peiping's solution to the fighting between pro-Western and pro-Communist forces in Laos is to "let the Laotian people settle their differences themselves and withdraw all foreign intervention. This would insure peace and neutrality in the country."

Chen Yi left before newsmen got a chance to question him about Moscow's latest proposals on Laos. But Peiping has declared a willingness to participate in the proposed 14-nation conference on the political future of Laos.

A communique on Chen Yi's talks with Indonesian President Sukarno contended that the United Nations efforts to solve world problems would be seriously weakened unless Peiping is admitted to membership in the international organization.

On Laos and the Congo, the two leaders declared: "All foreign intervention in all its forms and manifestations in these two countries should be discontinued."

The situation in Laos was described Sunday by Malayan Prime Minister Abdul Rahman as "still extremely serious." He pointed out the vagueness of the Soviet reply to the British proposal about the timing of a ceasefire in the jungle kingdom.

Leaving Britain after a month-long visit, the Malayan leader suggested that the Soviets were hedging about ending the fighting.

The neutralist Asian prime minister said "the fault in Laos lies on both sides, on the Western and the Communist bloc. The situation is still danerous despite the Russian reply (to the British peace plan). My only prayer is that the Americans won't do anything to worsen it."

Radio Moscow said in a German-language broadcast Sunday night that "the way to a peaceful settlement in Laos may be regarded as opened."

Add Advertising Cost to Taxes Unpaid by Apr. 14

Taxpayers who have not paid their general taxes due January 1, 1960, still have a few days in which to pay their taxes at the Ulster County treasurer's office without having to pay the additional cost of advertising and other additional expense.

This also applies to those in the towns who have not paid their 1960-61 Kingston School District, Consolidated, school taxes.

Fred H. DuBois, Ulster County treasurer, today announced that delinquent taxpayers, those taxpayers who did not pay their taxes while the tax rolls were in the hands of local town tax collectors, will have until April 14 to pay their taxes. These are general taxes due January 1, 1960, which were turned over to the county treasurer for collection, and also the 1960-61 Kingston School District, Consolidated, taxes for the various towns of the school district which were due in September of 1960 and still remain unpaid.

They may be paid at the office of the county treasurer in the court house, Wall Street, through April 14 without addition of the advertising costs.

Shortly after April 14, when the list will be prepared, the delinquent properties will be advertised, County Treasurer DuBois said.

New Paltz Man To Face Court In Tax Evasion

NEW PALTZ, N. Y. (AP)—The Internal Revenue Service said today that contractor Stanley Hasbrouck would be arraigned April 10 on an income tax evasion charge.

Hasbrouck is charged with underpaying his income taxes in 1954, 1956, 1957 and 1958 by a total of $32,744.81.

He was indicted March 29 by a federal grand jury, the IRS office in Albany said. He is charged with wilfully trying to avoid payment of income taxes.

He is to be arraigned in federal district court at New York.

Red China to Free Man After 15 Years

LONDON (AP)—Robert E. McCann, an American citizen jailed for 15 years by the Communist Chinese on charges of espionage, is being freed and will leave China Wednesday, Peiping radio announced today.

Peiping said Communist authorities decided to free the ailing McCann after his wife, who visited him in jail, appealed for his release.

McCann is said to be dying of lung cancer. Formerly of Altadena, Calif., he long was engaged in business in China. He was jailed in Tientsin June 14, 1951 under a 15-year sentence.

Destroyer, Jets Free Cable Ship Blocked by Cuba

GUANTANAMO BAY, Cuba (AP)—U.S. naval authorities said today the American cable ship Western Union was intercepted by a Cuban gunboat and then freed after U.S. jet planes and a destroyer went to her assistance.

A naval spokesman said the cable ship was stopped in international waters Saturday, about five miles off the Cuban port of Baracoa on the northeastern part of the island.

The U.S. destroyer, the John W. Weeks, did not enter Cuban waters and the planes did not fly over them, the spokesman said.

The captain of the Western Union radioed Guantanamo she had been intercepted by an armed Cuban gunboat, the spokesman said.

"Loaded with gasoline and with a maximum speed of only a few knots, the Western Union's skipper had no alternative but to obey an order backed by arms," he added.

Jet planes flew out and located the Western Union midway between the point of interception and Baracoa. There the cable ship halted. Four hours later, when the destroyer arrived at emergency speed the cable ship was released by the gunboat and steamed back on course toward Key West.

Kennedy Faces 2 Easter Crises, Learns of Plot

PALM BEACH, Fla. (AP) — President Kennedy figured in two crises over the Easter weekend, one a reported assassination-kidnap plot against his family and the other involving Southeast Asia.

The President and his smartly dressed wife attended Easter Sunday church services under a doubled security guard because of deep concern about the Kennedy family's safety.

Threat in Laos

On the international front, the President's attention centered on what he called the potentially dangerous situation in Communist-threatened Laos.

The President has had no comment on reported plots by pro-Castro Cubans to kidnap his daughter Caroline, 3, or assassinate the entire Kennedy family—father, mother, Caroline and John Jr., four months.

Secret Service agents have had the Cuban suspects -- three men and a woman—under around the clock surveillance.

While the President has been keeping mum publicly about all this, he and his wife obviously were aware of the extra precautions the Secret Service took to safeguard them.

Attend Church

A crowd estimated at up to 1,000 had assembled in the vicinity of St. Edward's Catholic church long before the President and the First Lady arrived—almost 10 minutes late—for 10 a.m. Easter Sunday Mass.

The first precaution the Secret Service took disappointed the crowd. The usual route from the Kennedy estate was changed and the President and his wife slipped in through a side door of the church almost unnoticed.

Well in advance of the Kennedys' arrival, Secret Service men augmented by local, county and state police had filtered into the roped-back crowd to keep a close watch for any potential troublemakers.

The First Lady wore a pale blue two-piece shantung dress—a straight skirt with a collarless overblouse with seven buttons down the back—and a matching pillbox hat.

Ushered to Pew

On their arrival the Kennedys were ushered swiftly to a pew just inside the side door. They usually sit on the opposite side, near the back.

At the end of the service the side aisle was cleared and the Kennedys left by the front door. Both smiled and the President waved to the applauding crowd as they walked to their car.

TV Staffers Get Rusk Briefing On Overseas Policy

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary Dean Rusk and other high State Department officials spoke today at a foreign policy briefing for broadcasters from around the country.

President Kennedy will address the group Tuesday.

Under the rules set forth for the conference, nothing Rusk or the others said could be quoted directly or attributed to them by name.

The information could be used only through such means as a reporter saying he "understands" U. S. policy is thus-and-so.

The two-day briefing is being held by the State Department in a move to spread public understanding of U. S. foreign policy. Attending this morning's session in the State Department auditorium were about 500 radio-TV executives, commentators and newsmen, who came to Washington at their own expense.

A similar session for newspaper and magazine men will be held April 24-25.

Court to Hear Appeal of Beck

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Supreme Court today agreed to hear an appeal by Dave Beck, former Teamsters Union president, from his conviction in a Washington State court on a charge of grand larceny.

Beck, 66, was convicted in King County Superior Court in December 1957 on a charge of embezzling $1,900 received from the sale of a Cadillac owned by the union. He was sentenced to 15 years in the state penitentiary, but has been free on bail pending outcome of appeals.

The conviction came shortly after Beck resigned from the presidency of the Teamsters Union in the wake of a U. S. Senate investigation of labor-management affairs. The Senate inquiry developed stories of what the senators called extensive misuse by Beck of union funds.

Beck's appeal to the Supreme Court said the grand jury which accused him "was convened in an atmosphere of the most extreme public passion and hostility" and he was "forced to trial under circumstances which manifestly defeated his right to a panel of fair and impartial jurors." The appeal contended Beck's rights under the U. S. Constitution were thus denied.

Po'keepsie IBM Has Deep-Sea Films April 5th

Official color films from Capt. Jacques-Yves Cousteau's Calypso Oceanographic Expeditions will be narrated by Owen Lee, the only American member of the French expeditions, at Poughkeepsie IBM Country Club, Wednesday 8 p. m.

Billed as the most spectacular underwater photography ever filmed, the program shows a submarine which takes two men down a thousand feet in the ocean's depth to make movies and take specimens of the deep. Other new devices shown are submarine scooters and the phenominal deepsea camera sled which brings hitherto unseen revelations of the actual nature of the mysterious deep.

Lee, who chalked up thousands of hours of free diving, is an expert with underwater cameras. He was a member of the Vigo Bay Expedition hunting for hidden treasures in Spanish waters for three and a half years and shooting a documentary film of the expeditions.

Capt. Cousteau, who recently abandoned the lecture circuit to devote more time to his duties as directure of Oceanographic Museum in Monaco,, also directs two marine research centers and has three research ship busy at sea.

"Exploring Inner Space" is a full-length color film which has opened up a hitherto virgin unseen wilderness rich in oil, minerals, chemicals and fish.

Sir Henry Cole, director of the Victoria and Albert Museum, London, England, designed the first Christmas card in 1843.

Engineer Is Named For Upstate Project

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP)—Peter J. Drury, a career state engineer, was appointed today to oversee a $1.5-million redevelopment of the Saratoga Springs Reservation.

Commissioner Harold G. Wilm of the State Conservation Department, which operates the Spa, named Drury resident engineer in charge of construction of new park facilities. Engineering plans are being drawn and work is expected to begin shortly.

Drury's formal title in the $11,416-a-year post is assistant director of the Spa.

Drury, of Albany, has been a civil engineer in the State Civil Service and Public Works Departments for more than 30 years.

The 1961 Legislature appropriated the funds for new facilities at the 1,260-acre recreation and health center.

Noted Clubwoman Succumbs in Texas

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP) — Mrs. Margaret Ransom Brooks, nationally known clubwoman, died Saturday at her home here. She was 89.

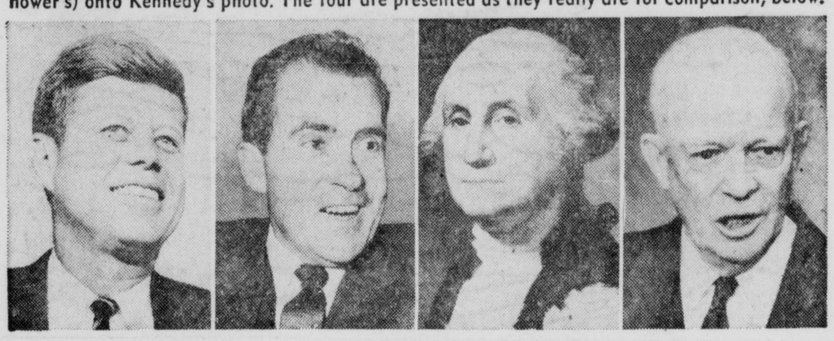
She had taught Greek and English at Soule College, Murfreesboro, Tenn.; helped establish domestic relations courts in Missouri and a parole board in St. Louis; managed women's expositions in St. Louis and Detroit, and was a founder of the National Council of Federated Churchwomen.

For two years she was national manager of the Dayton Westminster Choir, with headquarters in Dayton and in Ithaca, N.Y.

Mrs. Brooks was the widow of Louis J. Brooks, a former editor of the Jackson, Tenn., Daily Whig. She moved here 13 years ago.

WAGGING THE WIG---

President Kennedy's luxurious bush of hair is his trademark. The question is, would he be the same forceful personality if it weren't for this distinguishing feature? To find the answer, Newspaper Enterprise Association artist Ralph Lane used artistic sleight of hand to transfer three other hair styles (left to right, above—Nixon's, Washington's and Eisenhower's) onto Kennedy's photo. The four are presented as they really are for comparison, below.



Think It Through

By E. F. HUTTON

WALL STREET'S GLOOMY BULLS

Wall Street bears are generally woeful and the bulls gleeful. But we live in peculiar times. Recently, the Associated Press 601-stock average went to a new historic high. This is strange doings at a time our President says we should grit our teeth and prepare for the worst.

Why should the stock market go up when everything else is going to — Washington? It's sure got me hornswoggled. It looks like the bulls are only pretending to be cheerful when they're actually fearful.

A forward-moving recession is a strange phenomenon. Generally, recessions recede.

If the bulls are actually full of gloom, what are they feared of? Must be that they're scairt of falling dollars, inflation, and hope to get more dollars to balance off the declining purchasing power of each dollar which they think Mr. Kennedy will fetch on.

E. F. Hutton

Mr. Kennedy is a fine fellow, but he is a Keynesian, like most of fair Harvard's professors of economics. Lord Keynes believed the sovereign cure is to manufacture money and pour it out. Keynes sold this prescription to F. D. R., who then reversed the 1932 platform he'd been elected on, and went in for unbalanced budgets.

This did little for the unemployed for seven long years, but that fact didn't faze F. D. R., Tugwell, Wallace and Co.

They said Uncle hadn't spent enough! The medicine was O. K. but the doses were too small.

Cheaper money makes today's gloomy bulls fearfully cheerfull.

Boys Burn Letters

BINGHAMTON, N.Y. (AP) — Twenty letters never will be delivered because two young brothers tossed lighted matches into a corner mailbox, police said.

Many other letters of an estimated 75 in the box were damaged, police said.

They said the boys, 11 and 13, were on the way to the movies Sunday when they decided to light the matches. The boys could give no reason, however, police said.

The boy's identities were not revealed because of their age. They were released in the custody of their father.

Distance around Ohio's borders is approximately 1,024 miles.

Syracuse Man Is Held in Slaying

SYRACUSE, N.Y. (AP)—A 38-year-old man was held today on a charge of first-degree murder in the butcher-knife stabbing of a woman who stepped between the alleged knife wielder and her escort.

Mrs. Shirley Hunter Harner, 35, was stabbed three times with a 13-inch knife police said Donald Douglas was using to attack Wallace Bailey, 32. Police said both men are ex-convicts.

The attack occurred Sunday in a tavern (Star Grill) on the fringe of the downtown business section.

Police said Douglas entered the tavern and obtained the knife from the kitchen.

They said Douglas and Bailey had argued about an hour earlier but did not disclose where the argument had taken place or what it had been about.

Other patrons knocked Douglas to the ground after the stabbing. Douglas complained of dizziness and was taken to a hospital.

Bailey was treated for a cut on the face.

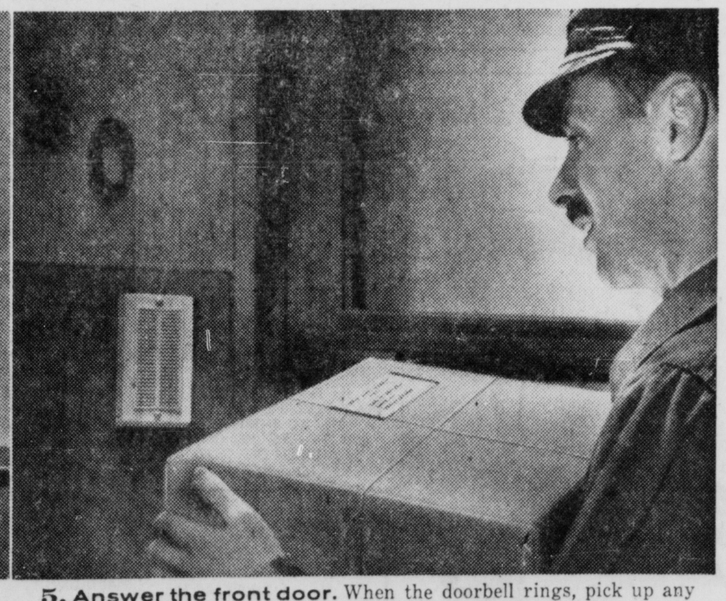
NEW HOME INTERPHONE LETS YOU TALK ROOM TO ROOM, ANSWER THE DOOR — FROM ANY PHONE IN YOUR HOME

1. Stay right where you are, and speak to anyone, upstairs or down. Use the same phone you use for outside calls to call any other extension. Your voice is broadcast from a speaker (next to the wall phone above) at each extension. A microphone in the base of each phone lets the person you call answer "hands free" even from across a room.

2. Talk to Dad in the den. Dad can talk back without moving a step. He merely speaks near the phone and the built-in microphone picks up his voice. Home Interphone will save you countless steps every day, and save your voice, too. It makes your telephone more useful and convenient for the whole family than it has ever been before.

3. Check on baby upstairs. By putting baby's crib near an extension phone, you can check on him asleep or awake, from any other phone. With an extension in the recreation or family room, you can keep track of the children playing there just by picking up the phone. You can call them from the kitchen when it's time to put away the toys.

4. Tell Sis the call is for her. You can hold a call, page her without shouting, and she can take the call in the privacy of her room on her own extension. You'll be delighted to find so many uses for Home Interphone, all through the house. Extensions and speakers are in your choice of colors. Choice of styles, too – wall, table or new Princess.



5. Answer the front door. When the doorbell rings, pick up any phone. An attractive microphone-speaker unit by the door carries your voice to your visitor. You hear his reply on the phone. Answer the door easily, safely, without embarrassment when you're alone, ill, or dressing. Home Interphone cost is moderate, and there's never a repair bill.

Po'keepsie IBM Has Deep-Sea Films April 5th

Official color films from Capt. Jacques-Yves Cousteau's Calypso Oceanographic Expeditions will be narrated by Owen Lee, the only American member of the French expeditions, at Poughkeepsie IBM Country Club, Wednesday 8 p. m.

Billed as the most spectacular underwater photography ever filmed, the program shows a submarine which takes two men down a thousand feet in the ocean's depth to make movies and take specimens of the deep. Other new devices shown are submarine scooters and the phenominal deepsea camera sled which brings hitherto unseen revelations of the actual nature of the mysterious deep.

Lee, who chalked up thousands of hours of free diving, is an expert with underwater cameras. He was a member of the Vigo Bay Expedition hunting for hidden treasures in Spanish waters for three and a half years and shooting a documentary film of the expeditions.

Capt. Cousteau, who recently abandoned the lecture circuit to devote more time to his duties as directure of Oceanographic Museum in Monaco,, also directs two marine research centers and has three research ship busy at sea.

"Exploring Inner Space" is a full-length color film which has opened up a hitherto virgin unseen wilderness rich in oil, minerals, chemicals and fish.

Engineer Is Named For Upstate Project

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP)—Peter J. Drury, a career state engineer, was appointed today to oversee a $1.5-million redevelopment of the Saratoga Springs Reservation.

Commissioner Harold G. Wilm of the State Conservation Department, which operates the Spa, named Drury resident engineer in charge of construction of new park facilities. Engineering plans are being drawn and work is expected to begin shortly.

Drury's formal title in the $11,416-a-year post is assistant director of the Spa.

Drury, of Albany, has been a civil engineer in the State Civil Service and Public Works Departments for more than 30 years.

The 1961 Legislature appropriated the funds for new facilities at the 1,260-acre recreation and health center.

Noted Clubwoman Succumbs in Texas

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP) — Mrs. Margaret Ransom Brooks, nationally known clubwoman, died Saturday at her home here. She was 89.

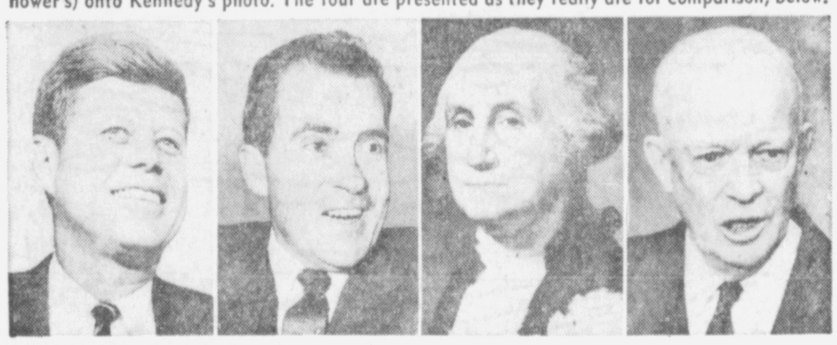
She had taught Greek and English at Soule College, Murfreesboro, Tenn.; helped establish domestic relations courts in Missouri and a parole board in St. Louis; managed women's expositions in St. Louis and Detroit, and was a founder of the National Council of Federated Churchwomen.

For two years she was national manager of the Dayton Westminster Choir, with headquarters in Dayton and in Ithaca, N.Y.

Mrs. Brooks was the widow of Louis J. Brooks, a former editor of the Jackson, Tenn., Daily Whig. She moved here 13 years ago.

WAGGING THE WIG---

President Kennedy's luxurious bush of hair is his trademark. The question is, would he be the same forceful personality if it weren't for this distinguishing feature? To find the answer, Newspaper Enterprise Association artist Ralph Lane used artistic sleight of hand to transfer three other hair styles (left to right, above—Nixon's, Washington's and Eisenhower's) onto Kennedy's photo. The four are presented as they really are for comparison, below.



Think It Through

WALL STREET'S GLOOMY BULLS

Wall Street bears are generally woeful and the bulls gleeful. But we live in peculiar times. Recently, the Associated Press 601-stock average went to a new historic high. This is strange doings at a time our President says we should grit our teeth and prepare for the worst.

Why should the stock market go up when everything else is going to — Washington? It's sure got me hornswoggled. It looks like the bulls are only pretending to be cheerful when they're actually fearful.

A forward-moving recession is a strange phenomenon. Generally, recessions recede.

If the bulls are actually full of gloom, what are they feared of? Must be that they're scairt of falling dollars, inflation, and hope to get more dollars to balance off the declining purchasing power of each dollar which they think Mr. Kennedy will fetch on.

E. F. Hutton

Mr. Kennedy is a fine fellow, but he is a Keynesian, like most of fair Harvard's professors of economics. Lord Keynes believed the sovereign cure is to manufacture money and pour it out. Keynes sold this prescription to F. D. R., who then reversed the 1932 platform he'd been elected on, and went in for unbalanced budgets.

This did little for the unemployed for seven long years, but that fact didn't faze F. D. R., Tugwell, Wallace and Co.

They said Uncle hadn't spent enough! The medicine was O. K. but the doses were too small.

Cheaper money makes today's gloomy bulls fearfully cheerfull.

Boys Burn Letters

BINGHAMTON, N.Y. (AP) — Twenty letters never will be delivered because two young brothers tossed lighted matches into a corner mailbox, police said.

Many other letters of an estimated 75 in the box were damaged, police said.

They said the boys, 11 and 13, were on the way to the movies Sunday when they decided to light the matches. The boys could give no reason, however, police said.

The boy's identities were not revealed because of their age. They were released in the custody of their father.

Syracuse Man Is Held in Slaying

SYRACUSE, N.Y. (AP)—A 38-year-old man was held today on a charge of first-degree murder in the butcher-knife stabbing of a woman who stepped between the alleged knife wielder and her escort.

Mrs. Shirley Hunter Harner, 35, was stabbed three times with a 13-inch knife police said Donald Douglas was using to attack Wallace Bailey, 32. Police said both men are ex-convicts.

The attack occurred Sunday in a tavern (Star Grill) on the fringe of the downtown business section.

Police said Douglas entered the tavern and obtained the knife from the kitchen.

They said Douglas and Bailey had argued about an hour earlier but did not disclose where the argument had taken place or what it had been about.

Douglas complained of dizziness and was taken to a hospital.

KINGSTON, NEW YORK, APRIL 3, 1961

ELECT THE BEST QUALIFIED

Four candidates up until this date have offered their candidacies for membership on the Kingston School District (Consolidated) Board of Education. The closing date for nominating petitions is April 12.

If any qualified person feels he has the ability, the interest, the time and the energy to fill this important function of government, he should secure the 100 signatures and file his candidacy. There are two vacancies to be filled in the May 2 election.

In order that a determination might be made as to qualifications desirable in a candidate, we submit a check list for guidance for both prospective candidates and the electorate. The source of this check list is The California School Boards Association Bulletin:

Has the candidate an unselfish interest in public schools, the community and in every child?

Is the candidate seeking the position only as an opportunity for service to the community?

Is the candidate a known quantity in the community?

Is the candidate able to think independently and objectively about a problem?

Will the candidate accede cheerfully to the decisions of the majority?

Has the candidate a record of the kind of leadership that will represent the district as a whole rather than a record identifying him with a particular group, cause or geographical area?

Will the candidate give the necessary time to this important position?

Does the candidate have the courage and ability to explain and enforce a rule which might not be popular but which is proper?

Is the candidate aware of the cross currents of thinking pertaining to the basic concepts of public education and will he remain loyal to his trust under stress?

Does the candidate make a habit of withholding judgment on critical issues until the facts are available?

Is the candidate able to carry on cheerfully when public appreciation of his efforts seems to be lacking?

Does the candidate show evidence of knowledge of moral and spiritual values?

NOT ENOUGH ENGLISH

The question whether Johnny can read has caused a great deal of controversy. The question whether Johnny can write, though of almost equal importance, has not been discussed nearly so much.

This state of affairs may be remedied, now that the problem has been underscored in a report issued by the National Council of Teachers of English. The educators who made this study find marked deficiencies in the teaching of English, and particularly of writing skills.

The report says that there is danger of further deterioration not only because there are not enough teachers, but also because of "too many poorly prepared teachers" and "ever more crowded classrooms." It is worth noting that these findings also are pertinent to other fields besides English.

The teaching of writing suffers particularly under these conditions, however. The reason is not hard to find. How can even a skilled teacher impart the rudiments of composition when he or she is responsible for five classes averaging at least 30 pupils each? To teach expression through the written word requires more individual attention than is possible under these circumstances, to say nothing of a teacher correcting all those papers singlehanded.

Numerous communities have experimented with the use of teachers' helpers, and this has been successful in some instances. But nothing short of a large-scale approach, similar to the nationwide aid given to science and mathematics in recent years, can lift this fundamental part of the three Rs from its present low position.

Russia is supplying submarines to Red China and couple of other countries. Oh, well, maybe they'll use 'em against one another.

'These Days'

By GEORGE SOKOLSKY

THE EICHMANN TRIAL

The most unusual juridical action starts on April 11 in Israel when Adolf Eichmann is brought to trial. He committed no crime in Israel, but is charged with organizing the murder of 6,000,000 Jews in Germany, Poland and other territory that Hitler conquered. If convicted, he will turn out to be the most efficient murderer in history, if that reputation is worth anything.

Murder was Eichmann's business. He was in charge of genocide, an unusual occupation for any man. He did not give his victims a trial; they were guilty by birth. It was not necessary to indict them, to gather evidence against them, to try them. They were guilty because their grandparents were guilty. They were guilty because they were Jews. Even, if through conversion or intermarriage, they were Christians, it did not matter. Eichmann employed the grandmother test. Whoever had a Jewish grandmother was ipso facto a Jew, even if the grandmother were a Nordic, straight out of the sagas.

So Eichmann is to be tried for genocide and murder. Israel got hold of Eichmann by a most dramatic kidnapping. Eichmann was in hiding in the Argentine. He was traced, seized, and kidnapped. The kidnapping was, beyond doubt, illegal but as the Argentine showed no disposition to go to war with Israel over Eichmann and limited itself to a protest, the matter became a fait accompli, which in diplomacy is often acknowledged as inevitable and unavoidable. It is now unbelievable that Eichmann will be returned to the Argentine, which does not want him.

There can be no question but that Eichmann will get an absolutely fair trial. Less than that would be harmful to Israel. However, he will not be on trial. What will be investigated and judged is history — the history of a period which has outraged every moral development of the human race. Eichmann was the instrument of that historical indecency. He was an instrument of maniacal brutality. Whether he was more than a tool, the trial will show. Whether he is the originator of the genocide, the trial will show.

In many respects, the Eichmann trial can disclose the history of the period in its blackest and ugliest hues. For while this vast murder plot was unfolding, the rest of humanity sat by and pondered the possibilities of Hitler's greatness. Soviet Russia, which pretends to be so humane, actually entered into an alliance with Hitler and to please his genocidal concepts, dismissed the elderly Maxim Litvinoff and appointed Molotov to negotiate with Ribbentrop. The Molotov-Ribbentrop agreement was one of the most outrageous documents in history. Subsequent to it, Stalin entered upon an anti-Semitic period which has continued to this day in all the vast territory of Soviet Russia. In fact, if Eichmann is found guilty, why not try his Russiann counterpart?

There can be little doubt but that Eichmann will evade capital punishment. Such a verdict is antagonistic to Jewish law and the religious spirit of Judaism. Eichmann is being provided with a lawyer at the expense of the State and any witnesses he chooses to bring to Israel will be brought at the expense of the State.

The Eichmann trial is obviously and definitely political. The Israeli are attempting to establish by a trial the irrefutable evidence of genocide. It is a frightful idea to wipe out an entire people, the innocent along with the guilty. It is not justice to destroy those who have committed no crime because they were born to the wrong parents.

Nazism was a moral wrong. The economics of National Socialism were not dissimilar to other forms of Socialistic economics; the political organization of Germany under Hitler was not different from other monolithic states, some of which are on our side. Hitler's crime was neither economic nor political; it was moral. He presented to the world the posture of an anti-Christ, of a human who regarded himself as a god and who murdered at will.

Such a man ordered the genocide of the Jews, because those who believe in God cannot believe in the supremacy of an individual man. In Hitler's struggle against God, the Jews were on the side of God — and he murdered 6,000,000 of them. However, Hitler is dead and the spirit of God prevails.

This, in essence, is the Eichmann trial.

Halt Sale of Sea Water As Tonic and Panacea

By HAROLD T. HYMAN, M.D.
Written for Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

For some time, I've been mystified by requests for information about the use of sea water as a "chemical smorgasbord" for our bodily glands (pancreas, liver, spleen, thyroid, adrenals and bone marrow).

The February 1961 report of the Food and Drug Administration has just cleared the air for me.

"The government has moved to stop the sale of Atlantic City ocean water for $3.75 per gallon," it states.

Recommended as a "fountain of youth" and general tonic, it was also advocated as a "cure" for arthritis, cancer, diabetes, multiple sclerosis, Parkinson's disease, leukemia and what have you.

The report concludes with the statement that "there are no health benefits to be obtained by adding sea water to the diet. Mineral constituents found in sea water are identical to those in ordinary foods with the possible exception of iodine which is supplied by iodized salt."

The administration also effected a conviction of a door-to-door saleswoman who attempted to sell a food supplement containing wheat germ oil to FDA agents who recorded her sales pitch on tape.

The court held that the supplement was misbranded because it did not bear adequate directions for treating the diseases for which it was offered. These diseases included arthritis, high blood pressure, heart disease, goiter and other ailments. It was concluded that the product was of "no value in the treatment of any of the conditions mentioned in the sales talk."

On the happier side, Mrs. I. R. B. writes of her successful trial of my Sherlock Holmes technic for discovering the cause of allergic disorders.

"At the time I read your article," she says, "I had been suffering from arthritis for three years. I have always been allergic to a number of things so when I read your article it really put me to thinking. I didn't sleep that night and lay thinking until I came up with a possible solution. My husband retired in June 1955, at which time his doctor put him on a diet that contained eggs. I had never cared for eggs but, having to prepare them so often, I soon began to like them and eat them regularly.

"The very next day after reading your article, I started omitting eggs. In a few days the pain was greatly relieved. Approximately 15 days later, I again started eating eggs. My condition grew worse immediately. The pain again was very severe. Four days after this, I again omitted eggs, and I have steadily improved since then.

"I can now do all my work and so many other things I had been unable to do for so long. If, through the telling of this experience, I am able to help some other suffering person, I would be most thankful."

"I Am Hurrying"

Washington News

By PETER EDSON
Washington Correspondent
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

NAGOYA, Japan — (NEA)— Los Angeles-born Ben Izumeda, who is now general sales and promotion manager for the Brother Sewing Machine Co. here, says the average citizen of an underdeveloped country marks his rising standard of living by three steps:

First, he gets a bicycle for himself. Next, he gets a radio for his family. Then he gets a sewing machine for his wife. When he has all three, he has it made. So let's talk about sewing machines as a symbol for underdeveloped status seekers.

There were four million sewing machines manufactured throughout the world last year, in round numbers. The Japanese made two and a half million of them. They sold 600,000 of them at home. They sold a million in the United States, Canada and Puerto Rico (which is known as Area One). They sold 900,000 in the rest of the world, which is Area Two.

There are several reasons why the Japanese have been able to capture 60 per cent of the world market.

They are low-cost producers, for one thing, with a $60 to $70-a-month average wage for an eight-hour day and a six-day week. Also, they are automating their factories.

They are aggressive salesmen in a toughly competitive world market. The Brother Company has an assembly plant at Dublin, Ireland. They get British Commonwealth most-favored-nation preferences on Dublin production. So they sell to Scandinavia and even Germany as well as to the Commonwealth countries. Italy and France, which have their own sewing machine makers, keep out foreign competition.

There is a 10 per cent tariff on imports into the United States, but Japanese makers consider that no obstacle.

WHERE THE JAPANESE have their greatest advantage is that through their Sewing Machine Industry Assn. and allied Exporters Assn. they control their own production and marketing by voluntary agreements which, under U. S. anti-trust laws, would put them all in jail for civil if not criminal conspiracy.

There are about 75 sewing machine manufacturers in Japan today. Last year there were 135. Some of the smaller ones made only 50 or 60 machines a month, in back alleys. Exporters bought up production, cut prices, ruined the market.

So the 75 bigger companies in the association decided to put th smalled producers out of business. They imposed a tax on themselves of 50 yen—14 cents—on every machine sold for export.

With this kitty, the bigs went to the smalls and said, in effect, "How about getting into some other business? We'll finance you to get started. Here's $3,000 capital. It's yours if you agree to quit making sewing machines."

The 40 smalls agreed so the 75 bigs now have the industry "stabilized." The Japanese Sewing Machine Manufacturers Assn. spokesmen insist they don't have a monopoly or a closed shop. Anybody can join who makes sewing machines. But the new companies can't get an export quota, which is based on past business performance.

The Japanese government's ministry of international trade and industry has a strong voice in setting quotas.

THE BASIC QUOTA FOR EXPORT of Japanese sewing machines to the U. S. and Area One in 1961 is one million units —same as last year. Quotas include machines made for sale by American companies under their own trade name.

Quotas are reviewed every three months by the manufacturers' Association, annually by the exporters. But the manufacturers don't allow the exporters to go over their quota.

If the manufacturers decide the market is being flooded, the quotas for the next quarter are cut. All quotas are based on future business trends.

The associations get frequent reports on U. S. business conditions. If sewing machine prices start going down through oversupply, the quotas are cut.

All this has vaster international complications than may at first be realized. The industrialized country that sells the most radios, bicycles and sewing machines to underdeveloped countries may get its foot in the door for future trade relations.

The Japanese have been working hard on the Southeast Asia markets, and are now beginning to sell Africa.

IN CONNECTION WITH the Southeast Asia trade:

Sewing machines made in Communist China used to give the Japanese considerable competition through price cutting. But in the last two years, Red China-made sewing machines have disappeared from the Asian markets.

The reason is that Soviet Russia demanded Red China's sewing machines, to pay for food and industrial equipment which the Russians were furnishing mainland China.

Soviets' Laos Tactics Seen Based on West's Fear of War

By DAVID LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON — Russia is stalling and, in effect, passes the buck on a "cease fire" to the two fighters factions in Laos. Meanwhile the Communist-supported rebels there are gaining ground and winning victories. Soon they will have a big chunk of Laos—the northern section—the first toe-hold the Soviet Union will have gained in Southeast Asia.

It is a perplexing situation for President Kennedy and Prime Minister Macmillan. They don't want to start a big war —nor participate in a little one either. Russia is relying on her customary tactics—long-drawn-out negotiations and palaver about "peace" and "neutrality" which will permit her own kind of government to be installed eventually in Laos.

The Soviet Union reply to the British note is an ambiguous and purposely confusing document. President Kennedy tactfully takes a euphemistic view of it. He says it is a "useful next step." But that's only a polite way of avoiding a stalemate in any negotiations.

Argument by Publicity

"Quiet diplomacy" nevertheless has suddenly come to a "halt, and the world is witnessing again the same open tactics of propaganda or argument by publicity that has characterized the Soviet strategy for many years now.

The Russians probably will blame President Kennedy for the change. They will point to his sensational appearance at a televised press conference when he read a blunt warning to the Soviets. It was followed by an implied threat of military action to be taken by the Southeast Asia Treaty Organization. This policy was dramatized by the conference at Bangkok attended by the United States Secretary of State.

Reds Criticize Acts

The Soviet note received over the week end makes a direct criticism of these moves. In the unofficial translation from the Russian language given to the press at Palm Beach, the wording is as follows:

"It goes without saying that the threats of interference in the affairs of Laos by the Southeast Asia Treaty Organization military bloc and the tactics of sabre-rattling, employed recently by certain powers, not only does not promote this, but can seriously complicate the entire matter of settlement on the Laos problem."

The translation, as cabled from London by the Reuters News Service, gives a slightly different version in the last sentence as follows:

". . . the tactics of sabre-rattling, used of late by certain powers, far from promoting this, may seriously aggravate this matter of settling the Laotian problem."

Soviets Accuse U. S.

The Soviet note says the rebellion in Laos was "raised by a group of plotters relying on outside military assistance," thus accusing America. The West, on the other hand, contends that the Soviets provided military assistance and officially instigated the rebellion.

So, with this impasse, the question arises as to what the Soviets really are proposing now in their note. They ignore the British and American request for an immediate "cease fire" as a necessary move before any international conferences are held. Instead, the Russians propose a cumbersome process of negotiation involving three separate activities, all going on at the same time.

First, the Russians say an "appeal" should be issued by themselves and Britain to the warring factions in Laos to stop the fighting. But nothing is said as to how pressure is to be exerted to get an agreement among the Laos factions nor as to what steps are to be taken to stop all outside military assistance. Otherwise, the fighting may go on indefinitely as the futile talks continue.

Agree to Control Unit

Second, the Russians agree that an international commission of supervision and control composed of Canada, India and Poland shall make sure that the conditions of any truce ultimately agreed upon are fully carried out. The West agrees to this. The Russians point out that they originally sponsored this plan last February 18.

Third, the Russians agree that a fourteen member conference—their original idea too, but supported by Britain in her March 23 note—be convened to discuss the future of Laos. They want this to start at once irrespective of the "cease fire."

Such a meeting could last for months. It involves a possible agreement on a "coalition" or so-called neutralist government. The Soviets state flatly that they think Prince Souvanna Phouma —who has just visited Paris and London and goes to Moscow next—is the head of the "lawful government" of Laos. It is well known that Souvanna Phouma is depending on the Communists to regain his power.

Big Offensive Reported

While all the talk goes on, United Press International dispatches from Vientiane over the week end report that Communist paratroopers from North Vietnam have opened " a major offensive in central Laos," and that they have captured a key government-held post. This is described as "a major breakthrough." The Communists now are reported to have 10,000 troops in Laos. They threaten to cut the country in two, just as happened in Korea and later in the setting up of North and South Vietnam in what used to be French Indo-China.

If the note-writing and conferences go on long enough, the Communists will have achieved their main objective and will be in a position to insist on a "coalition" government which would include Communists and through which the latter would expect to take over all of Laos, as they did Red China. Averell Harriman, President Kennedy's roving ambassador, has just stated that the only way to make Laos a neutral nation is to set up a "coalition" government including Communists.

It's the same old story. Russia is counting on the idea that Britain and the United States and France are not united and will not fight a war and that the Southeast Asia treaty countries will hesitate to fight unless backed up by the West. So "brinkmanship" that isn't backed up by a determination to fight if necessary isn't really "brinkmanship" at all but only collective weakness. That's what Moscow is betting on.

AS PEGLER SEES IT

By WESTBROOK PEGLER

I have counted ten times ten ere committing myself to the dismal duty of scolding again my beloved calling, the press, this time for a particularly stupid and paltry defiance of its own intelligence and self-respect. I refer to the dead-pan treatment, indeed an approach to veneration, of Ed Sullivan's repartee with a rival philosopher of the teevy, Jack Paar, on the question whether this or that one paid his poodles, cockatoos and acrobats more. Mr. Paar may be excused from this study, for he is a very recent fellow of a formless, impalpable art. By no record of past performance is he qualified for the analytical disgust with which I approach many people.

It is not Sullivan's economic success that earns my detestation. The woods, or if not the woods, then the graveyards, are full of graduate office boys of newspaper shops on Park Row. The late Dexter Fellows, the Ringing Circus press agent, remarked that he showed them unfailing respect because their rickety bench near the city room door was the kindergarten from which the head of the copy desk, indeed, the city editor, of ten years hence woud come. Tammany Young, an office boy on the old New York American, was caddy-in-general to the roguish Wilson Mizner, who wrote him into the deep purple and seduced him from a promising future as headquarters man to a nickel-and-dime career as a Hollywood bit man just before "sound". Another office boy went first class to London with a ring from Richard Harding Davis, a glamorous correspondent of firecracker wars, to Bessie McCoy, the Yama Yama girl, achieving immortality.

Harry Romanoff, 30 years on the desk of the Chicago American, was a fat urchin on the old Journal and my special opposite number about 1913 when I held a similar benefice in the United Press. We were instinctively hostile then and always until we met the night the American was sold to the Chicago Tribune. Barriers burned away when this pigiron character and I sat alone in a filthy, shadowy room with a can of coffee on the leaf of his desk, a room haunted by my old man.

Sullivan, however, had never kept the faith of our standards. He first appeared as copy boy and hustler on the sport side of the New York Mail, a sport department with a basket on the sport editor's desk for contributions to the column of challenges and banter between sandlot ball teams "with suits".

There was a legendary draft through this room and unweighted envelopes unfailingly blew onto the floor. It was a good rule to weight the announcement with a half-dollar and the sport editor got first crack at the contributions. Later, on my first trip to Florida, I encountered Sullivan working with a primitive golf specialist and press-agent who followed the tournaments.

Another columnist, O. O. McIntyre, came to be envied, for his first client was the Majestic Hotel in New York. He got his quarters and rations in return for persistent mention of his place or abode and the papers fought for his homely reflections. You couldn't quarrel with the ethics of a paragrapher who lived at the Majestic on the cuff.

Sullivan wrote his own permanent disqualification as a journalist of honor when he said in his column on the New York Daily News that oft in the silly nights of prohibition he and others of the night club-underworld beat on Broadway were taken home by armed bodyguards of the warring gangs. He said, further, that he and colleagues whom he named but I shall not, refrained from writing the truth and "did a lousy job" on their writing for the simple, sordid reason that they were afraid. It was a mystery to me that the late Joseph Medill Patterson stood for Sullivan because Patterson was both a soldier and a street fighter and he seemed to reject payola long before that word was heard along about the time of the Van Doren teevy frauds.

Mr. Sullivan's tributes to a lady now departed called the Countess Dorothy Di Frasso were almost a running story. Yet she became embroiled with the late Buggsy Segal and others as bad in a "treasure hunt" on a chartered yacht down to the Galapagos and all I saw from Sullivan was winsomeness and innocent adventure. He certainly did not expose Segal and, for that matter, the only New York reporter who did was Florabel Muir, who was made of manlier stuff than the resident male experts in the arts of enchantment. Florabel was shot at and I believe slightly hit one night with Mickey Cohen and she frequently turned up sturdy city-side crime news in a beat that was crawling with sycophants from the metropolitan press.

Altogether, Mr. Sullivan's envelopes in the New York morgues and other accumulations of special knowledge reveal a career of negative achievement under challenge of the old ideals of the people who ought to personify our press—the reporters. Yet when he concocts a sordid publicity spat with a rival almost as tawdry, the papers and weeklies treat him as though he were a dignitary I think the reflection is worse on the papers and press associations than on Sullivan, who has a right to dispise us for our failures to tell truths which he knows at heart we should have told.

KINGSTON, NEW YORK, APRIL 3, 1961

ELECT THE BEST QUALIFIED

Four candidates up until this date have offered their candidacies for membership on the Kingston School District (Consolidated) Board of Education. The closing date for nominating petitions is April 12.

If any qualified person feels he has the ability, the interest, the time and the energy to fill this important function of government, he should secure the 100 signatures and file his candidacy. There are two vacancies to be filled in the May 2 election.

In order that a determination might be made as to qualifications desirable in a candidate, we submit a check list for guidance for both prospective candidates and the electorate. The source of this check list is The California School Boards Association Bulletin:

Has the candidate an unselfish interest in public schools, the community and in every child?

Is the candidate seeking the position only as an opportunity for service to the community?

Is the candidate a known quantity in the community?

Is the candidate able to think independently and objectively about a problem?

Will the candidate accede cheerfully to the decisions of the majority?

Has the candidate a record of the kind of leadership that will represent the district as a whole rather than a record identifying him with a particular group, cause or geographical area?

Will the candidate give the necessary time to this important position?

Does the candidate have the courage and ability to explain and enforce a rule which might not be popular but which is proper?

Is the candidate aware of the cross currents of thinking pertaining to the basic concepts of public education and will he remain loyal to his trust under stress?

Does the candidate make a habit of withholding judgment on critical issues until the facts are available?

Is the candidate able to carry on cheerfully when public appreciation of his efforts seems to be lacking?

Does the candidate show evidence of knowledge of moral and spiritual values?

NOT ENOUGH ENGLISH

The question whether Johnny can read has caused a great deal of controversy. The question whether Johnny can write, though of almost equal importance, has not been discussed nearly so much.

This state of affairs may be remedied, now that the problem has been underscored in a report issued by the National Council of Teachers of English. The educators who made this study find marked deficiencies in the teaching of English, and particularly of writing skills.

The report says that there is danger of further deterioration not only because there are not enough teachers, but also because of "too many poorly prepared teachers" and "ever more crowded classrooms." It is worth noting that these findings also are pertinent to other fields besides English.

The teaching of writing suffers particularly under these conditions, however. The reason is not hard to find. How can even a skilled teacher impart the rudiments of composition when he or she is responsible for five classes averaging at least 30 pupils each? To teach expression through the written word requires more individual attention than is possible under these circumstances, to say nothing of a teacher correcting all those papers singlehanded.

Numerous communities have experimented with the use of teachers' helpers, and this has been successful in some instances. But nothing short of a large-scale approach, similar to the nationwide aid given to science and mathematics in recent years, can lift this fundamental part of the three Rs from its present low position.

Russia is supplying submarines to Red China and couple of other countries. Oh, well, maybe they'll use 'em against one another.

'These Days'

THE EICHMANN TRIAL

The most unusual juridical action starts on April 11 in Israel when Adolf Eichmann is brought to trial. He committed no crime in Israel, but is charged with organizing the murder of 6,000,000 Jews in Germany, Poland and other territory that Hitler conquered. If convicted, he will turn out to be the most efficient murderer in history, if that reputation is worth anything.

Murder was Eichmann's business. He was in charge of genocide, an unusual occupation for any man. He did not give his victims a trial; they were guilty by birth. It was not necessary to indict them, to gather evidence against them, to try them. They were guilty because their grandparents were guilty. They were guilty because they were Jews. Even, if through conversion or intermarriage, they were Christians, it did not matter. Eichmann employed the grandmother test. Whoever had a Jewish grandmother was ipso facto a Jew, even if the grandmother were a Nordic, straight out of the sagas.

So Eichmann is to be tried for genocide and murder. Israel got hold of Eichmann by a most dramatic kidnapping. Eichmann was in hiding in the Argentine. He was traced, seized, and kidnapped. The kidnapping was, beyond doubt, illegal but as the Argentine showed no disposition to go to war with Israel over Eichmann and limited itself to a protest, the matter became a fait accompli, which in diplomacy is often acknowledged as inevitable and unavoidable. It is now unbelievable that Eichmann will be returned to the Argentine, which does not want him.

There can be no question but that Eichmann will get an absolutely fair trial. Less than that would be harmful to Israel. However, he will not be on trial. What will be investigated and judged is history — the history of a period which has outraged every moral development of the human race. Eichmann was the instrument of that historical indecency. He was an instrument of maniacal brutality. Whether he was more than a tool, the trial will show. Whether he is the originator of the genocide, the trial will show.

In many respects, the Eichmann trial can disclose the history of the period in its blackest and ugliest hues. For while this vast murder plot was unfolding, the rest of humanity sat by and pondered the possibilities of Hitler's greatness. Soviet Russia, which pretends to be so humane, actually entered into an alliance with Hitler and to please his genocidal concepts, dismissed the elderly Maxim Litvinoff and appointed Molotov to negotiate with Ribbentrop, The Molotov-Ribbentrop agreement was one of the most outrageous documents in history. Subsequent to it, Stalin entered upon an anti-Semitic period which has continued to this day in all the vast territory of Soviet Russia. In fact, if Eichmann is found guilty, why not try his Russiann counterpart?

There can be little doubt but that Eichmann will evade capital punishment. Such a verdict is antagonistic to Jewish law and the religious spirit of Judaism. Eichmann is being provided with a lawyer at the expense of the State and any witnesses he chooses to bring to Israel will be brought at the expense of the State.

The Eichmann trial is obviously and definitely political. The Israeli are attempting to establish by a trial the irrefutable evidence of genocide. It is a frightful idea to wipe out an entire people, the innocent along with the guilty. It is not justice to destroy those who have committed no crime because they were born to the wrong parents.

Nazism was a moral wrong. The economics of National Socialism were not dissimilar to other forms of Socialistic economics; the political organization of Germany under Hitler was not different from other monolithic states, some of which are on our side. Hitler's crime was neither economic nor political; it was moral. He presented to the world the posture of an anti-Christ, of a human who regarded himself as a god and who murdered at will.

Such a man ordered the genocide of the Jews, because those who believe in God cannot believe in the supremacy of an individual man. In Hitler's struggle against God, the Jews were on the side of God — and he murdered 6,000,000 of them. However, Hitler is dead and the spirit of God prevails.

This, in essence, is the Eichmann trial.

Halt Sale of Sea Water As Tonic and Panacea

By HAROLD T. HYMAN, M.D.
Written for Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

For some time, I've been mystified by requests for information about the use of sea water as a "chemical smorgasbord" for our bodily glands (pancreas, liver, spleen, thyroid, adrenals and bone marrow).

The February 1961 report of the Food and Drug Administration has just cleared the air for me.

"The government has moved to stop the sale of Atlantic City ocean water for $3.75 per gallon," it states.

Recommended as a "fountain of youth" and general tonic, it was also advocated as a "cure" for arthritis, cancer, diabetes, multiple sclerosis, Parkinson's disease, leukemia and what have you.

The report concludes with the statement that "there are no health benefits to be obtained by adding sea water to the diet. Mineral constituents found in sea water are identical to those in ordinary foods with the possible exception of iodine which is supplied by iodized salt."

The administration also effected a conviction of a door-to-door saleswoman who attempted to sell a food supplement containing wheat germ oil to FDA agents who recorded her sales pitch on tape.

The court held that the supplement was misbranded because it did not bear adequate directions for treating the diseases for which it was offered. These diseases included arthritis, high blood pressure, heart disease, goiter and other ailments. It was concluded that the product was of "no value in the treatment of any of the conditions mentioned in the sales talk."

On the happier side, Mrs. I. R. B. writes of her successful trial of my Sherlock Holmes technic for discovering the cause of allergic disorders.

"At the time I read your article," she says, "I had been suffering from arthritis for three years. I have always been allergic to a number of things so when I read your article it really put me to thinking. I didn't sleep that night and lay thinking until I came up with a possible solution. My husband retired in June 1955, at which time his doctor put him on a diet that contained eggs. I had never cared for eggs but, having to prepare them so often, I soon began to like them and eat them regularly.

"The very next day after reading your article, I started omitting eggs. In a few days the pain was greatly relieved. Approximately 15 days later, I again started eating eggs. My condition grew worse immediately. The pain again was very severe. Four days after this, I again omitted eggs, and I have steadily improved since then.

"I can now do all my work and so many other things I had been unable to do for so long. If, through the telling of this experience, I am able to help some other suffering person, I would be most thankful."

"I Am Hurrying"

Washington News

By PETER EDSON
Washington Correspondent
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

NAGOYA, Japan — (NEA)— Los Angeles-born Ben Izumeda, who is now general sales and promotion manager for the Brother Sewing Machine Co. here, says the average citizen of an underdeveloped country marks his rising standard of living by three steps:

First, he gets a bicycle for himself. Next, he gets a radio for his family. Then he gets a sewing machine for his wife. When he has all three, he has it made. So let's talk about sewing machines as a symbol for underdeveloped status seekers.

There were four million sewing machines manufactured throughout the world last year, in round numbers. The Japanese made two and a half million of them. They sold 600,000 of them at home. They sold a million in the United States, Canada and Puerto Rico (which is known as Area One). They sold 900,000 in the rest of the world, which is Area Two.

There are several reasons why the Japanese have been able to capture 60 per cent of the world market.

They are low-cost producers, for one thing, with a $60 to $70-a-month average wage for an eight-hour day and a six-day week. Also, they are automating their factories.

They are aggressive salesmen in a toughly competitive world market. The Brother Company has an assembly plant at Dublin, Ireland. They get British Commonwealth most-favored-nation preferences on Dublin production. So they sell to Scandinavia and even Germany as well as to the Commonwealth countries. Italy and France, which have their own sewing machine makers, keep out foreign competition.

There is a 10 per cent tariff on imports into the United States, but Japanese makers consider that no obstacle.

WHERE THE JAPANESE have their greatest advantage is that through their Sewing Machine Industry Assn. and allied Exporters Assn. they control their own production and marketing by voluntary agreements which, under U. S. antitrust laws, would put them all in jail for civil if not criminal conspiracy.

There are about 75 sewing machine manufacturers in Japan today. Last year there were 135. Some of the smaller ones made only 50 or 60 machines a month, in back alleys. Exporters bought up production, cut prices, ruined the market.

So the 75 bigger companies in the association decided to put th smalled producers out of business. They imposed a tax on themselves of 50 yen—14 cents—on every machine sold for export.

With this kitty, the bigs went to the smalls and said, in effect, "How about getting into some other business? We'll finance you to get started. Here's $3,000 capital. It's yours if you agree to quit making sewing machines."

The 40 smalls agreed so the 75 bigs now have the industry "stabilized." The Japanese Sewing Machine Manufacturers Assn. spokesmen insist they don't have a monopoly or a closed shop. Anybody can join who makes sewing machines. But the new companies can't get an export quota, which is based on past business performance.

The Japanese government's ministry of international trade and industry has a strong voice in setting quotas.

THE BASIC QUOTA FOR EXPORT of Japanese sewing machines to the U. S. and Area One in 1961 is one million units —same as last year. Quotas include machines made for sale by American companies under their own trade name.

Quotas are reviewed every three months by the manufacturers' Association, annually by the exporters. But the manufacturers don't allow the exporters to go over their quota.

If the manufacturers decide the market is being flooded, the quotas for the next quarter are cut. All quotas are based on future business trends.

The associations get frequent reports on U. S. business conditions. If sewing machine prices start going down through oversupply, the quotas are cut.

All this has vaster international complications than may at first be realized. The industrialized country that sells the most radios, bicycles and sewing machines to underdeveloped countries may get its foot in the door for future trade relations.

The Japanese have been working hard on the Southeast Asia markets, and are now beginning to sell Africa.

IN CONNECTION WITH the Southeast Asia trade:

Sewing machines made in Communist China used to give the Japanese considerable competition through price cutting. But in the last two years, Red China-made sewing machines have disappeared from the Asian markets.

The reason is that Soviet Russia demanded Red China's sewing machines, to pay for food and industrial equipment which the Russians were furnishing mainland China.

Soviets' Laos Tactics Seen Based on West's Fear of War

By DAVID LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON — Russia is stalling and, in effect, passes the buck on a "cease fire" to the two fighters factions in Laos. Meanwhile the Communist-supported rebels there are gaining ground and winning victories. Soon they will have a big chunk of Laos—the northern section—the first toe-hold the Soviet Union will have gained in Southeast Asia.

It is a perplexing situation for President Kennedy and Prime Minister Macmillan. They don't want to start a big war —nor participate in a little one either. Russia is relying on her customary tactics—long-drawn-out negotiations and palaver about "peace" and "neutrality" which will permit her own kind of government to be installed eventually in Laos.

The Soviet Union reply to the British note is an ambiguous and purposely confusing document. President Kennedy tactfully takes a euphemistic view of it. He says it is a "useful next step." But that's only a polite way of avoiding a stalemate in any negotiations.

Argument by Publicity

"Quiet diplomacy" nevertheless has suddenly come to a "halt, and the world is witnessing again the same open tactics of propaganda or argument by publicity that has characterized the Soviet strategy for many years now.

The Russians probably will blame President Kennedy for the change. They will point to his sensational appearance at a televised press conference when he read a blunt warning to the Soviets. It was followed by an implied threat of military action to be taken by the Southeast Asia Treaty Organization. This policy was dramatized by the conference at Bangkok attended by the United States Secretary of State.

Reds Criticize Acts

The Soviet note received over the week end makes a direct criticism of these moves. In the unofficial translation from the Russian language given to the press at Palm Beach, the wording is as follows:

"It goes without saying that the threats of interference in the affairs of Laos by the Southeast Asia Treaty Organization military bloc and the tactics of sabre-rattling, employed recently by certain powers, not only does not promote this, but can seriously complicate the entire matter of settlement on the Laos problem."

The translation, as cabled from London by the Reuters News Service, gives a slightly different version in the last sentence as follows:

". . . the tactics of sabre-rattling, used of late by certain powers, far from promoting this, may seriously aggravate this matter of settling the Laotian problem."

Soviets Accuse U. S.

The Soviet note says the rebellion in Laos was "raised by a group of plotters relying on outside military assistance," thus accusing America. The West, on the other hand, contends that the Soviets provided military assistance and officially instigated the rebellion.

So, with this impasse, the question arises as to what the Soviets really are proposing now in their note. They ignore the British and American request for an immediate "cease fire" as a necessary move before any international conferences are held. Instead, the Russians propose a cumbersome process of negotiation involving three separate activities, all going on at the same time.

First, the Russians say an "appeal" should be issued by themselves and Britain to the warring factions in Laos to stop the fighting. But nothing is said as to how pressure is to be exerted to get an agreement among the Laos factions nor as to what steps are to be taken to stop all outside military assistance. Otherwise, the fighting may go on indefinitely as the futile talks continue.

Agree to Control Unit

Second, the Russians agree that an international commission of supervision and control composed of Canada, India and Poland shall make sure that the conditions of any truce ultimately agreed upon are fully carried out. The West agrees to this. The Russians point out that they originally sponsored this plan last February 18.

Third, the Russians agree that a fourteen member conference—their original idea too, but supported by Britain in her March 23 note—be convened to discuss the future of Laos. They want this to start at once irrespective of the "cease fire."

Such a meeting could last for months. It involves a possible agreement on a "coalition" or so-called neutralist government. The Soviets state flatly that they think Prince Souvanna Phouma —who has just visited Paris and London and goes to Moscow next—is the head of the "lawful government" of Laos. It is well known that Souvanna Phouma is depending on the Communists to regain his power.

Big Offensive Reported

While all the talk goes on, United Press International dispatches from Vientiane over the week end report that Communist paratroopers from North Vietnam have opened " a major offensive in central Laos," and that they have captured a key government-held post. This is described as "a major breakthrough." The Communists now are reported to have 10,000 troops in Laos. They threaten to cut the country in two, just as happened in Korea and later in the setting up of North and South Vietnam in what used to be French Indo-China.

If the note-writing and conferences go on long enough, the Communists will have achieved their main objective and will be in a position to insist on a "coalition" government which would include Communists and through which the latter would expect to take over all of Laos, as they did Red China. Averell Harriman, President Kennedy's roving ambassador, has just stated that the only way to make Laos a neutral nation is to set up a "coalition" government including Communists.

It's the same old story. Russia is counting on the idea that Britain and the United States and France are not united and will not fight a war and that the Southeast Asia treaty countries will hesitate to fight unless backed up by the West. So "brinkmanship" that isn't backed up by a determination to fight if necessary isn't really "brinkmanship" at all but only collective weakness. That's what Moscow is betting on.

It is not Sullivan's economic success that earns my detestation. The woods, or if not the woods, then the graveyards, are full of graduate office boys of newspaper shops on Park Row. The late Dexter Fellows, the Ringing Circus press agent, remarked that he showed them unfailing respect because their rickety bench near the city room door was the kindergarten from which the head of the copy desk, indeed, the city editor, of ten years hence woud come. Tammany Young, an office boy on the old New York American, was caddy-in-general to the roguish Wilson Mizner, who wrote him into the deep purple and seduced him from a promising future as headquarters man to a nickel-and-dime career as a Hollywood bit man just before "sound". Another office boy went first class to London with a ring from Richard Harding Davis, a glamorous correspondent of firecracker wars, to Bessie McCoy, the Yama Yama girl, achieving immortality.

Harry Romanoff, 30 years on the desk of the Chicago American, was a fat urchin on the old Journal and my special opposite number about 1913 when I held a similar benefice in the United Press. We were instinctively hostile then and always until we met the night the American was sold to the Chicago Tribune. Barriers burned away when this pigiron character and I sat alone in a filthy, shadowy room with a can of coffee on the leaf of his desk, a room haunted by my old man.

Sullivan, however, had never kept the faith of our standards. He first appeared as copy boy and hustler on the sport side of the New York Mail, a sport department with a basket on the sport editor's desk for contributions to the column of challenges and banter between sandlot ball teams "with suits".

There was a legendary draft through this room and unweighted envelopes unfailingly blew onto the floor. It was a good rule to weight the announcement with a half-dollar and the sport editor got first crack at the contributions. Later, on my first trip to Florida, I encountered Sullivan working with a primitive golf specialist and press-agent who followed the tournaments.

Another columnist, O. O. McIntyre, came to be envied, for his first client was the Majestic Hotel in New York. He got his quarters and rations in return for persistent mention of his place or abode and the papers fought for his homely reflections. You couldn't quarrel with the ethics of a paragrapher who lived at the Majestic on the cuff.

Sullivan wrote his own permanent disqualification as a journalist of honor when he said in his column on the New York Daily News that oft in the silly nights of prohibition he and others of the night club-underworld beat on Broadway were taken home by armed bodyguards of the warring gangs. He said, further, that he and colleagues whom he named but I shall not, refrained from writing the truth and "did a lousy job" on their writing for the simple, sordid reason that they were afraid. It was a mystery to me that the late Joseph Medill Patterson stood for Sullivan because Patterson was both a soldier and a street fighter and he seemed to reject payola long before that word was heard along about the time of the Van Doren teevy frauds.

Mr. Sullivan's tributes to a lady now departed called the Countess Dorothy Di Frasso were almost a running story. Yet she became embroiled with the late Buggsy Segal and others as bad in a "treasure hunt" on a charterrd yacht down to the Galapagos and all I saw from Sullivan was winsomeness and innocent adventure. He certainly did not expose Segal and, for that matter, the only New York reporter who did was Florabel Muir, who was made of manlier stuff than the resident male experts in the arts of enchantment. Florabel was shot at and I believe slightly hit one night with Mickey Cohen and she frequently turned up sturdy city-side crime news in a beat that was crawling with sycophants from the metropolitan press.

Altogether, Mr. Sullivan's envelopes in the New York morgues and other accumulations of special knowledge reveal a career of negative achievement under challenge of the old ideals of the people who ought to personify our press—the reporters. Yet when he concocts a sordid publicity spat with a rival almost as tawdry, the papers and weeklies treat him as though he were a dignitary I think the reflection is worse on the papers and press associations than on Sullivan, who has a right to dispise us for our failures to tell truths which he knows at heart we should have told.

Search Resumed For Westchester Eye Specialist

MONMOUTH BEACH, N.J. (AP) —A Coast Guard vessel continued to search throughout the night for a small, private plane believed ditched in the ocean by the doctor-pilot Saturday.

Missing is Dr. Jules Yasuna of Peekskill, N. Y., an eye specialist.

Dr. Yasuna was returning to the Croton, N. Y., Airport, after a trip to the Bahamas. His father, Arthur Yasuna of Brooklyn, said his son had left Atlantic City at 5 p. m. Saturday in the single-engine craft.

An Eastern Airlines pilot on a scheduled flight in the area said he had intercepted an emergency radio call from a stricken craft.

He said the message stated that the rudder mechanism was causing trouble and the pilot planned to ditch his plane in the sea.

Stagehands Walk Out

NEW YORK (AP)—Three hundred stagehands employed by the Columbia Broadcasting System have walked out as a result of the network's dismissal of three TV lighting directors.

There was no immediate effect on regularly scheduled shows. Supervisory personnel took over the stagehands' duties, the network said.

SPRING CLEANING — Snow removal operations are underway in Yellowstone National Park. More than 300 miles of roads, such as this section between Mammoth Hot Springs and Norris, have to be cleared each Spring. Many snow drifts are 20 to 30 feet high.

Congo Resolution

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) —A stop-gap Indian resolution to authorize payment for the U.N. Congo operation comes up for emergency action in the General Assembly today.

The resolution authorizes Secretary-General Dag Hammarskjold to go on spending $8 million a month on the military and civilian operations in the African territory up to April 21, closing date of the assembly session.

Hammarskjold's previous three-month spending authorization ran out Friday night, the day after the budgetary committee approved the Indian resolution 38-9 with 23 abstentions.

Assembly approval is also certain. Only the Soviet bloc is outspokenly opposed.

Red Press Support

MOSCOW (AP) — Pravda, the Communist party paper, today supported Afghanistan's demand for a plebiscite of Pathan tribesmen in Pakistan to determine if they want to organize an independent government, remain in Pakistan or become a part of Afghanistan.

Pathan tribesmen live on both sides of the Afghan - Pakistani border. Afghanistan for years has been advocating they join in an independent state to be known as Pushtoonistan. The name is derived from Pushto, the tribal language.

School Fire Protection

Editor, The Freeman:

Mr. Benson A. Krom, of the Board of Education, is to be complimented on opening to public discussion the moot question of safety to life in schools. This is certainly a topic which warrants an impartial airing, hence this simple suggestion:

Why not stage a demonstration involving the best automatic sprinkler system available and the best automatic fire detection system available. Let Chief Brett decide on the former. For the latter, let's take the system to which the Underwriters' Laboratories grants the most extensive coverage of any such device listed. This is an ionization-type unit, activated by the products of combustion which means that it is generally in operation even before smoke is present.

In practical terms, this system will give an alarm in time to evacuate a school minutes before any sprinkler could go into action, simultaneously summoning the fire department. Also in practical terms, the cost is one-third to one-half that of a sprinkler installtion of comparable coverage.

It seems to me that an actual test of these two forms of protection under identical conditions would give Mr. Krom and the taxpayers the answer they are seeking. Anyone desiring a preliminary check on the system recommended may contact the Elizabeth Milbank Anderson Home for Convalescent Children, Chappaqua, N. Y., whose actual experience with its operation is very dramatic.

It is pertinent to add that I have no financial interest whatever in this or any other type of school fire protection on the market.

Sincerely,
PAUL W. KEARNEY

Zoo, Aquarium Remain Closed as Keepers Strike

NEW YORK (AP)—The Bronx Zoo and the Coney Island Aquarium remained closed today as striking keepers and maintenance workers held out for recognition of their union as a bargaining agent.

Three hundred city civil service workers, members of the American Federation of State, County and Municipal Workers, struck Saturday midnight.

There was no negotiation meeting Sunday and none was scheduled today.

The zoo and the aquarium closed Easter Sunday, normally one of the biggest visiting days of the year. A spokesman said it was the first time the zoo had ever been closed on Easter.

However, an agreement was worked out in which some employes continued to feed and care for the animals and fish.

In addition to union recognition, the strikers also want a union shop, grievance machinery and other concessions.

Rockefeller Way Copied for Nation Is Morhouse View

NEW YORK (AP)—Republican State Chairman L. Judson Morhouse says "bold action" that Gov. Rockefeller has taken in various fields "may well prove to be the prototype for attack nationally on vexing and worrisome problems."

Morhouse added in a statement Sunday night that the federal government has already begun to follow Rockefeller's "pioneering course of assistance" in commuter transportation and in education.

He also praised the Republican-controlled 1961 Legislature, saying it "courageously kept faith with the people and initiated unprecedented actions to relieve serious pocketbook problems."

Jet Port Plans Cause Suspense In Two States

WASHINGTON —Governors of New York and New Jersey were told today it is intolerable that residents of Morris County, N.J., should be in suspense about plans for a proposed jet airport in their area.

Rep. Peter Frelinghuysen Jr., R-N. J., said in letters to Govs. Nelson A. Rockefeller and Robert B. Meyner that a report on this situation by the Port of New York Authority should be speeded along.

This report, Frelinghuysen said, was first supposed to be made last July and now it isn't due to come out until late in May.

"As you can imagine, Morris County, and indeed the entire surrounding area has been opposed to the idea of putting a jetport in such a well established and desirable residential area," Frelinghuysen said.

"I am writing to you at this time because I feel it is intolerable that so large an area should be kept in a state of suspense for so long a period."

SIGNIFICANT GIVING

A top-ranking American industrialist has recently given Stevens Institute of Technology 2,100 share of General Motors common stock. The significance of this gift carries wide relevance.

He has been a large stockholder in this corporation for 48 years. This prime equity has worn well for almost half a century. He is a graduate of this Institute and has been a benefactor of it for many years. He and his family are among the largest General Motors stockholders.

Every year thousands of small investors lose millions of dollars by speculating unwisely in the stocks of promotional enterprises, 90 per cent of which fail. This unsound policy seeps into the higher echelons of society. In 1960 a prominent professional man who has bought $100,000 worth of Cadillacs a new car every year) lost $5,000 in a uranian mine whose shares were peddled by a high-pressure Toronto broker. Ironically, he has never owned a share of General Motors, maker of the Cadillac.

Hundreds of new enterprises are launched every year. Small investors, who can't afford to lose a dollar, buy the risk-laden shares because they are low priced. A few of these enterprises do survive and make their owners happy. But most of them fail.

It is and will be true that when most investors buy common stocks they should purchase the seasoned equities of sound corporations catering to the economic needs of 180,000,000 Americans.

The experience of this capitalist who has given General Motors shares to the institution from which he was graduated is something for all inexperienced investors to remember. After more than 40 years as a stocksolder of this company, he passes on shares to his beloved Alma Mater.

Another lesson grows out of this experience. Every year countless numbers of people die leaving money to heirs; and such gifts often breed indolence, waste and extravagance, social snobbery and filial animosity. For 30 years I have studied such giving, and I think that those who are financially well-off should start a study in giving when they are around 60 years of age, at the latest. For those able to do so, I favor starting money-gifts at a time when the donor can witness the good works his money is doing before he passes away.

Thousands of churches badly need endowment funds to carry out community projects required in the uplifting of society in their immediate neighborhoods. This is especially true in urban centers, where the character of the population is changing rapidly.

Hundreds of colleges need endowment funds for professors' salaries. If a capitalist is worth $200,000 and he has two heirs, how much better it would be for him to endow a professorship at his favorite college and in his name for $100,000, than to leave it all to two well-heeled and competent sons!

Scores of homes for the aged, the distressed and incapacitated, the homeless and for thousands of other unfortunates can be immeasurably aided by gifts from wealthy persons whose compassion, in turn, could be strengthened by such gifts.

Giving, as manifested by this one industrialist with General Motors shares, can be signficant to millions of potential stockholders and to thousands of givers: to stockholders, buy good equities; to givors, contribute to colleges, charities or churches.

Glancing Over TV Bill of Fare

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP TV-Radio Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—When CBS promised that its "Way Out" dramatic series would be different, it was not making idle boasts.

One must presume the first show last Friday night was a fair example of things to come. The story concerned a brilliant, irrascible professor, dying of an incurable disease. He consents to submit his brain—and one eye—to a post-mortem experiment.

It seems that an eminent brain surgeon has been able to keep a brain alive and functioning outside a body and is eager to expand his research to a human brain. The professor consents, mostly to irritate his wife who, he suspects, not only uses lipstick which he abhores, but smokes, which he loathes.

The professor dies, and then we see a little box containing the professor's brain and one eye staring toward the ceiling. Naturally, the brain can't talk, but the scientists can judge its reactions by graph measuring its electrical impulses.

Into the laboratory comes his widow, all dressed up, lips heavily rouged. She puts her face into the eye's line of vision, and when the graph registers sharp annoyance, deliberately lights a cigarette and blows smoke in the eye.

The fade-out shows the graph registering fury.

Author Roald Dahl, who wrote it, handled his host job in a dryly humorous fashion and there was a jaunty, sophisticated air about the show. But it was still pretty macabre stuff.

ABC premiered two programs Sunday.

The first was "Break of Day," an opera which it commissioned specially for Easter presentation. After going to all that trouble and expense, ABC put the hour-long program on at 1 p.m., so early that many churchgoers missed it.

In its prime evening time, ABC showed the first of its new "Asphalt Jungle" series. This is cops-and-robbers in the classic form.

Most delightful program of the evening was GE Theatre, broadcasting a French art film, the "Red Balloon", a delightful excursion into droll fantasy. It was a story of a little boy and his friend, a red balloon that followed him everywhere.

Recommended tonight: June Allyson Show, CBS, 10:30-11 (EST) —Lloyd Bridges in a one-character play, "Death of the Temple Bay."

SIGNIFICANT GIVING

A top-ranking American industrialist has recently given Stevens Institute of Technology 2,100 share of General Motors common stock. The significance of this gift carries wide relevance.

He has been a large stockholder in this corporation for 48 years. This prime equity has worn well for almost half a century. He is a graduate of this Institute and has been a benefactor of it for many years. He and his family are among the largest General Motors stockholders.

Every year thousands of small investors lose millions of dollars by speculating unwisely in the stocks of promotional enterprises, 90 per cent of which fail. This unsound policy seeps into the higher echelons of society. In 1960 a prominent professional man who has bought $100,000 worth of Cadillacs a new car every year) lost $5,000 in a uranian mine whose shares were peddled by a high-pressure Toronto broker. Ironically, he has never owned a share of General Motors, maker of the Cadillac.

Hundreds of new enterprises are launched every year. Small investors, who can't afford to lose a dollar, buy the risk-laden shares because they are low priced. A few of these enterprises do survive and make their owners happy. But most of them fail.

It is and will be true that when most investors buy common stocks they should purchase the seasoned equities of sound corporations catering to the economic needs of 180,000,000 Americans.

The experience of this capitalist who has given General Motors shares to the institution from which he was graduated is something for all inexperienced investors to remember. After more than 40 years as a stocksolder of this company, he passes on shares to his beloved Alma Mater.

Another lesson grows out of this experience. Every year countless numbers of people die leaving money to heirs; and such gifts often breed indolence, waste and extravagance, social snobbery and filial animosity. For 30 years I have studied such giving, and I think that those who are financially well-off should start a study in giving when they are around 60 years of age, at the latest. For those able to do so, I favor starting money-gifts at a time when the donor can witness the good works his money is doing before he passes away.

Thousands of churches badly need endowment funds to carry out community projects required in the uplifting of society in their immediate neighborhoods. This is especially true in urban centers, where the character of the population is changing rapidly.

Hundreds of colleges need endowment funds for professors' salaries. If a capitalist is worth $200,000 and he has two heirs, how much better it would be for him to endow a professorship at his favorite college and in his name for $100,000, than to leave it all to two well-heeled and competent sons!

Scores of homes for the aged, the distressed and incapacitated, the homeless and for thousands of other unfortunates can be immeasurably aided by gifts from wealthy persons whose compassion, in turn, could be strengthened by such gifts.

Giving, as manifested by this one industrialist with General Motors shares, can be signficant to millions of potential stockholders and to thousands of givers: to stockholders, buy good equities; to givers, contribute to colleges, charities or churches.

Glancing Over TV Bill of Fare

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP TV-Radio Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—When CBS promised that its "Way Out" dramatic series would be different, it was not making idle boasts.

One must presume the first show last Friday night was a fair example of things to come. The story concerned a brilliant, irrascible professor, dying of an incurable disease. He consents to submit his brain—and one eye—to a post-mortem experiment.

It seems that an eminent brain surgeon has been able to keep a brain alive and functioning outside a body and is eager to expand his research to a human brain. The professor consents, mostly to irritate his wife who, he suspects, not only uses lipstick which he abhores, but smokes, which he loathes.

The professor dies, and then we see a little box containing the professor's brain and one eye staring toward the ceiling. Naturally, the brain can't talk, but the scientists can judge its reactions by graph measuring its electrical impulses.

Into the laboratory comes his widow, all dressed up, lips heavily rouged. She puts her face into the eye's line of vision, and when the graph registers sharp annoyance, deliberately lights a cigarette and blows smoke in the eye.

The fade-out shows the graph registering fury.

Author Roald Dahl, who wrote it, handled his host job in a dryly humorous fashion and there was a jaunty, sophisticated air about the show. But it was still pretty macabre stuff.

ABC premiered two programs Sunday.

The first was "Break of Day," an opera which it commissioned specially for Easter presentation. After going to all that trouble and expense, ABC put the hour-long program on at 1 p.m., so early that many churchgoers missed it.

In its prime evening time, ABC showed the first of its new "Asphalt Jungle" series. This is cops-and-robbers in the classic form.

Most delightful program of the evening was GE Theatre, broadcasting a French art film, the "Red Balloon", a delightful excursion into droll fantasy. It was a story of a little boy and his friend, a red balloon that followed him everywhere.

Science Shrinks Piles New Way Without Surgery Stops Itch—Relieves Pain

New York, N. Y. (Special) — For the first time science has found a new healing substance with the astonishing ability to shrink hemorrhoids, stop itching, and relieve pain — without surgery.

In case after case, while gently relieving pain, actual reduction (shrinkage) took place.

Most amazing of all—results were so thorough that sufferers made astonishing statements like "Piles have ceased to be a problem!"

The secret is a new healing substance (Bio-Dyne®)—discovery of a world-famous research institute.

This substance is now available in suppository or ointment form under the name Preparation H®. At all drug counters.

British-Soviet Peace Talk Held On Laotian War

MOSCOW (AP) — British Ambassador Sir Frank Roberts conferred today with the Soviet government on plans for a joint British-Soviet cease-fire appeal to the opposing forces in the Laotian civil war.

Sir Frank talked with Soviet Deputy Foreign Minister Vassily Kuznetzov less than 48 hours after the Soviets had agreed to the British suggestion that such an appeal should be issued.

Diplomatic circles assumed that Roberts brought up points in the Soviet note which the British government felt needed clarification.

These included the timing of the cease-fire appeal and what the Kremlin meant when it said that the pro-Western Laotian government of Prince Boun Oum and the pro-Communist Pathet Lao forces should get together on questions connected with the cease-fire.

Another point to be clarified was what would happen if the cease-fire were not effective by the time the 14-nation conference on Laos was scheduled to go into session.

The British note to the Soviet Union last week made a cease-fire a necessary preliminary to calling the conference which the Soviets have been urging.

It is understood that the British are willing to issue the invitation for the conference simultaneously, or almost at the same time, as the appeal for a cease-fire. However, the British want to know how the Soviets regard the sequence of events.

Lost Boy Found Dead Near Home

WINTHROP, Iowa (AP)—A lost boy's frightening battle against darkness, snow and mud was reconstructed after the body of Jimmy Franck, 4, was found less than one-fourth of a mile from his farm home.

"The boy died of freezing following exhaustion," Medical Examiner Dr. John F. Loeck said Sunday. "It was evident he had put up a struggle to get home."

Jimmy, son of Mr. and Mrs. Everett Franck, disappeared the afternoon of March 7.

That night the season's worst snow storm hit the area and although hundreds of volunteers scoured the area, the body wasn't found until another search was organized Saturday after all the snow had melted.

The body was first spotted by Joe Schell of Waterloo. Jimmy's boots were five feet away.

Dr. Loeck said the boy apparently had taken off the boots in hopes that it would be less difficult to walk barefooted in the muddy field.

Jimmy's mittens also were gone and Dr. Loeck said he may have removed them in an attempt to put his boots back on.

The Francks, who have three other children, stood the strain well and "thanked everyone for the great effort made to help and comfort," their minister said.

Two Groups Hold Peace Ceremony

NEW YORK (AP) — Separate groups appealing for world peace and an end to the armaments race held peaceful demonstrations about Manhattan Sunday.

A group of 25 Quakers—a segment of 284 members of the sect—ended a 42-hour vigil of silence in Times Square with a traditional Sunday morning religious meeting.

The Quakers, members of the Society of Friends, had stood quietly for three days, carrying placards to dramatize their opposition to war and violence.

As the Quakers ended their vigil, a group of about 300 pacifists began a walk which carried them over 87 Manhattan blocks.

That group, which said it sought disarmament by both the major nuclear powers, delivered appeals at the United States and Soviet missions to the United Nations.

A spokesman said the "peace walk" was started March 11 by the New England Committee for Non-Violent Action at the Kittery, Maine, naval base.

All of the state of Rhode Island could be covered by the Malaspina glacier, off the coast of Alaska.

Hollywood News, Views

By JAMES BACON
AP Movie-TV Writer

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Nick Adams, son of a Pennsylvania coal miner, has conquered the South—and vice versa.

Nick has had one of Hollywood's most meteoric rises to fame and fortune since he joined a few years ago with the cause of the Confederacy. He's the star and creator of TV's "The Rebel."

A few years ago Nick owned one suit. Now he's a Hollywood tycoon with his own television company and own movie production company.

"I owe it all to the South," he enthuses. "As far as I'm concerned, they should have won the war between the states. I'm a rebel by adoption.

"My family were all immigrants to this country so I had no family ties to the Civil War. I chose the South."

And the South apparently has chosen him.

Novelist Maggie Davis of Atlanta is currently writing a novel with Nick in mind, much like the late Margaret Mitchell wrote "Gone With the Wind" with Clark Gable the model for Rhett Butler.

"I took an option on the novel after only reading two chapters," says Nick. "The story department at Paramount thinks it's another 'Gone With the Wind.'"

The novel has an arresting title —"The Naked Lovers" but Nick thinks that will have to be changed for the movies.

"It's a good title for the book," says Nick, "because it's the story of a boy, 22, who is a private in the Confederate Army of Tennessee. Two of the bloodiest battles of the war were fought by the Army of Tennessee — at Chickamauga and Franklin, Tenn.

"The boy comes home on leave and marries his lovely sweetheart of 17 but Sherman's march to Atlanta turns the honeymoon into a disaster. The young couple are stripped of everything in their search for immediate love; hence the title."

If the novel becomes a best seller like "Gone With the Wind," the title will stand, says Nick.

"If not," he adds, "we'll have to change it. It sounds too much like the title for a Brigitte Bardot movie."

Careless Smoking

BUFFALO, N. Y. (AP) — Mrs. Jessie Mae Eachern, 49, died early today in a fire, blamed by firemen on careless smoking, in her East Side rooming house.

Mrs. Eachern was found in a second-floor room of the two-story, frame dwelling. The fire, which caused an estimated $500 damage was confined to the room, firemen said.

'Water Tree'

On the island of Madagascar, a thirsty traveler need only stab the ravenala tree with a sharp stick to have a pint of clear water gush out.

Reds Print Shop Rocked by Blast

MARSEILLE, France (AP)—A powerful bomb exploded early today in a building housing the printing establishments for both a Communist and a moderately right-wing newspaper.

The bomb was placed at the end of a corridor separating the Communist La Marseillaise and the conservative Le Meriodinal-La France.

The bomb shattered the corridor and broke windows throughout the building. None of the printing equipment was damaged.

Police believed that the bomb was directed at the Communist paper, since most of the bombing attacks in France recently apparently have been the work of right-wing extremists.

In Algeria, Easter Sunday was marred by a series of rebel bombings and attacks in which 43 persons were wounded and 3 killed.

In Paris, a rebel commando unit attacked a police station in an Algerian section and wounded four Moslem police auxiliaries. Police killed two of the attackers.

Another bomb exploded in front of the apartment of Sen. Francois Mitterrand. No one was hurt. French right-wing extremists were blamed.

Injuries Fatal To Vol Fireman

NEWFANE, N. Y. (AP)—A volunteer fireman died Sunday night in Intercommunity Hospital, apparently of injuries suffered earlier Sunday in a $50,000 fire at a coal and building supply firm in nearby Appleton, Niagara County.

Norman Lort, 45, of Wilson, died about two hours after being taken to the hospital suffering from chest pains, firemen said. An autopsy was to be held later today.

The cause of the blaze in the one-story, frame building of the D. S. Mc Clay Coal and Supply Co. was not determined.

Several volunteer fire departments fought the blaze.

Reds Experiment

BONN, Germany (AP) — There is mounting evidence of an imminent Soviet space experiment, a spokesman of the Bochum Observatory said today.

"For several days a surprising increase in intensity of Russian telegraphic and telephonic communication on frequencies generally used by space rocket launching stations has been observed," the spokesman declared.

Elizabeth Meriwether Gilmer wrote under the name of Dorothy Dix.

Named Chairman Of Saugerties Ulster Crusade

ALEXANDER J. BANYO

The appointment of Alexander J. Banyo of Stahlman Place as chairman of the Town of Ulster and Saugerties Cancer Crusade was announced today by the Ulster County Cancer Crusade committee. The county campaign started on Saturday.

"In accepting the chairmanship appointment," said Clyde Wonderly, general chairman, "Mr. Banyo brings to the Cancer Crusade a quality and experience greatly appreciated by his fellow workers."

Banyo is supervisor for the Town of Ulster and is a member of the Knights of Columbus, Ulster Kiwanis Club, Ulster Hose Company No. 5, and formerly taught school at Kingston High School.

Pope Blesses 10,000

VATICAN CITY (AP) — Pope John XXIII today gave his blessing to more than 10,000 Easter tourists and Romans gathered in St. Peter's Square. "A happy Easter to you all," the Pope shouted over a loudspeaker after giving his blessing from the window of his private library in the Vatican palace.

Cancer Research Group Discloses Report of Study

BUFFALO, N. Y. (AP)—A cancer research team at Roswell Park Memorial Institute here says that its own study bears out recent findings showing that specific kinds of cancer occur most often among people of certain social-economic groups.

Drs. Saxon Graham, Morton Levin, and Abraham M. Lilienfield said they discovered more cancers of the esophagus, stomach, liver, lung and larynx among men of lower social and economic status.

There was an increase in cancers of the stomach, liver and uterine cervix among women of lower social - economic status, while breast cancer was found to be more common among women from upper income families, according to the study released Sunday.

Both men and women in upper and lower - income groups were found equally susceptible to cancers of the mouth, large intestine, rectum, pancreas, uterus, ovary, prostate and other sites the study showed.

The results agreed with findings in similar studies in New Haven, Conn., and in Denmark and Great Britain, the group announced.

Ohio has 171 different kinds of fish in its waters.

Reds Experiment

BONN, Germany (AP) — There is mounting evidence of an imminent Soviet space experiment, a spokesman of the Bochum Observatory said today.

"For several days a surprising increase in intensity of Russian telegraphic and telephonic communication on frequencies generally used by space rocket launching stations has been observed," the spokesman declared.

Elizabeth Meriwether Gilmer wrote under the name of Dorothy Dix.

ALEXANDER J. BANYO

The appointment of Alexander J. Banyo of Stahlman Place as chairman of the Town of Ulster and Saugerties Cancer Crusade was announced today by the Ulster County Cancer Crusade committee. The county campaign started on Saturday.

"In accepting the chairmanship appointment," said Clyde Wonderly, general chairman, "Mr. Banyo brings to the Cancer Crusade a quality and experience greatly appreciated by his fellow workers."

Banyo is supervisor for the Town of Ulster and is a member of the Knights of Columbus, Ulster Kiwanis Club, Ulster Hose Company No. 5, and formerly taught school at Kingston High School.

Pope Blesses 10,000

VATICAN CITY (AP) — Pope John XXIII today gave his blessing to more than 10,000 Easter tourists and Romans gathered in St. Peter's Square. "A happy Easter to you all," the Pope shouted over a loudspeaker after giving his blessing from the window of his private library in the Vatican palace.

Cancer Research Group Discloses Report of Study

BUFFALO, N. Y. (AP)—A cancer research team at Roswell Park Memorial Institute here says that its own study bears out recent findings showing that specific kinds of cancer occur most often among people of certain social-economic groups.

Drs. Saxon Graham, Morton Levin, and Abraham M. Lilienfield said they discovered more cancers of the esophagus, stomach, liver, lung and larynx among men of lower social and economic status.

There was an increase in cancers of the stomach, liver and uterine cervix among women of lower social - economic status, while breast cancer was found to be more common among women from upper income families, according to the study released Sunday.

Both men and women in upper and lower - income groups were found equally susceptible to cancers of the mouth, large intestine, rectum, pancreas, uterus, ovary, prostate and other sites the study showed.

The results agreed with findings in similar studies in New Haven, Conn., and in Denmark and Great Britain, the group announced.

Ohio has 171 different kinds of fish in its waters.

Will Allot Some Funds to Better Science Courses

NEW YORK (AP)—The National Science Foundation will use some of its increased funds to improve science education in colleges, it was reported today.

The New York Times, which told of the plan in a Washington dispatch, noted that the foundation received from the Kennedy administration the largest budget increase in the foundation's 10-year history.

The story also said in part:

For the first time, the foundation will help colleges and universities improve and modernize the equipment used by undergraduates.

The Kennedy administration increased the foundation's budget 30 per cent, and the rise included a $5 million outlay for the undergraduate program.

The foundation is moving cautiously in providing undergraduate assistance. The prospect is that the $5 million will be used to buy small items, such as demonstration equipment and apparatus, and perhaps tools for repair of the equipment.

Foundation officials hope, however, that this first step will lead ultimately to a much more ambitious plan of refurbishing and modernizing undergraduate laboratory buildings.

The foundation also plans to sponsor projects to improve undergraduate science textbooks and courses.

In recent years, the foundation has undertaken to provide federal support for refurbishing graduate laboratories and for improving high school science courses and classrooms.

President Kennedy proposed to congress that the foundation receive $275 million in the coming fiscal year—an increase of $65 million over the Eisenhower budget. Congress has not yet acted on the Kennedy budget.

Court Directs State to Study Plea of Mentor

ALBANY, N. Y. (AP)—A judge today ordered the State Education Department to review the status of Harry (Bobby) Sand, who is seeking reinstatement as a college teacher, a job he lost during a basketball scandal 10 years ago.

In New York, Sand, 43, said he seeks only reinstatement to an instructors' post, not necessarily coaching, and that he has college teaching background in social studies and economics, as well as in physical education.

Justice Russell G. Hunt of State Supreme Court said the department had the power to review the decision of New York City's Board of Higher Education, which found Sand guilty of "conduct unbecoming a teacher."

Sand was an assistant basketball coach at City College of New York when attempted bribes of the CCNY team by outsiders were reported. An offshoot of the investigation was conviction of Sand for concealing the purpose of a proposed South American tour by the team. A play-for-pay tour was planned.

In 1954, his salary as a physical-education teacher was reinstated but he was not given that job. Instead, he has been a records' officer at the college.

He asked the court recently to reinstate him, on the ground he had been punished enough.

Idea for Brides

TOKYO (AP)—A Tokyo department store has a new idea for doing away with the white elephant wedding gift.

The bride-to-be registers at the store. Friends deposit the money they planned to spend.

Ten days before the wedding, the store shows the bride and groom a list of gift-givers with the total amount. Then they pick out what they really want.

Son Born Sunday To Heiress Who Married Chauffeur

NEW YORK (AP) —Gamble Benedict Porumbeanu, 20, runaway heiress who married a Romanian-born former chauffeur a year ago, has an heir of her own.

Mrs. Porumbeanu gave birth Sunday to a 6-pound, 13-ounce son in a New Jersey hospital. The child will be named Gheorghe Mihai, after its paternal grandfather.

"She was delighted, especially since it was a boy," said Dr. John Langstadt of New York, her personal physician.

He said her husband, Andre Porumbeanu, "also was very happy and was certainly delighted that it was a boy."

The heiress and Porumbeanu, now 35, eloped to Hendersonville, N.C., last April 6.

As a result of the marriage, they were adjudged in contempt here by Magistrate Peter M. Horn for refusing to obey a court directive to stay apart.

Mrs. Porumbeanu presently is embroiled in a court battle over her grandfather's estate, which is reputed to run into the millions.

The estate is controlled largely by her grandmother, Katherine Geddes Benedict, who opposed the marriage to Porumbeanu.

The Porumbeanus are now living in Montclair, N.J.

3 Speeders Pay Fines, Costs 2nd Offender $50 Sum

Three drivers were fined on charges of speeding in city court today, one of them paying $50 as a second offender.

Arthur Goodrich, of Box 185, Saugerties paid the $50, and Bryan Skokan, 19, of Box 296, Ulster Park, charged with speeding, which police said, involved racing, was fined $25. Lois Charlton, 42, of Hurley Heights, was fined $10.

City Judge Aaron E. Klein is due for a heavy docket of traffic cases Tuesday night, most of them dealing with speeding. More than 40 drivers are expected to appear in court.

Highland Firemen Quell Lumber Fire

A pile of lumber on Bellevue Road along the Hudson River near Highland caught fire early Saturday evening and burned vigorously until it was extinguished by volunteers from the Highland Fire Company.

It was reported that a pile of old lumber had caught fire in front of a private home shortly after dark. The name of the occupant was not available.

The fire department was called about 8 p. m. and quenched the flames in short order, returning to the firehouses about 8:30 p. m. It was reported the wind was gusty and residents, who had been trying to extinguish the flames with buckets of water, decided that it would be wise to call on local firemen.

Using Laos as Test

Russians Poking Kennedy For Reaction to Crises

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Kennedy's only real surprise for the Russians would be to try something new in American foreign policy. The one he inherited has followed a fixed pattern for years.

At this moment in Laos, the Russians, like poking him with a stick, are testing the obvious and spectacular part of his presidential leadership—how he reacts to crises they create.

Far less noticeable day by day will be the long-range test of his leadership in giving the rest of the world the will to resist communism when there is no crisis or military action at all.

Kennedy has shown dissatisfaction with this country's two main foreign policy weapons against communism—defense and foreign aid—and he has proposed changes.

But they are changes and not new concepts.

In defense he wants more hidden-missile production, such as on the Polaris submarine. He wants better preparedness to fight limited wars. He wants foreign aid made long term so the recipients can plan ahead instead of year-by-year as now.

American foreign policy in dealing with Russia was put together in spurts. With the pieces welded together it has remained basically unchanged.

Kennedy's two predecessors, Presidents Truman and Eisenhower, walked this road along which he, too, perhaps can travel indefinitely. There is no assurance it is permanently good enough.

This American foreign policy since World War II has gone through two main phases:

1. The Truman decision to give economic help to countries wishing to avoid the kind of internal collapse which invites communism.

First, it was help for Greece and Turkey, then for Western Europe, and finally for around the globe.

2. The Truman decision to discourage Communist attack, first in the form of a military alliance with Western Europe. Eisenhower broadened this with other alliances elsewhere.

But this was simply an extension of the Truman policy, not a new one. Eisenhower, however, stood firmly against tests of his leadership on the Lebanon, Formosa and Berlin crises.

But the Russians are stronger now than in Truman's day and they are stronger than they were just a few years ago with Eisenhower.

Therefore, being more confident, the problems they create for Kennedy may be far bigger and more hair raising than they dared try with Truman or Eisenhower.

Savings and Loan Starts Children's Coloring Contest

As part of its current educational program to promote thrift among children, the Savings and Loan Association of Kingston, 267 Wall Street, will sponsor a "Coloring Book Contest" for children up to 12 years of age.

Boys and girls, accompanied by their parents or adults, may now receive a free Sonny Saver coloring book at the association office or drive-in window while the supply lasts. Every page must be crayon-colored, including the front and back covers. Originality and neatness are important.

All entries must be received at the Savings and Loan during office hours on or before April 21. Winners will be notified and prizes will be awarded, consisting of 25 five dolar savings accounts to the best entries. Decision of the judges will be announced May 5.

The free coloring books may also be secured in the association booth at the Lions' Exposition between April 11 and 15, at the New York State Armory.

Among the judges will be Patricia Bott, artist and director of the Burt Art Gallery in New York; Sam Stimson, artist and animator for Popeye, Gulliver's Travels and other TV and movie features; Bernie George, TV-Radio comedian, artist and man-of-a thousand voices, star at Radio City and voice of Drake's Duck; and Roy Garn, "Mr. Emotional Appeal" of TV, radio and lecture platform, former editor of Parents Magazine Press.

Rules for the contest are now on display at the association office.

Wells Arrested On Theft Charge

Herbert Louis Wells, 49, of 32 DeWitt Street, was booked Saturday by local police on a grand larceny charge for the alleged theft of a stereophonic receiver unit from Styles Express, Inc., of TenBroeck Avenue.

City Judge Aaron E. Klein today put the case over to April 11. Bail, fixed at $1,000, was not posted. Attorney Charles J. Saccoman appeared for Wells and Francis J. Vogt for the district attorney's office.

Police said Wells had been employed by Styles, and the unit, valued at $349, was found in Wells' car. It was being held in the warehouse for a Town of Ulster resident.

Detectives Charles McCullough and Albert Hutton, who investigated, made the arrest.

Laos Situation At Glance Today

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

WASHINGTON — Officials say United States to insist on effective cease-fire in Laos before entering any international conference on future of Laos.

LONDON—British foreign secretary, leaving for Washington to help draft Western reply to Soviet note on Laos, says Soviet proposals are favorable so far but clarification needed.

MOSCOW —British ambassador confers with Soviet officials on plans for two countries to issue joint cease-fire appeal. Major issue is what would happen if cease-fire not effective by start of proposed Laotian conference.

JAKARTA — Red Chinese Foreign Minister Chen Yi warns Peiping will send troops into Laos if Southeast Asia Treaty Organization sends in its forces.

VIENTIANE—Civil war returns to twilight stage with no serious fighting reported. Government appears to concede military initiative to Communists and be depending on internationally arranged cease-fire.

BANGKOK — Newspaper reports officials in Thailand fear Communists trying to bluff their way into negotiations that would lead to partition of Laos.

Hearing Set

semblyman Kenneth L. Wilson, Senator E. Ogden Bush, and State Comptroller Arthur Levitt be advised of the situation.

Mayor DuBois also reported that under second class designation the village must raise the salaries of its trustees and mayor. The raises, a maximum annual salary of $1,200 for trustees, and $2,500 for mayor must be approved by a permissive referendum.

Membership in New Paltz Fire Department for a one year probation period was approved for Bruce Ashton, Ralph Abranson, P. Bensen, S. Castellano, Timothy Collins, Oliver Fisher, John McElhenney, and Gerry Upright.

Committee Named

Recreation committee appointments approved include Harold Phillips and William George of the Village Board, and Supervisor Peter Savago and S. Parks Glenn of the Town Board.

The resignation of William Heidgerd from the Zoning Board of Appeals was accepted with regret. The board accepted an invitation to ride in the firemen's parade for the Ulster County Volunteer Firemen's Association convention this summer.

The annual organizational meeting of the board was scheduled for tonight.

Financial and Commercial

NEW YORK (AP) —Trading soared but stock market prices were scrambled early this afternoon.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks at noon was up .40 at 243.9 with industrials up 1.00, rails down .40 and utilities up .30.

The ticker tape feli behind within 10 minutes after trading opened and ran as much as eight minutes late.

Most price changes were narrow but there were some wide movers, such as Chance Vought which spurted 6½ after a delayed opening.

Aircrafts and rubbers showed declines. Chemicals held a little to the upside. Other groups were mixed.

Trading in American Telephone failed to open until shortly after noon, when a block of 30,000 shares went at 125, up 4⅛, a new all-time high. A little later it expanded its advance to 125¾.

Gains of a point or so were scored by McDonnell Aircraft, and Johns Manville.

Losers of around a point included General Dynamics, Lockheed, Union Carbide and DuPont.

Dropping fractions were Goodyear, Woolworth, United Aircraft, Southern Pacific and American Tobacco.

Volume for the first two hours was 2.32 million shares, compared with 2.21 million Thursday.

Population Gains

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP) —The world's population will pass the three-billion mark this year.

A U. N. survey, in making this prediction, says the rate of growth is 45 million to 55 million a year and the average life span is longer than ever. But with the cost of caring for the aged increasing, the "additional years that modern society can bestow are unhappy ones."

Five Children Perish in Fire Easter Sunday

SAGINAW, Mich. (AP) — Five of Delores Johnson's seven children — including one for whose mistreatment she served a probation term — died in an Easter fire at their home.

Mrs. Johnson, 30, escaped with two by smashing a window. Neighbors held her back when she tried to rush into the blazing house for the others.

The fire swept the old, frame home. Four of the children who lost their lives were trapped at the top of a stairway leading to their bedrooms. The fifth was found downstairs.

One of those who died was Debra, 4.

When Debra was a baby, Mrs. Johnson had punished her for playing with matches. She held the child's hands over an open gas flame. Mrs. Johnson was convicted of cruelty and placed on probation.

Others who perished were Donna Jean, 9; Allen Dale, 6; Andrew Darrell, 4, and Jeffrey James, 3 months.

Mrs. Johnson escaped with Diane Mary, 2, and Darlene, 11.

Easter Paraders Harassed by Wind

NEW YORK (AP) — The attire worn by Mother Nature at New York's Easter parade had the 800,000 hanging onto their hats—but it wasn't because they were awed.

The old girl whistled in with winds which gusted to 32 miles an hour. That, plus a 45-degree temperature and a brief flurry of snow, cut the turnout to the lowest total in years.

In previous years, when upwards of 1.5 million persons participated in the annual style parade, movement along the seven-block parade route was a slow and tedious process.

But this year the speed of movement rested upon whether the stroller was going with or against the wind.

The gusts knocked down police barriers, collapsed one woman's ten-inch - high hairdo, shredded Easter lilies in Rockefeller Center and forced the hatted to clutch at their heads.

Among the strollers was former Gov. Thomas E. Dewey, who was one of the few men attired in morning suit and black homburg. A few men preferred the old straw flats and white jackets.

Artificial flowers bloomed abundantly on women's hats, some a foot tall, and corsage and bouquet peddlers along the Fifth Avenue route did a bangup business.

Pink and lavender were favored for women's Easter outfits, although observers agreed a soft pink appears the favorite color this spring.

be a full-blown state visit. Some of the ceremony and high protocol usually accorded a chief of state will be omitted in order to give the President and De Gaulle more time for working meetings.

Arrangements for the Kennedy visit have been worked out during the past few weeks.

Kennedy and De Gaulle exchanged correspondence about 10 days ago. It dealt primarily with the Laos crisis, but may also have been an occasion for dealing with the Kennedy visit to Paris.

Wise Idea to Diversify Stocks and Spread Risk

ROGER E. SPEAR

Q) "I have followed your column for some time but am confused about your American Telephone recommendations. Sometimes you say buy; other times, sell. I hold 78 shares of AT&T. Should I exercise the right and increase my holdings?" R.S.

A) To begin with, I'm afraid you have misunderstood my recommendations. Taken as an investment, I have always advised either purchase or retention of Telephone.

Sales have been advised only where a portfolio was top-heavy with the stock. In these cases, a partial switch to other stocks was advised—but solely to enable my correspondent to follow one of the basic financial principles, namely, diversification or spreading the risk.

I continue to regard Telephone as a fine growth holding for the conservative investor. With that cleared up, I strongly advise you to exercise your rights and take up the Telephone stock to which you are entitled.

Since 20 rights are needed for one share, your 78 rights will entitle you to three and a fraction shares. As fractional shares are not issued, I suggest you advise the company that you wish to purchase two additional rights so that you will have 80 rights, or enough for four shares.

Don't forget that you must exercise your rights or sell them before April 14, 1961. After this date, your rights will be worthless.

Q) "Would you give me your opinion on the growth prospects of these stocks over a ten-year period: American Photocopy, Baxter Laboratories, General Telephone & Electronics, and Owens-Corning Fiberglass?" C.L.

Each of these stocks has excellent growth prospects for the next decade. All are fine selections in industries which cater to expanding markets, where product or service leadership should bring big rewards. Although these stocks are selling high in relation to current earnings, as do most growth issues, I think you have compiled a very strong list.

Mr. Spear cannot answer all questions possible in his column.

threw her arms around the first man she saw, a reporter, and kissed him soundly. "This is how I feel," she explained.

Miss Stein said "Everyone sort of held their breath. There was a moment of complete silence as the plane came in to land after making a trial pass over the field.

"We could feel the wheels touch down and I could feel the tension increase. There wasn't a whisper. Everyone was waiting to see what would happen.

"When we felt the plane come down and roll to a stop, we broke into yells and cheers as we realized everything was all right."

A cheer rose beside the runway as the big plane wheeled safely into the three-inch foam carpet 4,000 feet long.

"They came out and said the plane had blown a tire," said Mrs. Earl Fassett of Augusta, Maine. "After that the stewardess told us to take off our shoes. They gave us pillows and showed us how to bend over, put our heads on the pillows and grip our ankles. They told my husband to take off his glasses.

"There wasn't very much conversation aboard during the flight."

Karen DeMartine of Plainview, Long Island, N. Y., said "I got my rosary out."

Passengers Sip To Forget About Landing Gear Jam

MONTREAL (AP) — Passengers sipped scotch and cognac Sunday night to keep their minds off their troubles while a Trans-Canada airliner circled Montreal with a jammed landing gear.

The four-engine plane, inbound from Tampa, Fla., finally made a belly landing without injury to any of the 42 passengers and seven crewmen. But two women fainted after the landing.

Stewardess Hilda Nelson said the bar had been sealed for a landing but it was reopened when it became apparent the plane was not going to land for awhile. And it didn't, for two hours.

76, He'll Fly Again

William Deumars of Malone, N. Y., was taking his first plane ride at the age of 76. He conceded he began to sweat.

"I wasn't scared," he said, "but I was sure nervous. Now I feel just like a young colt and I want to go back up again soon."

As the passengers filed out of the plane, Miss Neilson told one of them she was sorry he missed his connection.

"Connection!" said the passenger. "Who cares? We made the right connection with the ground and that's all I was worried about."

4 Men Arrested In Meat Thefts

Two men were arrested Saturday in connection with a series of burglaries during which meat valued at from $200 to $500 was stolen from a Woodridge meat market, Sullivan County.

Two other men were also arrested by Ellenville state police for receiving stolen goods in connection with the meat thefts.

Now in the Sullivan county jail at Monticello awaiting action of the grand jury in connection with the alleged series of thefts are Fred Wilson, 23, and Frank Gooding, 25, both of Woodridge.

Charged with receiving stolen goods are Edward Beckett, 30, and Jerome Merchant, 25, also of Woodridge.

Beckett and Merchant were arraigned before a Sullivan County magistrate and received six-month suspended sentences.

Motorist Killed In Dutchess Co. Railroad Crossing

A New York Central passenger train struck an automobile at a back road crossing near Amenia in northern Dutchess County on Sunday, killing one occupant of the vehicle and injuring another.

State police of the Dover Plains station identified the fatally injured victim as Webster Wilbur, 77, of Millerton, Dutchess County.

Charles Silvernail of Pleasant Valley, identified as the driver, suffered minor injuries.

The train, southbound to New York City, was delayed about 15 minutes.

Wilbur reportedly died at the scene of the crash. The train was proceeding at a slow rate of speed, it was reported, and the car was only knocked about 10 feet.

Will Allot Some Funds to Better Science Courses

NEW YORK (AP)—The National Science Foundation will use some of its increased funds to improve science education in colleges, it was reported today.

The New York Times, which told of the plan in a Washington dispatch, noted that the foundation received from the Kennedy administration the largest budget increase in the foundation's 10-year history.

The story also said in part:

For the first time, the foundation will help colleges and universities improve and modernize the equipment used by undergraduates.

The Kennedy administration increased the foundation's budget 30 per cent, and the rise included a $5 million outlay for the undergraduate program.

The foundation is moving cautiously in providing undergraduate assistance. The prospect is that the $5 million will be used to buy small items, such as demonstration equipment and apparatus, and perhaps tools for repair of the equipment.

Foundation officials hope, however, that this first step will lead ultimately to a much more ambitious plan of refurbishing and modernizing undergraduate laboratory buildings.

The foundation also plans to sponsor projects to improve undergraduate science textbooks and courses.

In recent years, the foundation has undertaken to provide federal support for refurbishing graduate laboratories and for improving high school science courses and classrooms.

President Kennedy proposed to congress that the foundation receive $275 million in the coming fiscal year—an increase of $65 million over the Eisenhower budget. Congress has not yet acted on the Kennedy budget.

Court Directs State to Study Plea of Mentor

ALBANY, N. Y. (AP)—A judge today ordered the State Education Department to review the status of Harry (Bobby) Sand, who is seeking reinstatement as a college teacher, a job he lost during a basketball scandal 10 years ago.

In New York, Sand, 43, said he seeks only reinstatement to an instructors' post, not necessarily coaching, and that he has college teaching background in social studies and economics, as well as in physical education.

Justice Russell G. Hunt of State Supreme Court said the department had the power to review the decision of New York City's Board of Higher Education, which found Sand guilty of "conduct unbecoming a teacher."

Sand was an assistant basketball coach at City College of New York when attempted bribes of the CCNY team by outsiders were reported. An offshoot of the investigation was conviction of Sand for concealing the purpose of a proposed South American tour by the team. A play-for-pay tour was planned.

In 1954, his salary as a physical-education teacher was reinstated but he was not given that job. Instead, he has been a records' officer at the college.

He asked the court recently to reinstate him, on the ground he had been punished enough.

Idea for Brides

TOKYO (AP)—A Tokyo department store has a new idea for doing away with the white elephant wedding gift.

The bride-to-be registers at the store. Friends deposit the money they planned to spend.

Ten days before the wedding, the store shows the bride and groom a list of gift-givers with the total amount. Then they pick out what they really want.

Son Born Sunday To Heiress Who MarriedChauffeur

NEW YORK (AP) —Gamble Benedict Porumbeanu, 20, runaway heiress who married a Romanian-born former chauffeur a year ago, has an heir of her own.

Mrs. Porumbeanu gave birth Sunday to a 6-pound, 13-ounce son in a New Jersey hospital. The child will be named Gheorghe Mihai, after its paternal grandfather.

"She was delighted, especially since it was a boy," said Dr. John Langstadt of New York, her personal physician.

He said her husband, Andre Porumbeanu, "also was very happy and was certainly delighted that it was a boy."

The heiress and Porumbeanu, now 35, eloped to Hendersonville, N.C., last April 6.

As a result of the marriage, they were adjudged in contempt here by Magistrate Peter M. Horn for refusing to obey a court directive to stay apart.

Mrs. Porumbeanu presently is embroiled in a court battle over her grandfather's estate, which is reputed to run into the millions.

The estate is controlled largely by her grandmother, Katherine Geddes Benedict, who opposed the marriage to Porumbeanu.

The Porumbeanus are now living in Montclair, N.J.

3 Speeders Pay Fines, Costs 2nd Offender $50 Sum

Three drivers were fined on charges of speeding in city court today, one of them paying $50 as a second offender.

Arthur Goodrich, of Box 185, Saugerties paid the $50, and Bryan Skokan, 19, of Box 296, Ulster Park, charged with speeding, which police said, involved racing, was fined $25. Lois Charlton, 42, of Hurley Heights, was fined $10.

City Judge Aaron E. Klein is due for a heavy docket of traffic cases Tuesday night, most of them dealing with speeding. More than 40 drivers are expected to appear in court.

Highland Firemen Quell Lumber Fire

A pile of lumber on Bellevue Road along the Hudson River near Highland caught fire early Saturday evening and burned vigorously until it was extinguished by volunteers from the Highland Fire Company.

It was reported that a pile of old lumber had caught fire in front of a private home shortly after dark. The name of the occupant was not available.

The fire department was called about 8 p. m. and quenched the flames in short order, returning to the firehouses about 8:30 p. m. It was reported the wind was gusty and residents, who had been trying to extinguish the flames with buckets of water, decided that it would be wise to call on local firemen.

Using Laos as Test

Russians Poking Kennedy For Reaction to Crises

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Kennedy's only real surprise for the Russians would be to try something new in American foreign policy. The one he inherited has followed a fixed pattern for years.

At this moment in Laos, the Russians, like poking him with a stick, are testing the obvious and spectacular part of his presidential leadership—how he reacts to crises they create.

Far less noticeable day by day will be the long-range test of his leadership in giving the rest of the world the will to resist communism when there is no crisis or military action at all.

Kennedy has shown dissatisfaction with this country's two main foreign policy weapons against communism—defense and foreign aid—and he has proposed changes.

But they are changes and not new concepts.

In defense he wants more hidden-missile production, such as on the Polaris submarine. He wants better preparedness to fight limited wars. He wants foreign aid made long term so the recipients can plan ahead instead of year-by-year as now.

American foreign policy in dealing with Russia was put together in spurts. With the pieces welded together it has remained basically unchanged.

Kennedy's two predecessors, Presidents Truman and Eisenhower, walked this road along which he, too, perhaps can travel indefinitely. There is no assurance it is permanently good enough.

This American foreign policy since World War II has gone through two main phases:

1. The Truman decision to give economic help to countries wishing to avoid the kind of internal collapse which invites communism.

First, it was help for Greece and Turkey, then for Western Europe, and finally for around the globe.

2. The Truman decision to discourage Communist attack, first in the form of a military alliance with Western Europe. Eisenhower broadened this with other alliances elsewhere.

But this was simply an extension of the Truman policy, not a new one. Eisenhower, however, stood firmly against tests of his leadership on the Lebanon, Formosa and Berlin crises.

But the Russians are stronger now than in Truman's day and they are stronger than they were just a few years ago with Eisenhower.

Therefore, being more confident, the problems they create for Kennedy may be far bigger and more hair raising than they dared try with Truman or Eisenhower.

Savings and Loan Starts Children's Coloring Contest

As part of its current educational program to promote thrift among children, the Savings and Loan Association of Kingston, 267 Wall Street, will sponsor a "Coloring Book Contest" for children up to 12 years of age.

Boys and girls, accompanied by their parents or adults, may now receive a free Sonny Saver coloring book at the association office or drive-in window while the supply lasts. Every page must be crayon-colored, including the front and back covers. Originality and neatness are important.

All entries must be received at the Savings and Loan during office hours on or before April 21. Winners will be notified and prizes will be awarded, consisting of 25 five dolar savings accounts to the best entries. Decision of the judges will be announced May 5.

The free coloring books may also be secured in the asociation booth at the Lions' Exposition between April 11 and 15, at the New York State Armory.

Among the judges will be Patricia Bott, artist and director of the Burt Art Gallery in New York; Sam Stimson, artist and animator for Popeye, Gulliver's Travels and other TV and movie features; Bernie George, TV-Radio comedian, artist and man-of-a thousand voices, star at Radio City and voice of Drake's Duck; and Roy Garn, "Mr. Emotional Appeal" of TV, radio and lecture platform, former editor of Parents Magazine Press.

Rules for the contest are now on display at the association office.

Wells Arrested On Theft Charge

Herbert Louis Wells, 49, of 32 DeWitt Street, was booked Saturday by local police on a grand larceny charge for the alleged theft of a stereophonic receiver unit from Styles Express, Inc., of TenBroeck Avenue.

City Judge Aaron E. Klein today put the case over to April 11. Bail, fixed at $1,000, was not posted. Attorney Charles J. Saccoman appeared for Wells and Francis J. Vogt for the district attorney's office.

Police said Wells had been employed by Styles, and the unit, valued at $349, was found in Wells' car. It was being held in the warehouse for a Town of Ulster resident.

Detectives Charles McCullough and Albert Hutton, who investigated, made the arrest.

Laos Situation At Glance Today

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

WASHINGTON — Officials say United States to insist on effective cease-fire in Laos before entering any international conference on future of Laos.

LONDON—British foreign secretary, leaving for Washington to help draft Western reply to Soviet note on Laos, says Soviet proposals are favorable so far but clarification needed.

MOSCOW —British ambassador confers with Soviet officials on plans for two countries to issue joint cease-fire appeal. Major issue is what would happen if cease-fire not effective by start of proposed Laotian conference.

JAKARTA — Red Chinese Foreign Minister Chen Yi warns Peiping will send troops into Laos if Southeast Asia Treaty Organization sends in its forces.

VIENTIANE—Civil war returns to twilight stage with no serious fighting reported. Government appears to concede military initiative to Communists and be depending on internationally arranged cease-fire.

BANGKOK — Newspaper reports officials in Thailand fear Communists trying to bluff their way into negotiations that would lead to partition of Laos.

Hearing Set

semblyman Kenneth L. Wilson, Senator E. Ogden Bush, and State Comptroller Arthur Levitt be advised of the situation.

Mayor DuBois also reported that under second class designation the village must raise the salaries of its trustees and mayor. The raises, a maximum annual salary of $1,200 for trustees, and $2,500 for mayor must be approved by a permissive referendum.

Membership in New Paltz Fire Department for a one year probation period was approved for Bruce Ashton, Ralph Abranson, P. Bensen, S. Castellano, Timothy Collins, Oliver Fisher, John McElhenney, and Gerry Upright.

Committee Named

Recreation committee appointments approved include Harold Phillips and William George of the Village Board, and Supervisor Peter Savago and S. Parks Glenn of the Town Board.

The resignation of William Heidgerd from the Zoning Board of Appeals was accepted with regret. The board accepted an invitation to ride in the firemen's parade for the Ulster County Volunteer Firemen's Association convention this summer.

The annual organizational meeting of the board was scheduled for tonight.

Financial and Commercial

NEW YORK (AP) —Trading soared but stock market prices were scrambled early this afternoon.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks at noon was up .40 at 243.9 with industrials up 1.00, rails down .40 and utilities up .30.

The ticker tape feli behind within 10 minutes after trading opened and ran as much as eight minutes late.

Most price changes were narrow but there were some wide movers, such as Chance Vought which spurted 6½ after a delayed opening.

Aircrafts and rubbers showed declines. Chemicals held a little to the upside. Other groups were mixed.

Trading in American Telephone failed to open until shortly after noon, when a block of 30,000 shares went at 125, up 4⅛, a new all-time high. A little later it expanded its advance to 125¾.

Gains of a point or so were scored by McDonnell Aircraft, and Johns Manville.

Losers of around a point included General Dynamics, Lockheed, Union Carbide and DuPont.

Dropping fractions were Goodyear, Woolworth, United Aircraft, Southern Pacific and American Tobacco.

Volume for the first two hours was 2.32 million shares, compared with 2.21 million Thursday.

Population Gains

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP) —The world's population will pass the three-billion mark this year.

A U. N. survey, in making this prediction, says the rate of growth is 45 million to 55 million a year and the average life span is longer than ever. But with the cost of caring for the aged increasing, the "additional years that modern society can bestow are unhappy ones."

Five Children Perish in Fire Easter Sunday

SAGINAW, Mich. (AP) — Five of Delores Johnson's seven children — including one for whose mistreatment she served a probation term — died in an Easter fire at their home.

Mrs. Johnson, 30, escaped with two by smashing a window. Neighbors held her back when she tried to rush into the blazing house for the others.

The fire swept the old, frame home. Four of the children who lost their lives were trapped at the top of a stairway leading to their bedrooms. The fifth was found downstairs.

One of those who died was Debra, 4.

When Debra was a baby, Mrs. Johnson had punished her for playing with matches. She held the child's hands over an open gas flame. Mrs. Johnson was convicted of cruelty and placed on probation.

Others who perished were Donna Jean, 9; Allen Dale, 6; Andrew Darrell, 4, and Jeffrey James, 3 months.

Mrs. Johnson escaped with Diane Mary, 2, and Darlene, 11.

Easter Paraders Harassed by Wind

NEW YORK (AP) — The attire worn by Mother Nature at New York's Easter parade had the 800,000 hanging onto their hats—but it wasn't because they were awed.

The old girl whistled in with winds which gusted to 32 miles an hour. That, plus a 45-degree temperature and a brief flurry of snow, cut the turnout to the lowest total in years.

In previous years, when upwards of 1.5 million persons participated in the annual style parade, movement along the seven-block parade route was a slow and tedious process.

But this year the speed of movement rested upon whether the stroller was going with or against the wind.

The gusts knocked down police barriers, collapsed one woman's ten-inch - high hairdo, shredded Easter lilies in Rockefeller Center and forced the hatted to clutch at their heads.

Among the strollers was former Gov. Thomas E. Dewey, who was one of the few men attired in morning suit and black homburg. A few men preferred the old straw flats and white jackets.

Artificial flowers bloomed abundantly on women's hats, some a foot tall, and corsage and bouquet peddlers along the Fifth Avenue route did a bangup business.

Pink and lavender were favored for women's Easter outfits, although observers agreed a soft pink appears the favorite color this spring.

Kennedy Flying

be a full-blown state visit. Some of the ceremony and high protocol usually accorded a chief of state will be omitted in order to give the President and De Gaulle more time for working meetings.

Arrangements for the Kennedy visit have been worked out during the past few weeks.

Kennedy and De Gaulle exchanged correspondence about 10 days ago. It dealt primarily with the Laos crisis, but may also have been an occasion for dealing with the Kennedy visit to Paris.

Wise Idea to Diversify Stocks and Spread Risk

Q) "I have followed your column for some time but am confused about your American Telephone recommendations. Sometimes you say buy; other times, sell. I hold 78 shares of AT&T. Should I exercise the right and increase my holdings?" R.S.

A) To begin with, I'm afraid you have misunderstood my recommendations. Taken as an investment, I have always advised either purchase or retention of Telephone.

Sales have been advised only where a portfolio was top-heavy with the stock. In these cases, a partial switch to other stocks was advised—but solely to enable my correspondent to follow one of the basic financial principles, namely, diversification or spreading the risk.

I continue to regard Telephone as a fine growth holding for the conservative investor. With that cleared up, I strongly advise you to exercise your rights and take up the Telephone stock to which you are entitled.

Since 20 rights are needed for one share, your 78 rights will entitle you to three and a fraction shares. As fractional shares are not issued, I suggest you advise the company that you wish to purchase two additional rights so that you will have 80 rights, or enough for four shares.

Don't forget that you must exercise your rights or sell them before April 14, 1961. After this date, your rights will be worthless.

Q) "Would you give me your opinion on the growth prospects of these stocks over a ten-year period: American Photocopy, Baxter Laboratories, General Telephone & Electronics, and Owens-Corning Fiberglass?" C.L.

Each of these stocks has excellent growth prospects for the next decade. All are fine selections in industries which cater to expanding markets, where product or service leadership should bring big rewards. Although these stocks are selling high in relation to current earnings, as do most growth issues, I think you have compiled a very strong list.

threw her arms around the first man she saw, a reporter, and kissed him soundly. "This is how I feel," she explained.

Miss Stein said "Everyone sort of held their breath. There was a moment of complete silence as the plane came in to land after making a trial pass over the field.

"We could feel the wheels touch down and I could feel the tension increase. There wasn't a whisper. Everyone was waiting to see what would happen.

"When we felt the plane come down and roll to a stop, we broke into yells and cheers as we realized everything was all right."

A cheer rose beside the runway as the big plane wheeled safely into the three-inch foam carpet 4,000 feet long.

"They came out and said the plane had blown a tire," said Mrs. Earl Fassett of Augusta, Maine. "After that the stewardess told us to take off our shoes. They gave us pillows and showed us how to bend over, put our heads on the pillows and grip our ankles. They told my husband to take off his glasses.

"There wasn't very much conversation aboard during the flight."

Passengers Sip To Forget About Landing Gear Jam

MONTREAL (AP) — Passengers sipped scotch and cognac Sunday night to keep their minds off their troubles while a Trans-Canada airliner circled Montreal with a jammed landing gear.

The four-engine plane, inbound from Tampa, Fla., finally made a belly landing without injury to any of the 42 passengers and seven crewmen. But two women fainted after the landing.

Stewardess Hilda Nelson said the bar had been sealed for a landing but it was reopened when it became apparent the plane was not going to land for awhile. And it didn't, for two hours.

76, He'll Fly Again

William Deumars of Malone, N. Y., was taking his first plane ride at the age of 76. He conceded he began to sweat.

"I wasn't scared," he said, "but I was sure nervous. Now I feel just like a young colt and I want to go back up again soon."

As the passengers filed out of the plane, Miss Neilson told one of them she was sorry he missed his connection.

"Connection!" said the passenger. "Who cares? We made the right connection with the ground and that's all I was worried about."

4 Men Arrested In Meat Thefts

Two men were arrested Saturday in connection with a series of burglaries during which meat valued at from $200 to $500 was stolen from a Woodridge meat market, Sullivan County.

Two other men were also arrested by Ellenville state police for receiving stolen goods in connection with the meat thefts.

Now in the Sullivan county jail at Monticello awaiting action of the grand jury in connection with the alleged series of thefts are Fred Wilson, 23, and Frank Gooding, 25, both of Woodridge.

Charged with receiving stolen goods are Edward Beckett, 30, and Jerome Merchant, 25, also of Woodridge.

Beckett and Merchant were arraigned before a Sullivan County magistrate and received six-month suspended sentences.

Motorist Killed In Dutchess Co. Railroad Crossing

A New York Central passenger train struck an automobile at a back road crossing near Amenia in northern Dutchess County on Sunday, killing one occupant of the vehicle and injuring another.

State police of the Dover Plains station identified the fatally injured victim as Webster Wilbur, 77, of Millerton, Dutchess County.

Charles Silvernail of Pleasant Valley, identified as the driver, suffered minor injuries.

The train, southbound to New York City, was delayed about 15 minutes.

Wilbur reportedly died at the scene of the crash. The train was proceeding at a slow rate of speed, it was reported, and the car was only knocked about 10 feet.

HOUSEBOAT FOR SPACE—Resembling a palatial houseboat of another era, the space-age barge, "Palaemon," heads down the Tennessee River on its first shakedown cruise. The barge, 180 feet long and 38 feet wide, was built to transport the first and second stages of the gigantic Saturn rocket from Huntsville, Ala., to Cape Canaveral, Fla. On this trip, the Palaemon, named for a Greek sea god, sailed to a point near the Alabama-Tennessee border, then returned to the George C. Marshall Space Flight Center at Huntsville. Its trip to Florida will carry it down the Mississippi and across the Gulf of Mexico when the Saturn undergoes its first flight test there late this year.

NEW YORK (AP) — Things a columnist might never know if he didn't open his mail:

Don't let worry scalp you. It has been found that extreme mental or physical stress may cause a fallout—at least temporarily—of from 100 to 1,000 hairs a day.

But cheer up. If you have an average of 100,000 or more hairs on your head, you have to lose at least 25,000 before even your closest enemies will notice the loss enough to start prematurely greeting you with, "Hi, baldy!"

How much air do you use? Awake and relaxed, you breathe a pint of air 16 times a minute. Asleep, you ordinarily breathe only 12 times a minute. But if you are having a bad dream the rate doubles to 24 breaths a minute.

HOUSEBOAT FOR SPACE—Resembling a palatial houseboat of another era, the space-age barge, "Palaemon," heads down the Tennessee River on its first shakedown cruise. The barge, 180 feet long and 38 feet wide, was built to transport the first and second stages of the gigantic Saturn rocket from Huntsville, Ala., to Cape Canaveral, Fla. On this trip, the Palaemon, named for a Greek sea god, sailed to a point near the Alabama-Tennessee border, then returned to the George C. Marshall Space Flight Center at Huntsville. Its trip to Florida will carry it down the Mississippi and across the Gulf of Mexico when the Saturn undergoes its first flight test there late this year.

Lefkowitz Plans To Halt Shipment Of Coast Lettuce

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP) — New York farmers who long have complained that California growers dump excess lettuce in the Empire State had Atty. Gen. Louis J. Lefkowitz on their side today.

Lefkowitz said Sunday he soon would appoint a special counsel to try to stop the practice by asking a revision of an Interstate Commerce Commission tariff regulation.

California growers can ship lettuce East by rail without prepayment of freight charges. If the receiver refuses to accept the shipment because it is sub-standard, it can be sold at a loss and the railroads accept the proceeds for the freight charges.

The lettuce is sold wholesale at "knock-down" prices and resold retail at normal prices, Lefkowitz said.

Growers in Orange County also have charged that California shippers consign their lettuce to fictitious produce houses in New York City, thus leaving it up to the railroads to dispose of the lettuce for collection of the freight fees.

More than 80 carloads of California lettuce were dumped in New York last year, the New York attorney general said.

New York growers, who ship by truck, must pay the full freight in advance.

Lefkowitz called the ICC regulation that enables the dumping "discriminatory, preferential and of great harm" to New York producers.

Bloomington Vols' New Citizen Band Radio Installed

The Bloomington Fire Company has purchased a Citizen's Band battery-operated walkie-talkie "transceiver" radio, it was announced today by Chief Oscar Hahn.

The set will be used in conjunction with the present CB radio set-up of the Town of Rosendale Volunteer Firemen's Association, he explained.

It will be used primarily at the scene of a fire or emergency when the fire truck is not within verbal hearing distance of the scene of action.

Hahn said the portable radio will be of invaluable assistance in issuing orders to the truck either to increase or decrease water pressures on the hoses, in summoning additional equipment from trucks at hand, and so on.

Bloomington now has three Citizen's Band units—one at the firehouse, one on a pumper and the third is the walkie-talkie. Each unit is capable of transmitting and receiving messages.

Dem Leaders Urge Regular Payments

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP) — Unemployment insurance benefits should be extended to 39 weeks on a permanent basis, rather than on an emergency basis under a new state and federal program, New York Democratic legislative leaders contend.

The one-year program, which will extend benefits for 13 weeks beyond the normal 26 weeks, takes effect April 17.

Sen. Joseph Zaretzki and Assemblyman Anthony J. Travia said Sunday the federal program in which New York is participating through enabling legislation was "geared to meet the current emergency" only.

They said the state must be able to meet unemployment crises "on an immediate and area basis, instead of having to wait for the better part of a year while thousands of workers have exhausted their benefits..."

Zaretzki and Travia claimed Gov. Rockefeller agreed to participation in the federal program only after "prodding by the Democrats."

Bloomington Vols' New Citizen Band Radio Installed

The Bloomington Fire Company has purchased a Citizen's Band battery-operated walkie-talkie "transceiver" radio, it was announced today by Chief Oscar Hahn.

The set will be used in conjunction with the present CB radio set-up of the Town of Rosendale Volunteer Firemen's Association, he explained.

It will be used primarily at the scene of a fire or emergency when the fire truck is not within verbal hearing distance of the scene of action.

Hahn said the portable radio will be of invaluable assistance in issuing orders to the truck either to increase or decrease water pressures on the hoses, in summoning additional equipment from trucks at hand, and so on.

Bloomington now has three Citizen's Band units—one at the firehouse, one on a pumper and the third is the walkie-talkie. Each unit is capable of transmitting and receiving messages.

Dem Leaders Urge Regular Payments

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP) — Unemployment - insurance benefits should be extended to 39 weeks on a permanent basis, rather than on an emergency basis under a new state and federal program, New York Democratic legislative leaders contend.

The one-year program, which will extend benefits for 13 weeks beyond the normal 26 weeks, takes effect April 17.

Sen. Joseph Zaretzki and Assemblyman Anthony J. Travia said Sunday the federal program in which New York is participating through enabling legislation was "geared to meet the current emergency" only.

They said the state must be able to meet unemployment crises "on an immediate and area basis, instead of having to wait for the better part of a year while thousands of workers have exhausted their benefits..."

Zaretzki and Travia claimed Gov. Rockefeller agreed to participation in the federal program only after "prodding by the Democrats."

The first parks were grants of royal land for the enjoyment of the people, according to the Encyclopedia Britannica.

Upstate Sheriff Removed Pending Police Inquiry

BUFFALO, N.Y. (AP)—An Erie County deputy sheriff has been suspended pending further investigation of the accidental shooting of an 18-year-old waitress in a restaurant Saturday, police say.

Investigators said Deputy Thomas Franz, 28, triggered his service revolver trying to re-settle it in its holster after it had worked loose.

The waitress, Virginia Lascala of suburban Williamsville, was beside him. The bullet struck her in the abdomen but missed all vital organs, authorities said. She was listed in good condition at Meyer Memorial Hospital here.

Franz had stopped in the restaurant in suburban Clarence for coffee.

He was suspended shortly after the shooting but a department spokesman said after talking with the girl that he was convinced the shooting was accidental.

Stage Show on TV

NEW YORK (AP) — For the first time a current Broadway stage show was displayed live Sunday night over a pay-television circuit.

"Show Girl," a revue starring Carol Channing, went in its two-hour entirety to the 5,800 subscribers participating in the Telemeter installation at Etobicoke, Ont., a suburb of Toronto.

The performance, given before an audience at the Eugene O'Neill Theater, was taped simultaneously for repeat showings over the same circuit later in the week.

Plant Shutdown Draws Protests

The government's decision to close 52 military installations in the United States drew sharp protests in some states but there was little reaction in New York State, not as hard hit as others.

Two Air Force plants at Niagara Falls are involved. But one never was in full production and has been on a caretaker status since September 1959, with only a few workers. The other, engaged in missile-engine research, employs 170, who are expected to be absorbed by the Bell Aircraft Corp.

Only nine civilians work at a medical maintenance facility scheduled for closing at an Army depot in Schenectady. They will be reassigned elsewhere in the depot.

In New York City, the downtown Manhattan Army building, headquarters of the First Army recruiting district, is to be closed. The city took the news casually.

New Nixon Home

BEVERLY HILLS, Calif. (AP) —Former Vice President Richard M. Nixon today made plans for "a modest, one-story home" on a three-quarter acre lot he has purchased in an exclusive subdivision of Beverly Hills.

The price was not disclosed. Lot prices in the area range between $42,000 and $75,000. Sale of the lot was disclosed Saturday by a sales agent.

Chick Has 4 Legs

ORLANDO, Fla. (AP)—Johnny Caldwell, 11, of suburban Union Park, received an Easter chick and thought someone was playing an April Fool's joke on him.

C. R. Douglas of Gainesville gave Johnny 23 eggs as a present Saturday. By the time Johnny got home with the eggs, one had hatched into a four-legged chicken.

Johnny's mother reported today the chicken is doing fine and walks on all four legs.

Robbers Sought In Easter Theft

BUFFALO, N.Y. (AP) — Two holdup men waited an hour to see a suburban store manager in his office Saturday, then calmly walked in and robbed him of more than $20,000 in Easter shopping receipts.

The men taped Edward H. Salmon's eyes, mouth, hands and feet, then slipped through a thick crowd of shoppers and fled in an automobile.

The receipts, from Maxam's, a West Seneca department store, were in bags awaiting pickup by armored car when the holdup men struck. Only one of the men carried a gun, police said.

Services Arranged For Steel Official

CINCINNATI (AP) — Funeral services are being conducted today for Julian A. Pollak, board chairman of the Pollak Steel Co. in nearby Evendale and a leader in Cincinnati reform politics.

Pollak, who started as a laborer in the family-operated steel mill after graduation from Cornell University in 1907, died in a hospital Friday after a long illness. He was 74.

A 140-pounder in college days, Pollak was a pint-sized quarterback on Cornell's first so-called Big Red football team of 1905.

Pollak helped form the Charter Party, a group of liberal Republicans and Democrats, nearly 40 years ago. The party still is active here. Pollak served two terms on the city council.

Jacoby Avoids Weak Two Bid

By OSWALD JACOBY
Written for
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

Here is another team of four hand that illustrates why the weak two bid is not used in the Jacoby-Smith system. The reason is that while such bids occasionally are valuable, all too frequently they help the opponents.

The bidding in the box is that at the first table. South almost failed to bid three hearts after West's opening weak two bid; almost but not quite. He knew that North was marked with a goodly amount of high card strength.

East won the opening club lead with the ace and returned the jack. South won with the king and saw that he had plenty of work ahead. He decided to start with the spade finesse. When that worked he cashed the ace of spades and discarded a club after East followed. Then he entered his hand with a trump; ruffed his last club with the ace of trumps in dummy; and played three rounds of trumps.

East was in with the ten and had to lead a diamond whereupon South had no trouble making two diamond tricks and his contract.

At the other table North opened with one spade in fourth seat. South responded two hearts; North bid three and South four. The same club was opened and while South might have made his contract without taking the spade finesse he just did not discover the right play and went down one.

Merger of Banks Study Is Urged

BUFFALO, N.Y. (AP)—Marine Midland Corp. says it will ask the Federal Reserve Board to reconsider its rejection of a proposed merger that would make the First National Bank and Trust Co. of Ithaca part of the Marine Midland System.

The Federal Reserve Board said the merger would hurt other banks in the Ithaca area.

The proposed merger had been approved by the New York State Banking Department.

In a letter released by Marine Midland Sunday, the Federal Reserve Board said the merger "would eliminate existing and potential competition between the two banks, and would inject into the banking situation in Ithaca a relatively large institution that could materially affect the future competitive capacity of the remaining bank in Ithaca and nearby banks."

The board said the merger would not be in the public interest.

Marine Midland denied that the merger would be a blow to competition. It said studies by the State Banking Department showed that, in similar mergers, business of the local's remaining independent banks was not affected.

Baldwin Maull, president of Marine Midland Corp., saie he would ask the federal board to review its decision.

The merger would have joined the Ithaca bank with the Marine Midland Trust Co. of Southern New York at Elmira. The group has deposits of approximately $136 million and total resources in excess of $156 million.

First National Bank and Trust Co. of Ithaca has deposits of approximately $25 million and total resources in excess of $27 million.

Search Continues For Two Fugitives

DADE CITY, Fla. (AP)—Only two of seven prisoners who hacked through a steel ceiling and escaped jail remained at large today.

They are Henry E. Debieu, 32, of Canton, N.Y., jailed on charges of car theft, grand larceny and arson, and Thomas Ward, 37, no permanent address, jailed for grand larceny.

Two brothers, Grover Bradshaw, 23, and Willie Bradshaw, 21, both of Lacoochee, Fla., were captured Saturday. Three others were captured earlier.

Railroad Retirement

A representative of the Railroad Retirement Board will be available for interviews at Central Post Office Building, 496 Broadway, Room 3 on Wednesday, April 12 from 10 a. m. to 4 p. m. He will assist the railroad worker, his wife, widow or survivors in retirement and will answer any inquiries in connection with railroad retirement and unemployment insurance acts.

Rectory Burglar Shot by Priest

DENVER, Colo. (AP)—Richard E. Sanders, 28, convicted burglar and narcotics violator, was shot to death Sunday night by a priest who surprised Sanders and a companion burglarizing a Roman Catholic church rectory.

Detective Capt. Roy Tangye said the Rt. Rev. Msgr. Delisle A. Lemieux, 59, may also have wounded the second burglar who ran from the St. Catherine's church rectory after Sanders was shot in the stomach. Sanders died on an operating table at Denver General Hospital.

Tangye said the priest, alone in the rectory, heard a noise in the dining room and armed himself with a 12-gauge shotgun and a .32-caliber revolver. He surprised the two men ransacking drawers of a dining room buffet containing silverware.

The burglars lunged at the priest and he fired once with the shotgun, striking Sanders, Tangye said. The second gunman wrestled the shotgun from the priest who grabbed it back, threw it to the floor and fired the revolver twice at the fleeing intruder.

Tail of the jumping mouse, which is about six inches long, makes up about two-thirds of the animal's total length.

Robbers Sought In Easter Theft

BUFFALO, N.Y. (AP) — Two holdup men waited an hour to see a suburban store manager in his office Saturday, then calmly walked in and robbed him of more than $20,000 in Easter shopping receipts.

The men taped Edward H. Salmon's eyes, mouth, hands and feet, then slipped through a thick crowd of shoppers and fled in an automobile.

The receipts, from Maxam's, a West Seneca department store, were in bags awaiting pickup by armored car when the holdup men struck. Only one of the men carried a gun, police said.

Services Arranged For Steel Official

CINCINNATI (AP) — Funeral services are being conducted today for Julian A. Pollak, board chairman of the Pollak Steel Co. in nearby Evendale and a leader in Cincinnati reform politics.

Pollak, who started as a laborer in the family-operated steel mill after graduation from Cornell University in 1907, died in a hospital Friday after a long illness. He was 74.

A 140-pounder in college days, Pollak was a pint-sized quarterback on Cornell's first so-called Big Red football team of 1905.

Pollak helped form the Charter Party, a group of liberal Republicans and Democrats, nearly 40 years ago. The party still is active here. Pollak served two terms on the city council.

Merger of Banks Study Is Urged

BUFFALO, N.Y. (AP)—Marine Midland Corp. says it will ask the Federal Reserve Board to reconsider its rejection of a proposed merger that would make the First National Bank and Trust Co. of Ithaca part of the Marine Midland System.

The Federal Reserve Board said the merger would hurt other banks in the Ithaca area.

The proposed merger had been approved by the New York State Banking Department.

In a letter released by Marine Midland Sunday, the Federal Reserve Board said the merger "would eliminate existing and potential competition between the two banks, and would inject into the banking situation in Ithaca a relatively large institution that could materially affect the future competitive capacity of the remaining bank in Ithaca and nearby banks."

The board said the merger would not be in the public interest.

Marine Midland denied that the merger would be a blow to competition. It said studies by the State Banking Department showed that, in similar mergers, business of the local's remaining independent banks was not affected.

Baldwin Maull, president of Marine Midland Corp., saie he would ask the federal board to review its decision.

The merger would have joined the Ithaca bank with the Marine Midland Trust Co. of Southern New York at Elmira. The group has deposits of approximately $136 million and total resources in excess of $156 million.

First National Bank and Trust Co. of Ithaca has deposits of approximately $25 million and total resources in excess of $27 million.

Search Continues For Two Fugitives

DADE CITY, Fla. (AP)—Only two of seven prisoners who hacked through a steel ceiling and escaped jail remained at large today.

They are Henry E. Debieu, 32, of Canton, N.Y., jailed on charges of car theft, grand larceny and arson, and Thomas Ward, 37, no permanent address, jailed for grand larceny.

Two brothers, Grover Bradshaw, 23, and Willie Bradshaw, 21, both of Lacoochee, Fla., were captured Saturday. Three others were captured earlier.

Railroad Retirement

A representative of the Railroad Retirement Board will be available for interviews at Central Post Office Building, 496 Broadway, Room 3 on Wednesday, April 12 from 10 a. m. to 4 p. m. He will assist the railroad worker, his wife, widow or survivors in retirement and will answer any inquiries in connection with railroad retirement and unemployment insurance acts.

The third white child born in what now is Vermont, Elizabeth Captive Johnson, got her middle name from the fact that her mother, Mrs. James Johnson, gave birth to her the night she was captured by Indians on Aug. 21, 1754.

Rectory Burglar Shot by Priest

DENVER, Colo. (AP)—Richard E. Sanders, 28, convicted burglar and narcotics violator, was shot to death Sunday night by a priest who surprised Sanders and a companion burglarizing a Roman Catholic church rectory.

Detective Capt. Roy Tangye said the Rt. Rev. Msgr. Delisle A. Lemieux, 59, may also have wounded the second burglar who ran from the St. Catherine's church rectory after Sanders was shot in the stomach. Sanders died on an operating table at Denver General Hospital.

Tangye said the priest, alone in the rectory, heard a noise in the dining room and armed himself with a 12-gauge shotgun and a .32-caliber revolver. He surprised the two men ransacking drawers of a dining room buffet containing silverware.

The burglars lunged at the priest and he fired once with the shotgun, striking Sanders, Tangye said. The second gunman wrestled the shotgun from the priest who grabbed it back, threw it to the floor and fired the revolver twice at the fleeing intruder.

Jacoby Avoids Weak Two Bid

By OSWALD JACOBY
Written for
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

Here is another team of four hand that illustrates why the weak two bid is not used in the Jacoby-Smith system. The reason is that while such bids occasionally are valuable, all too frequently they help the opponents.

The bidding in the box is that at the first table. South almost failed to bid three hearts after West's opening weak two bid; almost but not quite. He knew that North was marked with a goodly amount of high card strength.

East won the opening club lead with the ace and returned the jack. South won with the king and saw that he had plenty of work ahead. He decided to start with the spade finesse. When that worked he cashed the ace of spades and discarded a club after East followed. Then he entered his hand with a trump; ruffed his last club with the ace of trumps in dummy; and played three rounds of trumps.

East was in with the ten and had to lead a diamond whereupon South had no trouble making two diamond tricks and his contract.

At the other table North opened with one spade in fourth seat. South responded two hearts; North bid three and South four. The same club was opened and while South might have made his contract without taking the spade finesse he just did not discover the right play and went down one.

Today's Business Mirror

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK (AP)—Some workers are being called back to work. Many merchants and some manufacturers report an increase in sales and new orders. More stocks tend to rise in price than to fall in very active markets.

Does it add up to economic recovery? Will the second quarter of 1961, now starting, see the rebound from months of slack or disheartening decline?

Most observers think so. It's the time of year for optimism and also the point in the average recession for a turn about. But many of them warn that the business outlook now is—to use a term dear to stock market reporters—mixed and irregular.

Here is the scramble of official figures. With them, if you're a do-it-yourself adept, you can be your own soothsayer.

Rehiring Increases

Rehiring of workers is picking up a little while layoffs are less frequent. The average work week is a trifle longer. Some companies say they plan to build up work forces moderately in April or May. This may be only a drop in the bucket in the total of the jobless, reported in mid-February as 5.7 million persons, or 6.8 per cent of the labor force.

Auto production is due to rise a bit as some furloughed workers are being recalled.

Industrial production dropped in February to 102.0 per cent of the 1957 base period from 102.4 in January. This was so slight that most economists accepted it as the bottoming out of a long slide from the record 111 early in 1960.

Sales, New Orders Up

February also saw manufacturers' sales up 1 per cent from January, although 10 per cent below the year ago figure. New orders were up 2 per cent in the month, but still trailing the previous year by 7 per cent. Stocks on hand slipped a trifle lower in January.

Retail trade, helped by an early Easter, topped March 1960 and were about the same as 1959. For the year to date department store sales are 3 per cent ahead of 1960.

Some of the figures tilt to the downside still.

More business firms have been folding, but total liabilities have dropped a bit of late. Nine out of ten bankruptcy suits filed in federal courts are personal, however, and a record 114,156 were filed in 1960.

Freight Leads Trail

Rail freight loadings so far this year are trailing last by 15.8 per cent and the roads predict the second quarter will see a 5.6 per cent lag from a year ago. These were once a weightier business indicator than today.

Manufacturing profits as a whole are down from a year ago, although the rate of decline is slower than some months back. Many industries still have lots of unused production capacity. Even more report that wage and salary costs are still rising.

Tastier fare for the optimists are these figures:

Farm prices in mid-March were one per cent higher than last year.

Building Shows Gain

Industrial and commercial building contracts have risen a little and a modest improvement is noted in housing. Forecasts of business spending on building and equipment call for a 3 per cent rise from 1960.

Exports of American goods, services and farm products in February were seven per cent above the year ago figure. Bankers report the first stirring in demand for more loans to businessmen.

Machine tool orders are closely watched for signs that business is going to spend more in anticipation of advancing activity. Although still well below a year ago, orders rose in February.

Industrial raw material prices also often rise when business starts to revive. They've been creeping up for some time now.

Finally there's a rise in government spending, with more expected. This is designed to prime the pump a bit. Some fear it will also set off more inflation.

So—most economists say recovery's on the way. Only a few say, wait and see.

DO YOU REMEMBER

By SOPHIE MILLER

In spite of all the snow and ice that may still be around in patches here and there, several of my saffron colored crocuses bravely pushed themselves out through the snow and opened up to greet the spring sunshine.

I think there is nothing more beautiful nor the aroma more delicious than our Ulster County lilacs. Remember when we used to bring them to school, in the days of intimate little school houses. Sometimes the teacher would remove the lilacs from the room because she thought the aroma made us sleepy. Perhaps we were just deamy because spring had finally arrived. Walking to and from school, watching everyone's garden from spring into summer blooms was a delightful part of my growing up during my school days and brings back pleasant memories to this day. The sight of a robin listening for the worm, and the sound of a strange bird in the tree tops somewhere, was part of our fun.

Of course there is nothing more wonderful than modern education, hi-fi, TV, school buses and science which can take us in time to the moon, except when it doesn't work and you have to call in a repair man. Before the days of radio and TV we had places like the Orpheum Theatre, downtown, corner Broadway and Spring Street. Twice a week the vaudeville acts were changed. Many of the actors who stayed at the Mansion House, Broadway and Strand, would buy their Miner's powders and make-up in my father's drug store, then at 46 Broadway. Actors in those days traveled by train. They were quiet, polite and often sad. They did their acting on the stage. My father made friends with some, and often they stopped in the same restaurant after their snow as we did after my father closed the store. Sometimes they sat with us.

I remember my father had great respect for acrobats as he knew they had to spend hours working out smooth acts and always practiced. But it seems it was also the comedian or singer of silly songs, with a straw "Katy" and cane who received the applause. My father would make me applaud with him for the acts he knew really 'worked.' Later he would talk to some of them about it, and some even mentioned that they noticed the direction of the applause. I see that even to this day, the relaxed crooner will get a bigger hand than an act that has trained for years, like a tight-rope walker or tumblers.

The piano players at the Orpheum were also talented for they could take a sheet of music, sometimes hand-written and play for all sorts of acts.

How they ever learned to read music like that I'll never know. They also had to turn over the pages themselves. My father had no respect for a piano player who could only play by ear, although some are positively wonderful, they can transpose at will. I do not know where the piano players are going to come from in this generation because there are so few taking piano lessons.

In my day, every girl had to take piano lessons, and boys usually played the violin. Lessons every week and we had to know how to read music. These lessons, the sheet music and the piano was paid for by parents, and they usually met you after school with, "Now go and practice."

Back in 1915 we had the Bijou Theatre at 326 Wall Street, The Broadway Aerodrome at East O'Reilly Street, The Broadway Casino (moving pictures) at 521 Broadway. The famous Kingston Opera House at 285 Fair Street, The Lyric on the Strand, The Star at 562 Broadway, besides the Orpheum.

Tax Information Available by Phone

The use of the telephone as a means of obtaining quickly and accurately, information needed to help taxpayers complete their 1960 federal income tax returns, was advised today by local district director James A. O'Hara.

Taxpayers should have the returns on hand and the facts in mind before the call is made. The call will get quick attention except perhaps during the lunch hour when most calls come in.

Phone information service is available at many local revenue offices including Kingston, Monday and Friday from 9 a. m. to 4 p. m. during the current filing period.

In-person help will still be provided at most revenue offices to taxpayers who require more extensive help than can be given by phone. The Kingston office is in the Central Post Office Building.

State Building Code Revision Copies Available

A revised edition of the portion of the State Building Construction Code applicable to general building construction is currently being distributed by the New York State Division of Housing, it was announced today by Housing Commissioner James William Gaynor.

The new edition marks the first revision of this portion of the code since it was promulgated on February 20, 1956, by the former State Building Code Commission. These revisions bring the standards for general building construction into conformity with the other portions of the code dealing with one and two-family dwellings, multiple residences and plumbing standards, all of which have been revised since 1958.

Three free copies of the 193-page publication are being forwarded to each of the 345 communities which have voluntarily accepted applicability of the State Code. Additional copies are available at nominal cost from the New York State Division of Housing, State Building Code Bureau, 270 Broadway, New York 7.

Miss Anne Eleanor Thomas, Walden Resident Exchange Vows at St. James Church March25

MRS. EDWARD W. PULVER

Exchanging nuptial vows in double ring ceremonies at St. James Methodist Church at 2 p. m. Saturday, March 25, were Miss Anne Eleanor Thomas, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward B. Thomas of 106 Madison Avenue, and Edward Wallace Pulver, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward N. Pulver of 43 Ulster Avenut, Walden.

The Rev. C. Pershing Hunter, pastor, officiated. Traditional wedding selections were played by Raymond C. Corey, organist. Arrangements of white gladioli decorated the church for the occasion.

Escorted in marriage by her father, the bride wore a floor length gown of organza, styled with a fitted bodice, Sabrina neckline of Chantilly lace and long pointed sleeves. The bouffant skirt was trimmed with lace appliques. Her queen crown of seed pearls and sequins secured a three-tier veil of French illusion and she carried a cascade of white carnations.

Miss Dianne Thomas was maid of honor for her sister in a floor length gown of turquoise net over taffeta fashioned with a fitted bodice and bouffant skirt. Her headpiece was a matching band of nylon and seed pearls and she carried a cascade of yellow carnations.

Bridesmaid, Miss Betty Baker of Sawkill, a cousin of the bride, was gowned in yellow organza over taffeta styled with a fitted bodice and bouffant. Her matching headpiece secured a short veil and she carried a cascade of turquoise carnations.

Ralph Warren of Montgomery was best man. Ushers were John Payne, a cousin of the bridegroom and Donald Bennett, brother-in-law of the bridegroom, both of Walden.

A reception for 50 guests followed at the Governor Clinton Hotel.

For a wedding trip through the New England States, the bride chose a black and white checked suit with black accessories and a red rose corsage. Upon their return the couple will be at home at 238 Flatbush Avenue, this city.

The former Miss Thomas is a graduate of Kingston High School and attended Russell Sage College. She is employed in the dietry department at Benedictine Hospital.

Mr. Pulver, a graduate of Walden High School, served in the U. S. Air Force. He is employed at Interstate Bag Company of Walden.

Town of Rosendale Auxiliary Formed To Assist Firemen

The newly formed Ladies Auxiliary of the Firemen's Association of the Town of Rosendale held its second meeting last week at the Tillson Firehouse.

The combined fire companies of Tillson, Rosendale, Cottekill, Binnewater and Bloomington have been training the group to give emergency assistance to any of the fire companies in the town. The auxiliary staff is set up to serve hot coffee, soup and sandwiches in case of emergencies. Base telephone numbers alert members.

The auxiliary has been trained in proper operation of Citizen Band Trans-Receiver, thus relieving volunteer firemen by sending or receiving messages between fire trucks or firehouses.

Meetings held every month present valuable information for preservation of home and community. New members may attend the next meeting scheduled at the Cottekill Firehouse April 25 at 8 p. m.

Two Kingston Girls Enter Page One Queen Competition Slated May 6 at Wiltwyck CC

Two more young ladies, both of Kingston, have filed applications for the sixth annual Page One Queen competition which will be held at the Wiltwyck Country Club Saturday afternoon, May 6.

They are:

Elaine Schryver, 18, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Schryver of 74 Abruyn Street, a 1960 graduate of Kingston High School.

Mary Chambers, 17, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Kenneth Chambers of 13 Russell Street, a KHS senior.

This brings to six the number of contestants which have filed to date for the dramatic Page One Queen competitions.

Miss Schryver, who joined the staff of The Freeman this month, is interested in learning as much about newspaper work as she possibly can, she reports. She is employed in the business office.

A graduate of Kingston High School, Miss Schryver lists music, dancing and swimming among her hobbies.

While in high school she served as vice president of the Radio Club. She collects record albums, putting ballads and popular tunes at the head of the list.

A light blonde with blue eyes, Miss Schryver stands five feet two inches in height and weighs 108 pounds.

He father is employed by the Poughkeepsie plant of IBM. She has two married sisters, Mrs. Beverly Ziros and Mrs. Dolores Delamateo, both of Kingston, and a married brother, John Schryver, also of Kingston.

Miss Chambers, who is sponsored by Mrs. Vere Nessel, accordionist and musician of Kingston and Woodstock, is a member of the Tri-Hi Club at the YWCA. Sponsorship is not required of entries, but is permissible.

She is a member of Prisma, a KHS sorority, and was high sales girl in her junior year when she sold more than $100 worth of magazine subscriptions. She also sold more than $60 worth in her sophomore year—and this year, is a senior.

She is calendar editor for the 1960-61 Maroon staff, works part-time at IBM under the cooperative plan. Miss Chambers is also a soprano in the Kingston High School a cappella choir and is a member of the choir of the Evangelical Lutheran Church of the Redeemer.

Her interests are modeling, in particular. She modeled in the YWCA's girl fashion show at the Kingston Hotel. She was winner of the "Miss Sundown" contest at the Community Theatre in January of this year.

Among her hobbies she lists accordion playing, reading and ice skating. She is five feet five and a half inches tall and weighs 112 pounds.

The queen and her two attendants will be selected by a panel of five judges in competition which will begin at 2 p. m. Saturday, May 6, continuing until about 5 p. m.

The queen and her attendants will reign at the Page One Ball Saturday evening, May 13, also at Wiltwyck, at which time the queen will be crowned in dramatic ceremonies, presented with a silver loving cup, souvenirs and other tokens and gifts, including a $50 Savings Bond.

The queen will also be the recipient of other outstanding honors which will be announced in the near future.

Other contestants who have filed entries to date:

Elaine Gordon, 17, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert J. Gordon of 82 Rock City Road, Woodstock.

Suzi Jurgensen, 16, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Goodrich of Woodstock.

Barbara DiBenedetto, 17, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Vito DiBenedetto of 37 Overlook Drive, Woodstock.

Lorraine Rowe, 19, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Rowe of the Stuyvesant-Kingston Hotel.

The queen and her attendants will be selected, as in the past, on the basis of poise and personality as well as beauty. They may wear evening gowns or cocktail dresses. There is no bathing suit contest or talent competition.

Proceeds of the ball will be used to provide for continuation of the Guild's annual scholarship to a deserving Ulster County high school senior and to provide also for a Children's Vacation Fund which will send five needy children in the area to a summer camp for two weeks each.

Entries in the Page One Queen contest must be residents of the county, single and between 16 and 24. Girls desiring application blanks may write to Miss Joan Woinoski, Page One Queen Committee, Box 153, Rondout Station, Kingston, or submit the following information by mail:

Name, address, telephone number, parents' names and address, date of birth, schools attended, activities, interests, honors, hobbies and other pertinent details.

The Mature Parent

BY MRS. MURIEL LAWRENCE

Don't Intrude When Child Signals Need for Privacy

At dinner Eddie accepted a second serving of roast lamb with such disinterest that it struck his mother. "What's the matter wth the child?" she wondered. "Maybe he's coming down with something. Something is wrong. It isn't like him to go straight to his room the minute he gets home from school the way he did this afternoon, either."

But apparently Eddie wasn't coming down with anything. His throat didn't hurt; his head didn't ache; no, he didn't feel hot anywhere. However, the usual impatience with which he answered these questions was so subdued that his father noticed it.

Then Eddie rejected his father's offer of his newspaper's comic page on the grounds that he had arithmetic homework to do. Really concerned, his father said, "Something wrong, Ed?" But his child merely shook his head and went upstairs.

At breakfast the next morning, he was as uncommunicative as ever. When he ignored his father's greeting, that parent spoke suddenly and decisively. He said, "OK. Ed's got something on his mind. But it's not on my mind. I'm hungry. I feel fine. I want a fine breakfast and two more slices of this bacon and toast."

The spell was broken. After a minute, Eddie called out to his mother, "Me, too, ma. I want more bacon, too."

His parents never learned the cause of his abstraction.

Like us, children are often subjected to confusing experiences. Like us, they then withdraw into themselves to try and digest these experiences. They stop talking; they seek solitude; their interest turns inward instead of outward. Though we are entitled to show our readiness for their confidence at these times, we are not entitled to try and force it.

A child's unspoken or spoken demand for privacy at these times is trust of himself.

If we pursue him with anxious insistence that he share his confusion with us, we suggest that he cannot clarify it alone. We interfere with the process of his emotional digestion—and he will not thank us for it. In our oversolicitude, he senses our suspicion that it will not function — and becomes afraid himself that he can't work out problems without us. As a result he may turn on us with the savage demand.

"Aw, for cryin' out loud, leave me alone!"

Miss Anne Eleanor Thomas, Walden Resident Exchange Vows at St. James Church March25

Exchanging nuptial vows in double ring ceremonies at St. James Methodist Church at 2 p. m. Saturday, March 25, were Miss Anne Eleanor Thomas, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward B. Thomas of 106 Madison Avenue, and Edward Wallace Pulver, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward N. Pulver of 43 Ulster Avenut, Walden.

The Rev. C. Pershing Hunter, pastor, officiated. Traditional wedding selections were played by Raymond C. Corey, organist. Arrangements of white gladioli decorated the church for the occasion.

Escorted in marriage by her father, the bride wore a floor length gown of organza, styled with a fitted bodice, Sabrina neckline of Chantilly lace and long pointed sleeves. The bouffant skirt was trimmed with lace appliques. Her queen crown of seed pearls and sequins secured a three-tier veil of French illusion and she carried a cascade of white carnations.

Miss Dianne Thomas was maid of honor for her sister in a floor length gown of turquoise net over taffeta fashioned with a fitted bodice and bouffant skirt. Her headpiece was a matching band of nylon and seed pearls and she carried a cascade of yellow carnations.

Bridesmaid, Miss Betty Baker of Sawkill, a cousin of the bride, was gowned in yellow organza over taffeta styled with a fitted bodice and bouffant. Her matching headpiece secured a short veil and she carried a cascade of turquoise carnations.

Ralph Warren of Montgomery was best man. Ushers were John Payne, a cousin of the bridegroom and Donald Bennett, brother-in-law of the bridegroom, both of Walden.

A reception for 50 guests followed at the Governor Clinton Hotel.

For a wedding trip through the New England States, the bride chose a black and white checked suit with black accessories and a red rose corsage. Upon their return the couple will be at home at 238 Flatbush Avenue, this city.

The former Miss Thomas is a graduate of Kingston High School and attended Russell Sage College. She is employed in the dietry department at Benedictine Hospital.

Mr. Pulver, a graduate of Walden High School, served in the U. S. Air Force. He is employed at Interstate Bag Company of Walden.

MRS. JOHN RECK

Miss Helen M. Grunenwald and John Reck Wed Easter Sunday at St. Peter's Church

Miss Helen Marie Grunenwald of 19 Henry Street and John Reck of 15 West Chestnut Street were wed Easter Sunday, April 2, at 2:30 p. m. at St. Peter's Church. The Rt. Rev. Msgr. Joseph D. Ostermann, pastor, officiated at the double ring ceremony.

Easter lilies and palms decorated the church and white satin bows marked the family pews. Miss Nan Goldrick was organist. Soloist Richard Scherer sang Panis Angelicus, Veni Jesus, O Sanctissima and Ave Maria.

The bride is the daughter of Charles Grunenwaid of 35 Tietjen Avenue and late Catherine Connelly Grunenwald and niece of Mr. and Mrs. Louis Arace with whom she resided. Mr. Reck is the son of Mrs. Margareta Reck of 886 Park Avene, River Edge, N. J., and Johann Reck of Burk, Germany.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride chose a princess style gown of white silk organza with a fitted bodice, long tapered sleeves and a circlet neckline embroidered with hand clipped Alencon lace. The full skirt swept back into a chapel length circular train. Her wide French illusion veil MISS HELEN M. Grunenwald 2 was shirred to a double crown of waxed orange blossoms and she carried cascade of white carnations and statice arranged with tulle.

Maid of honor for her sister was Miss Catherine Grunenwald of 42 Adams Street. She was attired in a gown of pervanche blue sheer organza styled with a draped bodice and a waltz length skirt. A cummerbund of matching silk satin terminated in a back bow. She wore a bandeau of rolled petals, pearl tipped, with a tulle flirtation veil and carried a crescent bouquet of mellow pink carnations.

Bridesmaids were the Misses Helen Flynn and Joan Ferguson, cousins of the bride and the Misses Mary and Lucille Leirey, all of Kingston. Their ballet blue gowns were identical in style to the honor attendant's. They carried crescents of dark rose pink carnations.

Frank Seelmann of New Paltz was best man for his cousin. Ushers were Fred Sohnlein of Poughkeepsie, George Sohnlein of River Edge, N. J., and Joseph Sohnlein of Bronx, all cousins of the bridegroom and Robert Grunenwald of Kingston, brother of the bride.

A reception for 125 guests was held at the Tropical Inn, Port Ewen, after the ceremony.

After a wedding trip to Washington, D. C., and Virginia, the couple will make their home at 15 West Chestnut Street, this city. For traveling the bride chose a royal blue dress with a rose flowered hat and a corsage of white cymbidium orchids.

The bride is a graduate of St. Peter's and Kingston High School and Moran Spencerian Business School. She was employed as a bookkeeper by Skyline Manufacturing Company.

Mr. Reck is employed by Rubin Construction Company. He received his education in Burk Germany.

WELL CHAPERONED

Q: I am 18 years old, a freshman in college. A young man I have been dating for some time has invited me to go with his church group to an important church affair in another state. I know many of the members of the group quite well, and the young people will be chaperoned by two married couples. However, since this will involve spending the night at a motel my father says I can't go as my reputation would be endangered. Please give me your opinion?

A: The church group and two married couples should be chaperones enough to allay your father's fears, and will secure your good reputation against any attack.

An Unmarried Mother's Problem

Q: I have never been married, but have a daughter aged 21 who has just become engaged, and I am very troubled over the correct wording of the newspaper announcement and also the wording of the wedding invitations. Since I have never been married, I cannot use Mrs., and Miss seems all wrong and only tends to emphasize the situation. Will you please help me as I do not want to do anything that will cause comment.

A: The only thing to do is to leave your name out entirely and for the newspapers say, "The angagement of Miss Mary Smith of such and such a street is announced to Mr. John Jones of such and such a place." The weddng invitations could be worded as follows:

The honour of your presence is requested
at the marriage of Miss Mary Smith to Mr. John Jones

While He Pays the Check

Q: When I am having dinner in a restaurant with a man, where am I supposed to stand to wait for him while he pays the check?

A: You walk slowly towards the door and wait, exactly as you do when he goes to the box office to buy theater tickets.

Health for All

The Sneeze Menace

You could practically go into orbit on the propulsive power of a sneeze. Research shows that a cough or sneeze shoots out germ-laden droplets at a rate of 150 feet a second. The larger droplets usually travel for about five feet before they fall to the ground. They've been known to hit the 12-foot mark, though. Small droplets float onwards and upwards for hours.

Many illnesses, including the common cold, flu, pneumonia, and tuberculosis, are spread from person to person by jet-propelled germs in somebody's careless cough or sneeze.

It is possible to have an infectious illness without knowing it. So — anytime you feel a cough or sneeze coming on, whip out a tissue and cover your mouth and nose. A handkerchief will do as well, though it seems silly to put germs back in your pocket. Paper tissues are best, but don't forget to dispose of them.

Use the same method to protect yourself if you see someone about to cough or sneeze in your direction.

If you catch cold, don't pester your doctor for an antibiotic. It won't do any good. You can keep yourself comfortable with nose drops, aspirin, and cough syrup. But if fever lasts more than three days, or you are short of breath or have a persistent cough, see your doctor at once.

Tackle Shop, Reub's in Semi-Final Cage Tourney Clash

Cold, Miserable Conditions on 1st Weekend of Trout Season

Conditions on the first weekend of trout fishing in this area were described as "fair to poor" by most of the anglers, who had to brave a combination of wet and cold weather in an attempt to hook their limit of ten. Reports throughout the area were that very few were lucky enough to get their limit the first couple days of the season.

Carroll Morris, who operates a bait shop on the Onteora Trail, said that many of the anglers complained of the cold and wet weather. The water in most of the streams was high and there were many places which were bare of fishermen.

A spokesman for the Conservation office said a tour of many key spots over the weekend was conducted and for the most part, the fishermen who were out complained of the cold water and of the generally miserable weather.

There were icy conditions reported in many places, especially around the Reservoir area. In fact, it snowed on more than one occasion over the weekend and the temperatures overnight dipped below freezing in some areas. Those conditions are not conducive to good fishing.

Those anglers who had an unlucky weekend have one consolation. The season runs until Sept. 30 and things have to get better. After the opening weekend, they couldn't get any worse, at least in the minds of a good many fishermen.

The best catch reported was by a trio of local nimrods — Charles Senor and Roland Augustine and son, who caught four rainbows and one brown, ranging from 17 to 20 inches, near Phoenicia. There were two males and two females among the rainbows. The catch was made within an hour.

Week-Long YMCA Life Saving Class Started Today

YMCA spring life saving course started this morning in the Y swimming pool at 9 a. m. and will continue every morning this week until Friday noon, General Secretary Louis H. Schafer said today.

There are 35 boys and girls registered. Lester L. Lawrence, an instructor at MJM Junior High School and Russell Henze, a student at Fredonia State Teachers College and the assistant YMCA Day Camp director will be the instructors. Both men are qualified and registered life saving instructors.

The swimmers will be given instruction three hours each day for five days, thus giving each the required 15 hours of instruction. Friday will be devoted to the final tests. Tuesday and Thursday mornings between 11 o'clock and noon there will be resuscitation. The new mouth-to-mouth resuscitation and the Neilson method will be taught.

The morning class started with each removing heavy clothing in deep water. Each swimmer was required to remove their shoes, long pants and a pull-over shirt so as to give freedom of motion before swimming 100 yards as the firm form of safety in life saving.

Also, all life saving strokes were taught along with surface diving. Each boy and girl must master 19 different water safety skills including the many styles of life saving approaches and the various ways of carrying a non-swimmer or one in distress. Those passing the tests will be qualified for the YMCA Life Saving and the American Life Saving Service. Each will be presented with a badge and certificate.

Dressen Confident Braves' Pitchers Will Do the Job

By JO EREICHLER
Associated Press Sports Writer

BRADENTON, Fla. (AP) — Painfully aware that his Milwaukee Braves must have a top flight relief pitcher for an all-out battle for the National League pennant, Manager Charlie Dressen has just about decided to send Lew Burdette, his right-handed starting ace, to the bullpen.

The Braves did something about relief help last Friday, obtaining two question mark hurlers, Moe Drabowsky and Seth Morehead, from the Chicago Cubs for surplus infielders Andre Rogers and farmhand Daryl Robertson.

But he still could fall back on Burdette for relief work.

Their pitching staff, once their greatest asset, may have been weakened by winter trades to plug holes at second base and shortstop. Starter Joey Jay and Juan Pizarro went to Cincinnati and the White Sox, respectively, and relief pitcher Terry Fox went to Detroit. Ironically, Fox has won the No.1 relief job with the Tigers.

The Braves unquestionably strengthened themselves at second and short with the acquisition of Frank Bolling from Detroit and Roy McMillan from Cincinnati but they left themselves without an established center fielder when they gave up Bill Bruton to the Tigers.

No Pessimism Here

"We're not as badly off in the outfield as some people think." said Dressen. "I've got three center fielders, any one of whom can do the job. John Demerit has improved tremendously. Al Spangler won't embarass you in the field and he'll get on base even if he doesn't hit the long ball. The other is Felix Mantilla, who has been switched from the infield."

Lee Maye apparently has beaten out the late-reporting Wes Covington for the left field berth. Milwaukee has the best right fielder in baseball in Henry Aaron.

The Braves are overloaded with infielders. With Joe Adcock at first, Bolling at second, McMillan at short and Eddie Mathews at third. It may be the best infield in the league.

Del Crandall, baseball's No. 1 catcher, will handle virtually all the work behind the plate although Charley Lau will be around if needed.

Dressen scoffed at any mention of a pitching shortage — aside from weakness in the bullpen.

"You won't find a better top three anywhere then we've got (Warren Spahn 21-10, Burdette 19-13) and Bob Buhl 16-9)," he challenged.

Springfield, Hershey Near Hockey Finals

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The pennant-winning Springfield Indians and the Hershey Bears needed just one victory each today to push into the finals of the American Hockey League Calder Cup playoffs.

Both teams whipped into 3-0 semifinal leads Sunday. The Indians crushed the Cleveland Barons, 4-1 and the Bears blasted the Buffalo Bisons, 5-1.

The fourth game of the Springfield-Cleveland series is scheduled for tomorrow night in Cleveland. The Bears and Bisons play their fourth game in Buffalo Wednesday.

Springfield scored three times in less than three minutes in the bloody second period to break a 1-1 tie and coast in the rest of the way.

During that session, Moe Matha of Cleveland and Ted Harris of Springfield became embroiled in a fight. Matha emerged with a broken nose. Then Springfield's Kent Douglas was separated from six teeth when he was bashed by an errant stick.

The Bears led 2-0 after one period and 4-0 after two. Ray Kinaswewich paced the winners with two goals.

High School Senior Sets Swimming Mark

NEW HAVEN, Conn. (AP) — The nation's short-distance swimming hopes were pinned today on the capable shoulders of Steve Clark, an 18-year-old high school senior from Los Altos, Calif.

Clark staked a solid claim to being the world's fastest swimmer by winning the 100 yards freestyle in an incredible 46.8 seconds Saturday night in the Amateur Athletic Union's (AAU) indoor championship at Yale.

During the three-day meet, national records tumbled in 13 of the 14 swimming events. American marks were eclipsed in all seven finals Saturday night.

The team title went to Southern Cal with 74 points. The New Haven S. C. was second with 44½ and the New Trier S. C. third with 21.

Teams to Meet 7:15 on Tuesday At the Auditorium

Pine Plains, McLean's Slated to Collide In 8:30 Feature

It will be youth against experience tomorrow night at the Kingston Municipal auditorium when Ray's Tackle Shop of Kingston collides with Reub's Five in a semi-final game of the eighth annual Kingston Basketball tournament.

The contest between the local clubs will begin at 7:15 and at 8:30 the Pine Plains Bombardiers will zero in on McLean's Well Drillers of Germantown in an other semi-final game. The losers will play on Sunday at 7:15 with the championship tussle listed to start at 8:30.

The Tackle Shop, which won the playoff championship in the City league, has added several players for the tournament and it rates a solid favorite to turn back its youthful opponent.

Ward Dunham's cagers were impressive in toppling a good Rhinebeck club last week. The roster includes Ronnie Scheffel, Jo Klonowski, Leo Corkery, Marty Kaye, George Carpouzis, Chick Boice, Gary Barnes, Champ Holstein and Bob Bondar.

Good Team Balance

In the 87-51 win over Rhinebeck, Carpouzis accounted for 22 points, Boice and Klonowski had 15 each and Scheffel tallied 14 in addition to doing his usual playmaking job. As the figures show, balance is the keynote of the club's success. Each of the starters can hit in double figures and Scheffel and Kaye handle the backcourt role in good fashion.

Reub's Five was also impressive in its 84-63 win over Middletown and the club will be strengthened on Tuesday when Bob Litwiller, former Beloit college star, gets into action. He had to work last week.

Litwiller will join Joe Uhl, Harry Pratt, Don Longobardi, Pat McKenna, Jim Gordon, Leo Armstead, John Halik, Mike Ferraro, Art Gribbins and Vince Smedes in the lineup.

Uhl and Pratt did most of the scoring against Middletown and Gordon was a bearcat on the backboards. Pratt was particularly impressive when the score was close and on more than one occasion he came up with important buckets. Uhl had his jump shot working to perfection as he led both clubs in scoring.

Bombardiers Favored

The second contest figures to be a romp for the Bombardiers. Germantown will be without the services of Chuck Ropes, Jim Hubble and Bob Martin, who were forced to sit the bench most of the way against Morgan Fuel. Without that trio of aces on tap, it doesn't figure to be close.

George Stuetzle hopes to have Bill Smith, the St. Peter's college star on hand. Ted Dwyer, former Columbia ace and now a pre med student, is also on the roster. They will be joined by Garry Mendez, Charlie and Deke Johnson, Jack Curry, Gerry Anderson, Billy James, Art Atkins.

Off past performances, it figures to be Pine Plains and Ray's Tackle Shop in the finals. But anything can happen and the crowd tomorrow night figures to be the best of the tourney to date.

14 Pass Boatman's Safety Course Sponsored by KPBA

Fourteen young area boating enthusiasts have succesfuly completed and passed the New York State Young Boatman's Safety Course sponsored by the State Conservation Department Division of Motor Boats, in conjunction with the Kingston Power Boat Association.

The successful young people who pased the examination and received their safety boating certifications in the course entitled "Make Sure, Make Shore" are:

Stephen Le Fevre, Neil LeFevre, Hurley; Cheryl Ann Jonescu, Robert Playford, David Simpson, Vernon Hul, Kingston; Alfie Bogart, New Paltz; Billy Barth, Grant Dunham, James Potter, Stirling Potter, Port Ewen; Ward Borcherdt, Tommy Wanning, Margaret Wanning, Ulster Landing.

This is the second class conducted by members of the Kingston Power Boat Association at their club rooms on Abeel Street since the first of the year. A third class is already formed and the first session will start Wednesday, April 12, at 7:30 p. m. at the Kingston Power Boat Association with Cleon Jump, Charles Kohl and Joseph Huber, who are certified instructors for the Conservation Department, conducting the classes and examination which follows.

Deadline January 1

As of January 1, all youngsters between the ages of 10 through 14 must take and pass this course in order to operate any mechanically propelled boat on the waters of New York State. Those children who receive their safety certificate receives from the Conservation Department in Albany a waterproofed card which they must carry with them at all times when operating a boat when no adult is aboard just as one carries an operator's license to drive a car.

With the sport of boating ever increasing, there cannot be too much emphasis put on the proper and safe way to operate mechanically propelled craft. That is why New York State enacted this law requiring young boatmen to pass this safety course to make them more safety conscious, learn the boating laws and in general respect other boats on the waterways.

All material for the course is furnished by the Conservation Deprtment at no cost to those youngsters desiring to get their certificates. Parents are welcome to sit in on the lectures along with their children, but only the youngsters may keep the course manual from which they study at the conclusion of the examination. Anyone wishing further information about these courses may contact Cleon Jump, Port Ewen.

Barber Winner In Azalea Open

WILMINGTON, N.C. (AP) — Jerry Barber and Chandler Harper, a pair of pappy guy golfers bound for the Masters Tournament opening Thursday at Augusta, Ga., mastered the youngsters here Sunday.

They survived a gruelling 36-hole final day in a tie for first place in the 54-hole $1,000 Azalea tourney and then played a sudden-death extra hole. Barber won with a par four. They had tied at 213, three under par.

The victory was worth $1,206 to the 137-pound, 5-7 veteran from Los Angeles, who will be 45 this month. Harper, who is 47, pocketed $1,006.

On the extra hole Barber unfurled a great drive, got on in two; 35 feet from the pin and made his par, the last putt from 4½ feet. Harper missed the green to the left whith his second, chipped up eight feet short and missed his putt.

George Knudson, Canadian pro from Toronto, closed with 68-70 for a 215 total. He tied with Dow Finsterwald, first day leader from Jupiter, Fla., and Tom Nieporte, defending champion from Bronxville, N.Y., each won $806.

Pischke Dead; Ex-ABC Prexy

WEST BEND, Wis. (AP)— Art Pischke, 67, a former president and long-time leader in the American Bowling Congress, died early Sunday. He suffered a cerebral hemorrhage Saturday night.

Pischke, a West Bend businessman, served as president of the ABC in 1957. He had been a member of the board since 1943.

APTITUDE TEST—Skidding a speedy runabout is a quick test for proper performance. Like a sports car, she should corner under control. If she flips and flings you out, she flunks and you swim, which is not the purpose at all.

Buyers Should Study Boat's Personality

By WM. TAYLOR McKEOWN
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

Personality is part of a boat. Old-time sailors long ago decided the sailing ship had a woman's temperament and called her "she" accordingly. Today's power and sail pleasure craft have behavior traits too, and need equal pampering from the prudent skipper.

A small fast power boat, particularly, requires the boatman to learn her characteristics and run her with the careful skill that is called seamanship. For the novice looking for a new boat this spring and the old sailor re-checking the performance of his boat as well, here are six quick tests that we find can help reveal how temperamental a hull may be:

Study her appearance. Narrow width aand shallow draft like a canoe, can indicate a hull that is fast but may tip easily. A good look at the lines of a new boat comes first.

Next, step aboard and test how tender she may be. If she tips easily, your equipment aboard must be placed to keep her level and passengers should be seated along the center line and kept sitting down.

Then let someone else run the boat while you watch her perform. At normal speeds she should provide a level ride without the bow lifting high or plowing deep in the water. A change in outboard motor angle or position of passengers can usually correct this.

Now run her yourself. Does she slap the waves and pound as she meets them, or tend to porpoise up and down? Ballast shifts, again, may correct this if the hull design is basically sound.

Slow the boat as if you suddenly saw a log ahead. Does a following wave try to crawl aboard with you? Be certain that your transom cutout and that the outboard well will prevent sudden swamping from astern. Otherwise, make a note as well to stay away from exposed waters and higher speeds.

Turns can be your commencement exercise for simple hull performance. A planing hull may lean into a turn or skid around it, but she should not try to swap ends or trip and throw you out of the boat. Nearly any small hull can flip at high speeds in violent maneuvers.

By running tests such as these you can learn the feel of a boat, and what you can safely try with her. Even a beginner can soon tell if she is a boat he would want to buy.

Donnelly Seeks 27th Ring Win

BUFFALO, N.Y. (AP) — Fast-punching Jackie Donnelly of Buffalo seeks hs 27th victory in 28 fights here tonight, meeting veteran Tommy Tibbs of Boston in a 10-round lightweight battle.

Tibbs, the New England lightweight champion, has lost 53 of 108 professional fights, but holds victories over Willie Pep, Larry Boardman, Ike Chestnut, Chico Rollins, Lauro Salas and Harold Gomes.

Donnelly's only loss was to Bobby Scanlon of Buffalo when the two fought for the New York State lightweight championship here last year.

A companion 10-rounder brings together middleweights Rocky Fumerelle of Buffalo and Joey White of New York City.

Cold, Miserable Conditions on 1st Weekend of Trout Season

Conditions on the first weekend of trout fishing in this area were described as "fair to poor" by most of the anglers, who had to brave a combination of wet and cold weather in an attempt to hook their limit of ten. Reports throughout the area were that very few were lucky enough to get their limit the first couple days of the season.

Carroll Morris, who operates a bait shop on the Onteora Trail, said that many of the anglers complained of the cold and wet weather. The water in most of the streams was high and there were many places which were bare of fishermen.

A spokesman for the Conservation office said a tour of many key spots over the weekend was conducted and for the most part, the fishermen who were out complained of the cold water and of the generally miserable weather.

There were icy conditions reported in many places, especially around the Reservoir area. In fact, it snowed on more than one occasion over the weekend and the temperatures overnight dipped below freezing in some areas. Those conditions are not conducive to good fishing.

Those anglers who had an unlucky weekend have one consolation. The season runs until Sept. 30 and things have to get better. After the opening weekend, they couldn't get any worse, at least in the minds of a good many fishermen.

14 Pass Boatman's Safety Course Sponsored by KPBA

Fourteen young area boating enthusiasts have succesfuly completed and passed the New York State Young Boatman's Safety Course sponsored by the State Conservation Department Division of Motor Boats, in conjunction with the Kingston Power Boat Association.

The successful young people who pased the examination and received their safety boating certifications in the course entitled "Make Sure, Make Shore" are:

Stephen Le Fevre, Neil LeFevre, Hurley; Cheryl Ann Jonescu, Robert Playford, David Simpson, Vernon Hul, Kingston; Alfie Bogart, New Paltz; Billy Barth, Grant Dunham, James Potter, Stirling Potter, Port Ewen; Ward Borcherdt, Tommy Wanning, Margaret Wanning, Ulster Landing.

This is the second class conducted by members of the Kingston Power Boat Association at their club rooms on Abeel Street since the first of the year. A third class is already formed and the first session will start Wednesday, April 12, at 7:30 p. m. at the Kingston Power Boat Association with Cleon Jump, Charles Kohl and Joseph Huber, who are certified instructors for the Conservation Department, conducting the classes and examination which follows.

Deadline January 1

As of January 1, all youngsters between the ages of 10 through 14 must take and pass this course in order to operate any mechanically propelled boat on the waters of New York State. Those children who receive their safety certificate receives from the Conservation Department in Albany a waterproofed card which they must carry with them at all times when operating a boat when no adult is aboard just as one carries an operator's license to drive a car.

With the sport of boating ever increasing, there cannot be too much emphasis put on the proper and safe way to operate mechanically propelled craft. That is why New York State enacted this law requiring young boatmen to pass this safety course to make them more safety conscious, learn the boating laws and in general respect other boats on the waterways.

All material for the course is furnished by the Conservation Deprtment at no cost to those youngsters desiring to get their certificates. Parents are welcome to sit in on the lectures along with their children, but only the youngsters may keep the course manual from which they study at the conclusion of the examination. Anyone wishing further information about these courses may contact Cleon Jump, Port Ewen.

In Sudden Death

Barber Winner In Azalea Open

WILMINGTON, N.C. (AP) — Jerry Barber and Chandler Harper, a pair of pappy guy golfers bound for the Masters Tournament opening Thursday at Augusta, Ga., mastered the youngsters here Sunday.

They survived a gruelling 36-hole final day in a tie for first place in the 54-hole $1,000 Azalea tourney and then played a sudden-death extra hole. Barber won with a par four. They had tied at 213, three under par.

The victory was worth $1,206 to the 137-pound, 5-7 veteran from Los Angeles, who will be 45 this month. Harper, who is 47, pocketed $1,006.

On the extra hole Barber unfurled a great drive, got on in two; 35 feet from the pin and made his par, the last putt from 4½ feet. Harper missed the green to the left whith his second, chipped up eight feet short and missed his putt.

George Knudson, Canadian pro from Toronto, closed with 68-70 for a 215 total. He tied with Dow Finsterwald, first day leader from Jupiter, Fla., and Tom Nieporte, defending champion from Bronxville, N.Y., each won $806.

Pischke Dead; Ex-ABC Prexy

WEST BEND, Wis. (AP)— Art Pischke, 67, a former president and long-time leader in the American Bowling Congress, died early Sunday. He suffered a cerebral hemorrhage Saturday night.

Pischke, a West Bend businessman, served as president of the ABC in 1957. He had been a member of the board since 1943.

APTITUDE TEST—Skidding a speedy runabout is a quick test for proper performance. Like a sports car, she should corner under control. If she flips and flings you out, she flunks and you swim, which is not the purpose at all.

Buyers Should Study Boat's Personality

By WM. TAYLOR McKEOWN
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

Personality is part of a boat. Old-time sailors long ago decided the sailing ship had a woman's temperament and called her "she" accordingly. Today's power and sail pleasure craft have behavior traits too, and need equal pampering from the prudent skipper.

A small fast power boat, particularly, requires the boatman to learn her characteristics and run her with the careful skill that is called seamanship. For the novice looking for a new boat this spring and the old sailor re-checking the performance of his boat as well, here are six quick tests that we find can help reveal how temperamental a hull may be:

Study her appearance. Narrow width aand shallow draft like a canoe, can indicate a hull that is fast but may tip easily. A good look at the lines of a new boat comes first.

Next, step aboard and test how tender she may be. If she tips easily, your equipment aboard must be placed to keep her level and passengers should be seated along the center line and kept sitting down.

Then let someone else run the boat while you watch her perform. At normal speeds she should provide a level ride without the bow lifting high or plowing deep in the water. A change in outboard motor angle or position of passengers can usually correct this.

Now run her yourself. Does she slap the waves and pound as she meets them, or tend to porpoise up and down? Ballast shifts, again, may correct this if the hull design is basically sound.

Slow the boat as if you suddenly saw a log ahead. Does a following wave try to crawl aboard with you? Be certain that your transom cutout and that the outboard well will prevent sudden swamping from astern. Otherwise, make a note as well to stay away from exposed waters and higher speeds.

Turns can be your commencement exercise for simple hull performance. A planing hull may lean into a turn or skid around it, but she should not try to swap ends or trip and throw you out of the boat. Nearly any small hull can flip at high speeds in violent maneuvers.

By running tests such as these you can learn the feel of a boat, and what you can safely try with her. Even a beginner can soon tell if she is a boat he would want to buy.

Donnelly Seeks 27th Ring Win

BUFFALO, N.Y. (AP) — Fast-punching Jackie Donnelly of Buffalo seeks hs 27th victory in 28 fights here tonight, meeting veteran Tommy Tibbs of Boston in a 10-round lightweight battle.

Tibbs, the New England lightweight champion, has lost 53 of 108 professional fights, but holds victories over Willie Pep, Larry Boardman, Ike Chestnut, Chico Rollins, Lauro Salas and Harold Gomes.

Donnelly's only loss was to Bobby Scanlon of Buffalo when the two fought for the New York State lightweight championship here last year.

Grayson Picks Orioles, Frisco for 1960 Flags

Whod'yah like in the baseball races, who'll bounce down in front in the fall?

Firing starts on all fronts April 11. It's a long haul until Oct. 1, when the last shots will be fired. Clubs can throw wheels, run out of gas, foul sparkplugs, have flat tires and suffer from the more common ailment of colliding with superior outfits. The best of them have been poor insurance risks through the years, the Yankees being the only exception.

But it's time for brinkmanship on the part of the baseball handicapper. Like a lot of others, this one predicts a coast-to-coast World Series, but not in Los Angeles and New York. Having gotten away from the Yankees, he intends to stick to that tack until he again gets done the job of beating the perenial champions.

SO, OUR OFFSIDE prediction is that the coast-to-coast Series will be open in Baltimore next Oct. 4 with the principals jetting between that port and San Francisco. Open up that Golden Gate.

This is how the clubs stack up in this book:

NATIONAL	AMERICAN
San Francisco	Baltimore
Los Angeles	Chicago
St. Louis	New York
Pittsburgh	Cleveland
Milwaukee	Detroit
Cincinnati	Minnesota
Philadelphia	Boston
Chicago	Kansas City
	Los Angeles
	Washington

The Dodgers have so much talent, they contend, that Walter Alston doesn't know what to do with it all, yet the principal trouble last trip was the lack of the long ball at bat, and there is no discernible improvement in this department.

ALVIN DARK HAS ONLY to wake up the slumbering Giant that was the San Francisco club of last year. This outfit didn't lose until the final week-end of 1959.

Charley Dressen easily could be right in forcasting that the Pirates have to run out of breaks. As for Dressen's Braves, what are they going to use for an outfield outside of Henry Aaron? Warren Spahn and Lew Burdette can't be expected to go on foreever, although the former has done a whale of a job of it.

The Giants traded the Cardinals into a stronger array than many expected, as they demonstrated last year.

EVERY AMERICAN League club except the Yankees stripped itself of much semblance of a bench in stocking the two new entries. But the Yankees gave up 19 games with the departure of Eli Grba, Bobby Shantz, Duke Maas nd John Gabler. Ralph Houck admits that he can't spell out his pitchers after Whitey Ford. And can the new manager manipulate as skillfully as the old, old pro, Casey Stengel?

The Baltimore Whiz Kids have a year's experience under their belts and an apparently sound Gus Triandos. Russ Snyder and Whitey Herzog could bolster the outfield.

The White Sox gave up Gene Freese's bat and age is creeping up in too many directions. Johnny Antonelli and Gary Bell could round out a first rate Cleveland pitching staff, but the Indians are in no position to wheather the loss of any regular.

Nearly everybody tells the prognosticator that he's crazy unless he strings along with the Dodgers and Yankees.

Okay, so I'm nuts.

San Francisco Team Women Swim Champs

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — The San Francisco Merionettes, a team formed just four years ago, are the 1961 women's champs in National AAU synchronized swimming.

The Merionettes, second in the national championships a year ago, won by a wide margin in this year's meet, which ended Saturday night.

San Francisco piled up 21 points. The University Athletic Club of Hollywood, Calif., was second with 14. Moose Club of Oakland, Calif., was next with 9.

The Athens AC of Oakland, 14 times the national champ, was fourth with 8 points and the Shaw Park Swim Club of St. Louis, Mo., next with 7.

Senator Frost, Circo in Field For $25,000 Test

YONKERS, N.Y. (AP)—Senator Frost and Circo, two of the outstanding trotters in the nation, will be among eight starters Thursday in the $25,000 U.S.A. test, a mile trot at Yonkers Raceway.

The late entry of the pair makes the second phase of the trot program pointing toward the three-race International trot series an eight-horse affair. The other entries are Su Mac Lad, Air Record, Silver Song, Tie Silk, Steamin' Demon and Great Lullwater.

Senator Frost has been racing at Santa Anita in California, where the 6-year-old brown gelding driven by Richard Buxton has been spectacular in recent races. He won more than $86,000 last year.

Circo, apparently recovered from a recent lameness, was entered by Bill Haughton, who is en route here from Orlando, Fla. Circo won $51,000 last year.

At Yonkers Saturday night, Keen's Victorwin, driven by Robert Cherrix, opened up a four length lead at the top of the stretch, then coasted home a two length winner over Silver's Dream in the feature $5,750 Monitor Pace.

Time for the mile, which equals the best for the season, was 2:03 4-5.

The 6-year-old son of Jay Herbert, owned by Harry W. Kelley of Ocean City, Md., returned $6.40 as the favorite for his second victory in two starts.

King Nola finished third a length behind Silver's Dream and three-quarters of a length in front of Flying Time.

Dimunitive Sacher Werner received a 3-day suspension for failure to bring his horse Justice Pick up to the gate in the third race. The horse wound up breaking and finishing last.

Masters Tough For New Player

By HUGH FULLERTON JR.
Associated Press Sports Writer

AUGUSTA, Ga. (AP) —Unless history is wrong, an inexperienced golfer hasn't much chance of winning the Masters Tournament. The only player who ever succeeded on his first attempt was Horton Smith, when he won the first Masters in 1934.

The massive and often deceptive 6,980-yard Augusta National course takes too much knowing for anyone to master it the first time out. Besides sheer power and sharp hitting, it calls for expertly placed drives, keen judgment on approaches and excellent putting.

But outside of defender Arnold Palmer, it's hard to see any of the past winners as likely contenders when the 25th Masters starts Thursday — and they're the men who should know the course best.

Going back a dozen years, only seven other winners are listed—Art Wall jr., Doug Ford, Jack Burke, Cary Middlecoff, Sam Snead, Ben Hogan and Jimmy Demaret.

That seems to leave three posibilities. Can Palmer win a third Masters? Will some brash newcomer finally break through? Or will it be somebody like Ken Venturi, Gary Player, Bill Casper, Peter Thomson, Dow Finsterwal, or Jay Hebert, who has served his apprenticeship learning about Augusta National and now is ready to prove his knowledge and skill?

Paterson, N. J. — Jose Torres, 164½ Brooklyn, stopped Bobby Barnes, 163¾ Wilkes Barre, Pa., 3.

Two New Threats For Derby Run

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Carry Back won the $115,100 Florida Derby, while a new threat named Songman popped up in California as the 3-year-old horses enter their final five weeks of preparation before the Kentucky Derby.

The first of the classics making up the Derby-Preakness-Belmont triple crown is the run for the roses at Louisville May 6, and it still shapes up as a wide open scramble.

New York gets the next peek at some of the big Derby candidates next Saturday when the $50,000 Gotham Stakes is run at Aqueduct. Some lesser Kentucky hopefuls will tangle the same afternoon in the $25,000 Arkansas Derby at Oaklawn Park.

At Gulfstream Park Saturday, Carry Back came from far back to beat Fred W. Hooper's Crozier by a head.

C. V. Whitney's Songman scored a neck victory over the Alberta Ranches' Flutterby in the $10,975 California Derby trial at Golden Gates Fields.

Big Name Teams Invade Classic

DETROIT (AP)—This could be a hectic week for the 58th annual American Bowling Congress Tournament.

An invasion of star teams hits the classic division.

Included are the Strohs of Detroit and Falstaffs of St. Louis, considered serious threats at the leading 5,910 total bowled by the Hamms of Chicago last Wednesday.

The Falstaffs, boasting Billy Welu, Steve Nagy, and others, are the current national team match-game champions.

Saturday, Robert Fitzgerald and Lester Townsend of Royal Oak, Mich., moved into 11th place in the regular doubles on 1,252.

Big Name Teams Invade Classic

DETROIT (AP)—This could be a hectic week for the 58th annual American Bowling Congress Tournament.

An invasion of star teams hits the classic division.

Included are the Strohs of Detroit and Falstaffs of St. Louis, considered serious threats at the leading 5,910 total bowled by the Hamms of Chicago last Wednesday.

The Falstaffs, boasting Billy Welu, Steve Nagy, and others, are the current national team match-game champions.

Saturday, Robert Fitzgerald and Lester Townsend of Royal Oak, Mich., moved into 11th place in the regular doubles on 1,252.

Whod'yah like in the baseball races, who'll bounce down in front in the fall?

Firing starts on all fronts April 11. It's a long haul until Oct. 1, when the last shots will be fired. Clubs can throw wheels, run out of gas, foul sparkplugs, have flat tires and suffer from the more common ailment of colliding with superior outfits. The best of them have been poor insurance risks through the years, the Yankees being the only exception.

But it's time for brinkmanship on the part of the baseball handicapper. Like a lot of others, this one predicts a coast-to-coast World Series, but not in Los Angeles and New York. Having gotten away from the Yankees, he intends to stick to that tack until he again gets done the job of beating the perenial champions.

SO, OUR OFFSIDE prediction is that the coast-to-coast Series will be open in Baltimore next Oct. 4 with the principals jetting between that port and San Francisco. Open up that Golden Gate.

This is how the clubs stack up in this book:

NATIONAL	AMERICAN
San Francisco	Baltimore
Los Angeles	Chicago
St. Louis	New York
Pittsburgh	Cleveland
Milwaukee	Detroit
Cincinnati	Minnesota
Philadelphia	Boston
Chicago	Kansas City
	Los Angeles
	Washington

The Dodgers have so much talent, they contend, that Walter Alston doesn't know what to do with it all, yet the principal trouble last trip was the lack of the long ball at bat, and there is no discernible improvement in this department.

ALVIN DARK HAS ONLY to wake up the slumbering Giant that was the San Francisco club of last year. This outfit didn't lose until the final week-end of 1959.

Charley Dressen easily could be right in forcasting that the Pirates have to run out of breaks. As for Dressen's Braves, what are they going to use for an outfield outside of Henry Aaron? Warren Spahn and Lew Burdette can't be expected to go on forever, although the former has done a whale of a job of it.

The Giants traded the Cardinals into a stronger array than many expected, as they demonstrated last year.

EVERY AMERICAN League club except the Yankees stripped itself of much semblance of a bench in stocking the two new entries. But the Yankees gave up 19 games with the departure of Eli Grba, Bobby Shantz, Duke Maas nd John Gabler. Ralph Houck admits that he can't spell out his pitchers after Whitey Ford. And can the new manager manipulate as skillfully as the old, old pro, Casey Stengel?

The Baltimore Whiz Kids have a year's experience under their belts and an apparently sound Gus Triandos. Russ Snyder and Whitey Herzog could bolster the outfield.

The White Sox gave up Gene Freese's bat and age is creeping up in too many directions. Johnny Antonelli and Gary Bell could round out a first rate Cleveland pitching staff, but the Indians are in no position to wheather the loss of any regular.

Nearly everybody tells the prognosticator that he's crazy unless he strings along with the Dodgers and Yankees.

Okay, so I'm nuts.

San Francisco Team Women Swim Champs

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — The San Francisco Merionettes, a team formed just four years ago, are the 1961 women's champs in National AAU synchronized swimming.

The Merionettes, second in the national championships a year ago, won by a wide margin in this year's meet, which ended Saturday night.

San Francisco piled up 21 points. The University Athletic Club of Hollywood, Calif., was second with 14. Moose Club of Oakland, Calif., was next with 9.

The Athens AC of Oakland, 14 times the national champ, was fourth with 8 points and the Shaw Park Swim Club of St. Louis, Mo., next with 7.

Senator Frost, Circo in Field For $25,000 Test

YONKERS, N.Y. (AP)—Senator Frost and Circo, two of the outstanding trotters in the nation, will be among eight starters Thursday in the $25,000 U.S.A. test, a mile trot at Yonkers Raceway.

The late entry of the pair makes the second phase of the trot program pointing toward the three-race International trot series an eight-horse affair. The other entries are Su Mac Lad, Air Record, Silver Song, Tie Silk, Steamin' Demon and Great Lullwater.

Senator Frost has been racing at Santa Anita in California, where the 6-year-old brown gelding driven by Richard Buxton has been spectacular in recent races. He won more than $86,000 last year.

Circo, apparently recovered from a recent lameness, was entered by Bill Haughton, who is en route here from Orlando, Fla. Circo won $51,000 last year.

At Yonkers Saturday night, Keen's Victorwin, driven by Robert Cherrix, opened up a four length lead at the top of the stretch, then coasted home a two length winner over Silver's Dream in the feature $5,750 Monitor Pace.

Time for the mile, which equals the best for the season, was 2:03 4-5.

The 6-year-old son of Jay Herbert, owned by Harry W. Kelley of Ocean City, Md., returned $6.40 as the favorite for his second victory in two starts.

King Nola finished third a length behind Silver's Dream and three-quarters of a length in front of Flying Time.

Dimunitive Sacher Werner received a 3-day suspension for failure to bring his horse Justice Pick up to the gate in the third race. The horse wound up breaking and finishing last.

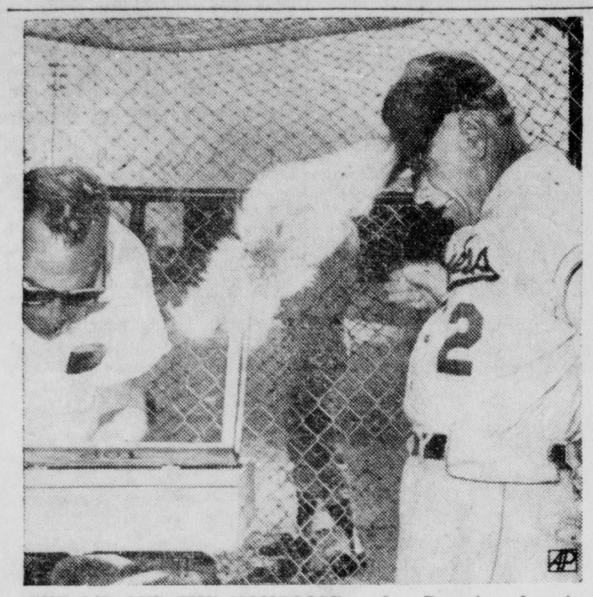
Spahn is Ready for Opener, Hurls 9-2 Win Over KC Team



THE LIP AND THE MONGOOSE — Leo Durocher, Los Angeles coach, reacted in this fashion when a jack-in-the-box contraption known as the "mongoose" was released by Jack Homel, left, Detroit Tigers trainer before start of the teams' exhibition game in Lakeland, Fla. Associated Press Sports Writer

The end of the rainbow is just 12 steps from Milwaukee mound marvel Warren Spahn, who can latch on to the pot of gold this season by becoming the first left-handed pitcher in National League history to win 300 games.

That's one of the few honors left for the tireless, ageless Spahn, a 20-game winner 11 times, the top active southpaw with 288 victories, and at 39 still the ace of the Braves' pitching staff.

Spahn has shown no signs of slowing down this spring while preparing for his 17th season in the big time. He has won four exhibitions without a loss—the latest a nine-inning, five-hit effort that stopped the Kansas City A's 9-2 Sunday.

Backed by Hank Aaron's three consecutive homers, Spahn faced only 30 men, striking out three and walking none as he tuned up for Milwaukee's opening day pitching assignment.

Ford Goes Route

Outstanding pitching jobs also were turned in by New York's Whitey Ford and Pittsburgh's Joe Gibbon. Ford shut out Cincinnati 1-0 on a six-hitter while Gibbon hurled four innings of perfect ball in the Pirates 4-1 win over St. Louis.

In other games, the Los Angeles Dodgers whipped Minnesota 7-3, Baltimore belted the Chicago White Sox 11-5, San Francisco beat Cleveland 6-1, Philadelphia defeated Detroit 7-4, the Chicago Cubs edged Boston 5-3 and the Los Angeles Angels downed San Diego of the Pacific Coast League 7-6.

Moose Skowron's homer was all Ford needed and all he received as he became the first Yankee pitcher to go the distance, limiting the Reds to six singles. Skowron's blow was the first of three hits off Jay Hook, who worked the first seven innings for Cincinnati.

Gibbon, Jim Umbricht and Fred Green checked the Cardinals on five hits while the Pirates pounded route-going Bob Miller for 11 safeties—three by Dick Groat. Umbricht gave up the St. Louis run on Julian Javier's single and a double by Walt Moryn.

Although laced for 13 hits, Dodger lefty Sandy Koufax went the distance agains the Twins and held them scoreless until Lenny Green hit a three-run homer in the ninth. Triples by Charlie Neal and Bob Aspromonte paced Los Angeles' 11-hit offensive.

Jones Is Impressive

Earl Robinson's two homers, the second a grand slam that capped a nine-run uprising in the eighth inning carried the Orioles to their win over the White Sox. Round trippers by Giants' rookies Bob Farley and Tom Haller along with six innings of scoreless pitching by Sam Jones beat the Indians.

Dick Ellsworth struck out eight in four innings of two-hit hurling while Ed Bouchee smacked a two-run homer for the Cubs against the Red Sox. Five hits by Tony Taylor and four by Pancho Herrera paced the Phils' attack after Art Mahaffey was knocked out of the box when a liner by the Tigers' Bill Bruton nicked his elbow.

Julio Becquer stroked three hits and batted in four runs, including the clincher in the eighth, as the Angels came from behind to whip San Diego.

Spotted Results For Fishermen

Opening of the trout season Saturday saw "spotted" results according to many fishermen who braved the cold weather. To many it was only "April Fools Day" but others reported good catches.

Earl Conro, president of the Phoenicia Fish and Game Association, reported there were many good [illegible] icia area despite the roilly condition of the upper [illegible] to the opening of the Shandaken Tunnel portal.

Fishermen can take heart, however, with the announcement by Conro today that on Wednesday the Conservation Department will bring to the Phoenicia area three truck loads of trout to be distributed in the waters of that area.

The two trucks will arrive at the Socony gas station in Phoenicia on Wednesday, April 5, at about 11:30 a. m. and any member of the club who is available and wishes to help distribute the trout should be there at that hour. The Club will be very grateful to anyone who will assist in this distribution job.

All of the trout will be at least yearlings with some of the fish two years old.

The Nimrod's Corner

By Old Doc

Trout season opens tomorrow! What wonderful words. The long, persistent winter months had made the angler feel that this day of days would never arrive. Now, no matter how thorough the preparation has been in anticipation of April 1st, there is a last moment, frantic, effort to be ready to embark at the crack of dawn on an expedition that is doomed with failure long before the fishing rod is removed from its tubular case.

Seldom is the opening day fisherman confronted with good stream conditions, or water temperatures that induce trout to feed and most important, the air temperature that makes the day's outing enjoyable. As a result, the vast majority of the hordes that will descend on the Catskill waters on the morrow, will go home without taking more than a few trout. Furthermore, most of these unfortunates know what their fate will be in advance.

Some people may ask then, what logic can there be to this annual homage to King Trout, that requires so many people to place sacrifices at his feet and suffer physical discomfort in doing so. To those who seek logical answers at this time of the year to a question about trout fishing, all that can be said is that there is no such answer available, but whoever is sane on opening day, doesn't even deserve a fair response. In the language of our teenagers, "they just aren't hep."

OUT OF THE PAST

As I was cleaning out my fishing vest last evening, (how did I ever accumulate that much junk last season) and in checking my rod windings for the "umpteenth" time, I thought back on past opening days and the memories they hold. Jack Whalen and his deceased dad Dick, who fished the Catskills as a team for years and who took as many trout as any persons I know, faithfully fished with wet flys on opening day and usually were successful, Old Harry LeFever, also gone to be with the Fisher-of-men, would hobble with a cane to the stream just to be out on opening day, an event he never missed and when even this became impossible, having Bud Potter, Jim Matthews and Ralph Hoffman carry him to the edge of the stream in a wheelchair. The large trout, the large suckers I thought to be trout, the wet clothes, the frozen eyelets, all the trout I caught and more often, the trout I didn't take, all came back as I made my final preparations. Each angler has similar evennts that induce him to again embark on this opening day pilgrimage. They of course differ with each and may be centered around a son or a dad.

STREAMS APPEAR GOOD

The streams as I viewed them on Wednesday, were very good. The Esopus looks ideal; Chichester is better than it has been on many opening days and should produce a good number of large spawning rainbows. Birch Creek and the Bushnellville appeared fine. The Schoharie also looked ready to yield many trout.

Sonny Barnes, who amazed everyone with his limit of large brookies from the Sawkill on the opener last year, is going to fish the Downsville Reservoir in search of the big lunkers. Bill Keyser's choice is the Esopus above Mt. Tremper. Ray Winnie has chosen the Ashokan, Nelson Shultis the Beaverkill out of Willow, and as for me, my choice throughout the winter has been Silver Hollow and I'm sticking with my hunch.

The marking off the days has ceased, the day of days has arrived. The calendar on the wall reminds me however that tomorrow is also April Fool's Day.

Dutchess Lanes Slate Tourney

Entries for the 12th annual Bowling Classic tournament, scheduled for Apr. 22, 23, 29 and 30 and May 6 and 7, at the Dutchess Recreation alleys in Poughkeepsie, will be accepted until Apr. 14, according to chairman Bernie Levine.

It's estimated that first prize in the gross division will be $750 and the net prize will be $250. The tournament will be conducted on a 100 per cent handicap, with a maximum of 225 pins a team per game.

Fabulous Russell Does It

BOSTON (AP) — Defense and Bill Russell are the reasons the Boston Celtics have the jump on St. Louis in the National Basketball Association playoff finals.

"Russell was the key—his defense and rebounding," Coach Red Auerbach of the defending world champions said after Sunday's 129-95 triumph over the Hawks.

The best-of-seven series resumes here Wednesday night.

The 6-10 Russell grabbed 31 rebounds, blocked seven goal-bound shots and on two other occasions had goaltending called on him when he had diverted "sure" shots. He also had 15 points and assisted on four other goals."

"He was just fabulous," Auerbach added.

"This is still going to be a dogfight," chimed in Frank Ramsey who was a Kentucky teammate of St. Louis' Cliff Hagan, the game's high scorer with 33 points.

"Wednesday is the important game. If St. Louis wins we're in trouble. If we win we have a good chance to win one of those televised weekend games in St. Louis and wrap it up in five."

St. Louis coach Paul Seymour, not very optimistic at the Hawks' chances without injured pivotman Clyde Lovellette, heard today he might have the big guy for Saturday's third contest.

Montreal Faces Cup Elimination

CHICAGO (AP) — The Chicago Black Hawks and Montreal Canadiens tune up in brief drills today for the sixth and possibly final game of the Stanley Cup semifinals playoffs.

A win for the Hawks in the Chicago Stadium Tuesday night will put them in the finals, the world series of hockey, for the first time since 1944. The Hawks [illegible]-2 lead in the semifinals with a 3-0 victory over the Canadiens, the regular season league leaders, in Montreal Saturday night. The Hawks haven't won the Stanley Cup since 1938.

The champion Canadiens, who have won the Stanley Cup the last five years, will be eliminated if they lose the sixth game of the best of seven series. If the Canadiens win, the seventh game will be played in Montreal Thursday night, with the winner to meet the Detroit Red Wings in the best of seven games finals for the cup. Detroit eliminated Toronto four games to one Saturday with a 3 to 2 triumph.

Both the Hawks and Montreal emerged from the game without any new injuries, but Montreal will be lacking 50-goal scorer Bernie (Boom Boom) Geoffrion Tuesday night. He has a badly injured knee.

Moore Rules Solid Favorite In Featherweight Title Bout

By MURRAY ROSE
Associated Press Sports Writer

Featherweight champion Davey Moore is the next boxing ruler to defend his title this month. The king of the 126-pounders makes his third championship defense Saturday night when he faces young Danny Valdez at Los Angeles.

Moore, 27, of Springfield, Ohio, is a solid favorite over the 22-year-old California champion from Los Angeles. The 15-rounder will not be televised.

In his last defense, the squat, husky titleholder outpointed Japan's Kazuo Takayama in Tokyo last Aug. 29. Moore won the title by knocking out Nigeria's Hogan (Kid) Bassey in the 13th round March 18, 1959. In a return title bout, he put away Bassey in 11.

Valdez has been fighting pro only three years, four months. His 17-5 record includes seven knockouts and three straight victories. He knocked out Boots Monroe in the first round for the California championship last January and earned the shot at Moore.

There are four more title fights in the April calendar, all within a six day period.

On April 18 lightweight champion Joe Brown of Baton Rouge, La., meets Dave Charnley of England at London; on the 22nd Paul Pender, New York-Massachusetts middleweight champion from Brookline, Mass., meets Carmen Basilio of Chittenango, N.Y.; on the 23rd, in Milan, Italy, junior welterweight champion Duilio Loi of Italy meets Carlos Ortiz of New York, and on the 24th, NBA light heavyweight champion Harold Johnson of Philadelphia meets Von Clay of Philadelphia at Philadelphia.

The Saturday night television—ABC, 10 p.m., EST — fight is a return middleweight bout between Jorge Fernandez of Argentina and Denny Moyer of Portland, Ore., at New York's St. Nicholas Arena.

Fernandez, 25, won the first fight at New York last Oct. 15. He returned to Argentina for a vacation and hasn't fought since. His record is 70-5-1 including 50 kayos. Moyer's record is 28-3, including seven knockouts.

Phil Moyer, elder brother of Denny, opens the brother act tonight at St. Nicks. Phil (23-4-1) takes on Puerto Rico's Obdulio Nunez (18-3) in a 10-rounder.

Rookie Howser Pleases the A's

WEST PALM BEACH, Fla. (AP)—Kansas City finally has a home grown product who figures to make the ball club. He is Dick Howser, a rookie shortstop, developed in the A's own farm system.

Manager Joe Gordon already has tabbed Howser, a 5-foot-9, 155-pounder, as the potential "rookie of the year" in the American League. The shortstop job belonged to him the day he stepped onto the field because Ken Hamlin, last year's regular, was spun off to the new Los Angeles club in the special draft.

Howser speaks up like a man who believes he belongs. "I sort of flip the ball but I can make the long, hard throw too," said the 23-year-old athlete from West Palm Beach. "I can give the ball a pretty good rip. My average has been pretty good for ar infielder."

After looking at Howser in a few games, Paul Richards, Baltimore manager, said, "if the kid at shortstop is as good as he looks, the A's have to be better."

"He can make the club," said General Manager Frank Lane.

"He could be the big thing for us," said Manager Joe Gordon.

Howser came up with the proper credentials. He batted .338 at Shreveport after moving up in midseason from Sioux City where he hit .349. He broke into ball in mid-1958 after his graduation from Florida State.

Outstanding pitching jobs also were turned in by New York's Whitey Ford and Pittsburgh's Joe Gibbon. Ford shut out Cincinnati 1-0 on a six-hitter while Gibbon hurled four innings of perfect ball in the Pirates 4-1 win over St. Louis.

In other games, the Los Angeles Dodgers whipped Minnesota 7-3, Baltimore belted the Chicago White Sox 11-5, San Francisco beat Cleveland 6-1, Philadelphia defeated Detroit 7-4, the Chicago Cubs edged Boston 5-3 and the Los Angeles Angels downed San Diego of the Pacific Coast League 7-6.

Moose Skowron's homer was all Ford needed and all he received as he became the first Yankee pitcher to go the distance, limiting the Reds to six singles. Skowron's blow was the first of three hits off Jay Hook, who worked the first seven innings for Cincinnati.

Gibbon, Jim Umbricht and Fred Green checked the Cardinals on five hits while the Pirates pounded route-going Bob Miller for 11 safeties—three by Dick Groat. Umbricht gave up the St. Louis run on Julian Javier's single and a double by Walt Moryn.

Although laced for 13 hits, Dodger lefty Sandy Koufax went the distance against the Twins and held them scoreless until Lenny Green hit a three-run homer in the ninth. Triples by Charlie Neal and Bob Aspromonte paced Los Angeles' 11-hit offensive.

Jones Is Impressive

Earl Robinson's two homers, the second a grand slam that capped a nine-run uprising in the eighth inning carried the Orioles to their win over the White Sox. Round trippers by Giants' rookies Bob Farley and Tom Haller along with six innings of scoreless pitching by Sam Jones beat the Indians.

Dick Ellsworth struck out eight in four innings of two-hit hurling while Ed Bouchee smacked a two-run homer for the Cubs against the Red Sox. Five hits by Tony Taylor and four by Pancho Herrera paced the Phils' attack after Art Mahaffey was knocked out of the box when a liner by the Tigers' Bill Bruton nicked his elbow.

Julio Becquer stroked three hits and batted in four runs, including the clincher in the eighth, as the Angels came from behind to whip San Diego.

Spotted Results For Fishermen

Opening of the trout season Saturday saw "spotted" results according to many fishermen who braved the cold weather. To many it was only "April Fools Day" but others reported good catches.

Earl Conro, president of the Phoenicia Fish and Game Association, reported there were many good [illegible] Phoenicia area despite the roilly condition of the upper [illegible] to the opening of the Shandaken Tunnel portal.

Fishermen can take heart, however, with the announcement by Conro today that on Wednesday the Conservation Department will bring to the Phoenicia area three truck loads of trout to be distributed in the waters of that area.

The two trucks will arrive at the Socony gas station in Phoenicia on Wednesday, April 5, at about 11:30 a. m. and any member of the club who is available and wishes to help distribute the trout should be there at that hour. The Club will be very grateful to anyone who will assist in this distribution job.

All of the trout will be at least yearlings with some of the fish two years old.

The Nimrod's Corner

By Old Doc

Trout season opens tomorrow! What wonderful words. The long, persistent winter months had made the angler feel that this day of days would never arrive. Now, no matter how thorough the preparation has been in anticipation of April 1st, there is a last moment, frantic, effort to be ready to embark at the crack of dawn on an expedition that is doomed with failure long before the fishing rod is removed from its tubular case.

Seldom is the opening day fisherman confronted with good stream conditions, or water temperatures that induce trout to feed and most important, the air temperature that makes the day's outing enjoyable. As a result, the vast majority of the hordes that will descend on the Catskill waters on the morrow, will go home without taking more than a few trout. Furthermore, most of these unfortunates know what their fate will be in advance.

Some people may ask then, what logic can there be to this annual homage to King Trout, that requires so many people to place sacrifices at his feet and suffer physical discomfort in doing so. To those who seek logical answers at this time of the year to a question about trout fishing, all that can be said is that there is no such answer available, but whoever is sane on opening day, doesn't even deserve a fair response. In the language of our teenagers, "they just aren't hep."

OUT OF THE PAST

As I was cleaning out my fishing vest last evening, (how did I ever accumulate that much junk last season) and in checking my rod windings for the "umpteenth" time, I thought back on past opening days and the memories they hold. Jack Whalen and his deceased dad Dick, who fished the Catskills as a team for years and who took as many trout as any persons I know, faithfully fished with wet flys on opening day and usually were successful. Old Harry LeFever, also gone to be with the Fisher-of-men, would hobble with a cane to the stream just to be out on opening day, an event he never missed and when even this became impossible, having Bud Potter, Jim Matthews and Ralph Hoffman carry him to the edge of the stream in a wheelchair. The large trout, the large suckers I thought to be trout, the wet clothes, the frozen eyelets, all the trout I caught and more often, the trout I didn't take, all came back as I made my final preparations. Each angler has similar evennts that induce him to again embark on this opening day pilgrimage. They of course differ with each and may be centered around a son or a dad.

STREAMS APPEAR GOOD

The streams as I viewed them on Wednesday, were very good. The Esopus looks ideal; Chichester is better than it has been on many opening days and should produce a good number of large spawning rainbows. Birch Creek and the Bushnellville appeared fine. The Schoharie also looked ready to yield many trout.

Sonny Barnes, who amazed everyone with his limit of large brookies from the Sawkill on the opener last year, is going to fish the Downsville Reservoir in search of the big lunkers. Bill Keyser's choice is the Esopus above Mt. Tremper. Ray Winnie has chosen the Ashokan, Nelson Shultis the Beaverkill out of Willow, and as for me, my choice throughout the winter has been Silver Hollow and I'm sticking with my hunch.

The marking off the days has ceased, the day of days has arrived. The calendar on the wall reminds me however that tomorrow is also April Fool's Day.

Dutchess Lanes Slate Tourney

Entries for the 12th annual Bowling Classic tournament, scheduled for Apr. 22, 23, 29 and 30 and May 6 and 7, at the Dutchess Recreation alleys in Poughkeepsie, will be accepted until Apr. 14, according to chairman Bernie Levine.

It's estimated that first prize in the gross division will be $750 and the net prize will be $250. The tournament will be conducted on a 100 per cent handicap, with a maximum of 225 pins a team per game.

EAST LANSING, Mich. (NEA)—Michigan State will be missing only nine graduated lettermen in football next fall, but eight were regulars.

Fabulous Russell Does It

BOSTON (AP) — Defense and Bill Russell are the reasons the Boston Celtics have the jump on St. Louis in the National Basketball Association playoff finals.

"Russell was the key—his defense and rebounding," Coach Red Auerbach of the defending world champions said after Sunday's 129-95 triumph over the Hawks.

The best-of-seven series resumes here Wednesday night.

The 6-10 Russell grabbed 31 rebounds, blocked seven goal-bound shots and on two other occasions had goaltending called on him when he had diverted "sure" shots. He also had 15 points and assisted on four other goals."

"He was just fabulous," Auerbach added.

"This is still going to be a dogfight," chimed in Frank Ramsey who was a Kentucky teammate of St. Louis' Cliff Hagan, the game's high scorer with 33 points.

"Wednesday is the important game. If St. Louis wins we're in trouble. If we win we have a good chance to win one of those televised weekend games in St. Louis and wrap it up in five."

St. Louis coach Paul Seymour, not very optimistic at the Hawks' chances without injured pivotman Clyde Lovellette, heard today he might have the big guy for Saturday's third contest.

Montreal Faces Cup Elimination

CHICAGO (AP) — The Chicago Black Hawks and Montreal Canadiens tune up in brief drills today for the sixth and possibly final game of the Stanley Cup semi-finals playoffs.

A win for the Hawks in the Chicago Stadium Tuesday night will put them in the finals, the world series of hockey, for the first time since 1944. The Hawks [illegible]-2 lead in the semifinals with a 3-0 victory over the Canadiens, the regular season league leaders, in Montreal Saturday night. The Hawks haven't won the Stanley Cup since 1938.

The champion Canadiens, who have won the Stanley Cup the last five years, will be eliminated if they lose the sixth game of the best of seven series. If the Canadiens win, the seventh game will be played in Montreal Thursday night, with the winner to meet the Detroit Red Wings in the best of seven games finals for the cup. Detroit eliminated Toronto four games to one Saturday with a 3 to 2 triumph.

Both the Hawks and Montreal emerged from the game without any new injuries, but Montreal will be lacking 50-goal scorer Bernie (Boom Boom) Geoffrion Tuesday night. He has a badly injured knee.

Moore Rules Solid Favorite In Featherweight Title Bout

By MURRAY ROSE
Associated Press Sports Writer

Featherweight champion Davey Moore is the next boxing ruler to defend his title this month. The king of the 126-pounders makes his third championship defense Saturday night when he faces young Danny Valdez at Los Angeles.

Moore, 27, of Springfield, Ohio, is a solid favorite over the 22-year-old California champion from Los Angeles. The 15-rounder will not be televised.

In his last defense, the squat, husky titleholder outpointed Japan's Kazuo Takayama in Tokyo last Aug. 29. Moore won the title by knocking out Nigeria's Hogan (Kid) Bassey in the 13th round March 18, 1959. In a return title bout, he put away Bassey in 11.

Valdez has been fighting pro only three years, four months. His 17-5 record includes seven knockouts and three straight victories. He knocked out Boots Monroe in the first round for the California championship last January and earned the shot at Moore.

There are four more title fights in the April calendar, all within a six day period.

On April 18 lightweight champion Joe Brown of Baton Rouge, La., meets Dave Charnley of England at London; on the 22nd Paul Pender, New York-Massachusetts middleweight champion from Brookline, Mass., meets Carmen Basilio of Chittenango, N.Y.; on the 23rd, in Milan, Italy, junior welterweight champion Duilio Loi of Italy meets Carlos Ortiz of New York, and on the 24th, NBA light heavyweight champion Harold Johnson of Philadelphia meets Von Clay of Philadelphia at Philadelphia.

The Saturday night television—ABC, 10 p.m., EST — fight is a return middleweight bout between Jorge Fernandez of Argentina and Denny Moyer of Portland, Ore., at New York's St. Nicholas Arena.

Fernandez, 25, won the first fight at New York last Oct. 15. He returned to Argentina for a vacation and hasn't fought since. His record is 70-5-1 including 50 kayos. Moyer's record is 28-3, including seven knockouts.

Phil Moyer, elder brother of Denny, opens the brother act tonight at St. Nicks. Phil (23-4-1) takes on Puerto Rico's Obdulio Nunez (18-3) in a 10-rounder.

Rookie Howser Pleases the A's

WEST PALM BEACH, Fla. (AP) —Kansas City finally has a home grown product who figures to make the ball club. He is Dick Howser, a rookie shortstop, developed in the A's own farm system.

Manager Joe Gordon already has tabbed Howser, a 5-foot-9, 155-pounder, as the potential "rookie of the year" in the American League. The shortstop job belonged to him the day he stepped onto the field because Ken Hamlin, last year's regular, was spun off to the new Los Angeles club in the special draft.

Howser speaks up like a man who believes he belongs. "I sort of flip the ball but I can make the long, hard throw too," said the 23-year-old athlete from West Palm Beach. "I can give the ball a pretty good rip. My average has been pretty good for an infielder."

After looking at Howser in a few games, Paul Richards, Baltimore manager, said, "if the kid at shortstop is as good as he looks, the A's have to be better."

"He can make the club," said General Manager Frank Lane.

"He could be the big thing for us," said Manager Joe Gordon.

Howser came up with the proper credentials. He batted .338 at Shreveport after moving up in mid-season from Sioux City where he hit .349. He broke into ball in mid-1958 after his graduation from Florida State.

Propose Private Financing For Woodstock's Master Plan

Four possible methods of financing the cost of a Growth Plan and drafts and accompanying ordinances for the Town of Woodstock have been presented by J. C. van Rijn, chairman of the Woodstock Planning Board.

van Rijn told some 50 business representatives it would cost $20,000 to finance the Master Plan over a three year period.

The fourth alternative would be private donations and he indicated that if $10,000 is raised by voluntary contributions, an anonymous donor in the township would match it with a donation of $10,000.

The four methods of financing as suggested by van Rijn are:

1) Town budget, $20,000, paid at the rate of $6666.00 per year over a three-year period. If adopted the program would start in January 1962 and be effective by the summer of 1963.

2) Bond issue, $20,000, payable at the rate of $4,000 a year for five years; would start in January, 1962, and be effective by the summer of 1963.

3) Government aid, known as UPAP (Urban Planning Assistance Program) cost would be $25,000, payable over a three-year period at $8,333 per year. This plan would start within one to three years and tentatively be in operation between 1963 and 1965. Since this method of financing is generally granted only for emergency situations it was deemed the least effective for Woodstock's needs.

4) Private donations, cost, $20,000; financed three years at $6,666.00 per year. Work on this plan could be started at once and the plan would be effective by the summer of 1962.

Ddne in Cooperstown

van Rijn cited the Village of Cooperstown as an example of a community where the Master Plan was financed through private donations.

Indicating his preference for the private donation method, van Rijn told the business men that "to get the work started immediately, all we need is your combined pledge of $10,000."

The Planning Board chairman pointed out that there are about 150 businesses in the township and "if only 100 pledge an average of $100, we can start tomorrow." He also noted that "we have three years to pay, so as little an average yearly outlay as $33 will do the thing for our town. The payments are made to the Town of Woodstock and therefore are deductible income before taxes."

"So, if you have a partnership in business, or if you are just an individual, you are likely to be in the 25 per cent to 35 per cent bracket and a $100 pledge over three years will cost you, then, about $22 a year. I am confident we shall make the grade and do no less than Cooperstown did."

Pledge cards were passed out to business men attending the meeting.

"No one will or should contribute who is not convinced that this is the right thing for Woodstock to do," van Rijn's statement concluded.

Committee Plans An Intensified Bond Campaign

The Onteora Committee for Better Education, a Woodstock group recruiting support for the upcoming bond issue vote on April 10, has intensified its efforts to get a maximum registration in Woodstock.

Richard Langham, chairman, in opening the first meeting of district captains, pointed out that first-day registration figures showed a very heavy turnout in those communities which have expressed opposition to the bond issue. He urged that every effort should be made to obtain a substantial vote in Woodstock where there is a desperate need for additional classrooms for the children.

Following a report from the district captains there was a general discussion of issues that were raised by the taxpayers. It was brought out that the actual cost of classrooms would be $13,200 each, the balance of the cost being special rooms, most of which are required by the State Education Department, site development, sewage, etc. The actual construction cost amounts to $16.50 per square foot which compares favorably to the cost of the average modest home, per square foot.

Low Tax Rate

Trustee Janet Greene of the Board of Education pointed out that the district had the second lowest true value tax rate in the mid-Hudson area and is in the lowest quarter on a statewide basis, according to a recent survey conducted by the N. Y. State Teachers Association.

It was also decided to set up machinery to make babysitters and transportation available on April 3 for registration and on April 10 for voting.

In closing, district captains were urged to impress upon voters that their vote should be on the need of the additional space only and that questions concerning the general operation of the school system had no connection with the bond issue and should be raised at the budget hearing.

Among those present were: Mrs. Gordon Anderson, secretary; Mrs. Donald O'Rourke, Mrs. Ernest Wittner, Mrs. Herwig Sernberg, Mrs. Donald Twine, John Majoros, Mrs. Alvin Moscowitz, Mrs. Irwin Arlt, Mrs. Edward Goddard, Mrs. Edmund Gilligan, Mrs. Margaret Ruff, Mrs. Paul Williams, Mrs. James Comfort, Miss Therese Kessel, Henry Winzenreid and Edwin Braddon.

Women's League Annual Meeting Set for April 12

The League of Women Voters' annual dinner meeting will be held at Deanie's on Wednesday, April 12, at 7 p. m. A business meeting is scheduled at 8 p. m.

Members are asked to bring their March "Bulletin" for information pertanent to voting. There will be a brief report and discussion on the state LVW convention. Entertainment will be provided through the courtesy of some "helpful husbands."

Mrs. Jack Garside and Mrs. Joseph Fitzsimmons are in charge of reservations which close on April 8.

The National Item workshop committee promises at its April 18 meeting at van Rijn's conference room at 8 p. m. The subject is "Egypt" and the committee is happy to announce that Mrs. Jack Clair of Kingston, who hade an extensive tour of the land of the Nile last summer will show slides and talk about her trip.

High points of the visit included the ancient places to be flooded by the Aswan Dam and a 1000-mile journey up the Nile, as well os a camel caravan excursion across the Sahara. Mrs. Crair is a member of the AAUW and holds a degree in ancient history and Latin from Syracuse University. This is a wonderful opportunity for all League members to increase their knowledge of a much discussed and turbulent area.

Another League workshop is scheduled on Wednesday, April 26, at 8 p. m. at the home of Mrs. Vivian Moscowitz, on the lower Byrdcliffe road. The subject is : "Using U. S. farm surpluses to promote economic growth in the developing countries" and Public Law 480.

Chronic Problem

A League survey indicates that the problem of U. S. farm surpluses has become a chronic one with our surplus food stocks climbing from 2½ billion in 1952 to over 9 billion in 1960. The Woodstock workshop will cover such questions as how this has come about, what effect agricultural exports and imports have on the surplus problem, and the Agricultural Trade Development and Assistance Act known as Public Law 480. Public Law 480 is the chief instrument of the "Food for Peace" program and is of vital concern to all League members. This law will come before the present session of Congress for renewal. It is urged that all members attend the discussion.

A spring seminar on International Relations will be held in Woodstock sponsored by the National Item Committee. Four lectures will be given from May 1 through May 22 on consecutive Monday evenings. Details will be announced in the next Bulletin.

League members are reminded that today, April 3, is the final day of registration for the April 10 bond issue vote in the Onteora Central district. All members are urged to register. The League plans to mail a "Fact Sheet" on the bond issue to every registered voter by April 10.

Today Is Final Registration Day For OCS Bond Issue Vote

Committees and groups for and against the forthcoming $1,016,500 bond issue vote in the Onteora Central District on April 10 will be busy today getting voters to the registration centers.

This is the last day of registration and all four registration places in the district — Shandaken, Boiceville, Woodstock and West Hurley — are expected to hum with activity. The hours are from 2 p. m. to 8 p. m.

Woodstock proponents of the new construction program, dissatisfied with the first-day turnout (286) have been conducting an intensive telephone campaign to persuade persons favorable to the bond issue to register.

Unusually heavy registration in the Town of Olive where anti-bond issue sentiment is well organized indicates the district wide vote could be close. Failure of many Woodstockers to register has injected another imponderable in the guessing game. But Woodstock committees, particularly the Onteora Committee for Better Education, hope to have that situation improved by 8 o'clock tonight.

A record breaking vote already has been assured. As of March 27, there were a total of 2206 persons registered. Of this total, 1266 were on the registration rolls from the 1960 election, the other 940 registered last Monday.

Seek Volunteers At Rec Diamond

Members of the Onteora Central Schools District athletic department will be at the Woodstock Recreation field next Wednesday, Thursday and Friday.

The Onteora Board of Education recently was granted permission to use the baseball diamond by the Woodstock Town Board for the OCS varsity games and practice sessions this season.

Physical Education Director Edward S. Witko of Onteora is seeking volunteers from throughout the district to assist in getting the grounds in shape. The work crews will be there with supervision throughout the day.

All persons in the Woodstock area who would like to volunteer their services are invited to visit the field on any of the work days.

Town Notes

Complaints are being received about the horrible condition of the lower Ohayo Mountain road between the intersection of Hill 9 and Sully's bridge. Large gaping holes in the middle of the road that force motorists to catwalk the shoulders on either side of the highway, could be used as excellent proving grounds for new model army tanks. It seems incredible that such conditions have not yet been corrected and please, let us not hear anything about the new pavement that was supposed to have been started two years ago.

Peace Corps Blanks

Peace Corps Volunteer questionnaires are now available at the Woodstock Post Office, it is announced by Postmaster Leon Carey. Those who may file questionnaires are United States citizens 18 years of age and over, including married couples without children under 18, if both husband and wife are willing to volunteer for the Peace Corps.

Florida Returnes

Allen Dean Elwyn, Woodstock's popular restaurateur and his wife, Kathleen, have returned from a three-weeks stay in Florida. Another Florida arrival is J. Carson Hutchins and family. Hutchins has assumed his duties as golf professional at Woodstock Country Club.

A committee of Democratic women will meet at the home of Mrs. Donald Twine this evening at 7:30 p. m. to make plans for the Democratic Club's rummage sale on Memorial Day.

Postmaster Leon Carey of Wodstock has been nominated to the board of directors of the New York Chapter of the Postmasters Association. Carey was nominated at the March meeting of the Ulster County Postmasters Association. Frank Burger, postmaster at Rhinebeck, has been nominated for president. The elections will be held at the annual state convention in Fallsburgh. in June.

Noted Planning Consultants Before Local Board Tonight

William N. Breger and Augustus R. Schrowang Jr., planning associates, have been invited to appear this evening before the Town of Woodstock Planning Board to discuss planning in a rural community.

Breger, winner of two international planning awards, is well-known as an advocate of physical and socio-economic planning. He has in recent years prepared master plans for the St. Louis waterfront, the Loop in Chicago, and for Glen Cove L. I.

Breger will address the meeting on the topic, "Man and the Unique Environment."

Former Woodstock Men

Breger, a former resident of Woodstock, is chairman of the department of design of the School of Architecture, Pratt Institute, New York City.

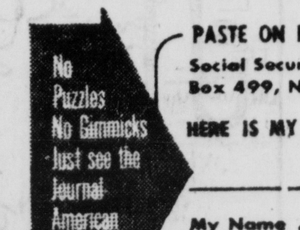
He took first prize in the Carson Pirie, Scott competition of 1954, a master plan for the Loop, Chicago, receiving an award of $25,000. He was awarded second prize, the Jefferson National Memorial, St. Louis, 1947, with a master plan for the waterfront area.

Breger recently made a planning study for Glen Cove a city of 15,000 people located about 25 miles east of New York City.

Schrowang, a native of Kingston and son of the well-known local architect, was formerly associated with Voorhees, Walker, Smith, Smith and Haines of New York City.

He is a graduate of Kingston High School taking his BS degree in architecture at Pratt Institute. He has also done graduate work at Pratt in city planning.

Cordell Hull, who served 11 years, served the longest term of any U.S. secretary of state.



In the Service

Stationed in Germany

Army Specialist Five Philip A. Nowag, whose wife, Wally, lives at 55 N. Front Street, Kingston, is a member of the 4th Armored Division's 54th Infantry in Germany. The 4th, one of five U. S. divisions in NATO's "Pyramid of Power," is conducting intensive training in nuclear warfare tactics, with emphasis on battlefield movement, communications and security. Specialist Nowag, who arrived overseas in January 1958, is a medical technician in the infantry's Company D in Heilbronn. He entered the Army in April 1957.

On Nike-Hercules Team

Army Pfc. William A. Crawley, son of Mrs. Bertha Crawley, 8 Broadhead Street, Ellenville, recently participated with other members of the 30th Artillery Brigade in establishing new distance records during annual service practice firings of the Nike-Hercules missile on Okinawa.

Firing at drone targets over the East Chine Sea Range, the artillerymen recorded hits at 138,200, 119,100 and 11,400 yards.

Pfc. Crawley fired with the team representing A Battery of the brigade's 65th Artillery, which is regularly stationed on Okinawa.

The 24-year-old soldier entered the Army in August 1959, completed basic training at Fort Jackson, S. C., and arrived on Okinawa in December 1960.

Crawley is a 1952 graduate of Ellenville High School.

Who says you won't get POLIO?

Polio struck last summer...and the summer before...and it will strike again this summer. There is no reason why you can't get it—unless you have had vaccine shots.

The groups who appear to be particularly susceptible are young parents and babies. And now is the time to do something about it. Don't wait another day to start the series of shots. It only takes minutes for protection.

Call your own physician or the local health department for information.

No one who needs this protection should go without it!

Propose Private Financing For Woodstock's Master Plan

Four possible methods of financing the cost of a Growth Plan and drafts and accompanying ordinances for the Town of Woodstock have been presented by J. C. van Rijn, chairman of the Woodstock Planning Board.

van Rijn told some 50 business representatives it would cost $20,000 to finance the Master Plan over a three year period.

The fourth alternative would be private donations and he indicated that if $10,000 is raised by voluntary contributions, an anonymous donor in the township would match it with a donation of $10,000.

The four methods of financing as suggested by van Rijn are:

1) Town budget, $20,000, paid at the rate of $6666.00 per year over a three-year period. If adopted the program would start in January 1962 and be effective by the summer of 1963.

2) Bond issue, $20,000, payable at the rate of $4,000 a year for five years; would start in January, 1962, and be effective by the summer of 1963.

3) Government aid, known as UPAP (Urban Planning Assistance Program) cost would be $25,000, payable over a three-year period at $8,333 per year. This plan would start within one to three years and tentatively be in operation between 1963 and 1965. Since this method of financing is generally granted only for emergency situations it was deemed the least effective for Woodstock's needs.

4) Private donations, cost, $20,000; financed three years at $6,666.00 per year. Work on this plan could be started at once and the plan would be effective by the summer of 1962.

Done in Cooperstown

van Rijn cited the Village of Cooperstown as an example of a community where the Master Plan was financed through private donations.

Indicating his preference for the private donation method, van Rijn told the business men that "to get the work started immediately, all we need is your combined pledge of $10,000."

The Planning Board chairman pointed out that there are about 150 businesses in the township and "if only 100 pledge an average of $100, we can start tomorrow." He also noted that "we have three years to pay, so as little an average yearly outlay as $33 will do the thing for our town. The payments are made to the Town of Woodstock and therefore are deductible income before taxes."

"So, if you have a partnership in business, or if you are just an individual, you are likely to be in the 25 per cent to 35 per cent bracket and a $100 pledge over three years will cost you, then, about $22 a year. I am confident we shall make the grade and do no less than Cooperstown did."

Pledge cards were passed out to business men attending the meeting.

"No one will or should contribute who is not convinced that this is the right thing for Woodstock to do," van Rijn's statement concluded.

Committee Plans An Intensified Bond Campaign

The Onteora Committee for Better Education, a Woodstock group recruiting support for the upcoming bond issue vote on April 10, has intensified its efforts to get a maximum registration in Woodstock.

Richard Langham, chairman, in opening the first meeting of district captains, pointed out that first-day registration figures showed a very heavy turnout in those communities which have expressed opposition to the bond issue. He urged that every effort should be made to obtain a substantial vote in Woodstock where there is a desperate need for additional classrooms for the children.

Following a report from the district captains there was a general discussion of issues that were raised by the taxpayers. It was brought out that the actual cost of classrooms would be $13,200 each, the balance of the cost being special rooms, most of which are required by the State Education Department, site development, sewage, etc. The actual construction cost amounts to $16.50 per square foot which compares favorably to the cost of the average modest home, per square foot.

Low Tax Rate

Trustee Janet Greene of the Board of Education pointed out that the district had the second lowest true value tax rate in the mid-Hudson area and is in the lowest quarter on a statewide basis, according to a recent survey conducted by the N. Y. State Teachers Association.

It was also decided to set up machinery to make babysitters and transportation available on April 3 for registration and on April 10 for voting.

In closing, district captains were urged to impress upon voters that their vote should be on the need of the additional space only and that questions concerning the general operation of the school system had no connection with the bond issue and should be raised at the budget hearing.

Among those present were: Mrs. Gordon Anderson, secretary; Mrs. Donald O'Rourke, Mrs. Ernest Wittner, Mrs. Herwig Sernberg, Mrs. Donald Twine, John Majoros, Mrs. Alvin Moscowitz, Mrs. Irwin Arlt, Mrs. Edward Goddard, Mrs. Edmund Gilligan, Mrs. Margaret Ruff, Mrs. Paul Williams, Mrs. James Comfort, Miss Therese Kessel, Henry Winzenreid and Edwin Braddon.

Women's League Annual Meeting Set for April 12

The League of Women Voters' annual dinner meeting will be held at Deanie's on Wednesday, April 12, at 7 p. m. A business meeting is scheduled at 8 p. m.

Members are asked to bring their March "Bulletin" for information pertanent to voting. There will be a brief report and discussion on the state LVW convention. Entertainment will be provided through the courtesy of some "helpful husbands."

Mrs. Jack Garside and Mrs. Joseph Fitzsimmons are in charge of reservations which close on April 8.

The National Item workshop committee promises at its April 18 meeting at van Rijn's conference room at 8 p. m. The subject is "Egypt" and the committee is happy to announce that Mrs. Jack Clair of Kingston, who hade an extensive tour of the land of the Nile last summer will show slides and talk about her trip.

High points of the visit included the ancient places to be flooded by the Aswan Dam and a 1000-mile journey up the Nile, as well os a camel caravan excursion across the Sahara. Mrs. Crair is a member of the AAUW and holds a degree in ancient history and Latin from Syracuse University. This is a wonderful opportunity for all League members to increase their knowledge of a much discussed and turbulent area.

Another League workshop is scheduled on Wednesday, April 26, at 8 p. m. at the home of Mrs. Vivian Moscowitz, on the lower Byrdcliffe road. The subject is : "Using U. S. farm surpluses to promote economic growth in the developing countries" and Public Law 480.

Chronic Problem

A League survey indicates that the problem of U. S. farm surpluses has become a chronic one with our surplus food stocks climbing from 2½ billion in 1952 to over 9 billion in 1960. The Woodstock workshop will cover such questions as how this has come about, what effect agricultural exports and imports have on the surplus problem, and the Agricultural Trade Development and Assistance Act known as Public Law 480. Public Law 480 is the chief instrument of the "Food for Peace" program and is of vital concern to all League members. This law will come before the present session of Congress for renewal. It is urged that all members attend the discussion.

A spring seminar on International Relations will be held in Woodstock sponsored by the National Item Committee. Four lectures will be given from May 1 through May 22 on consecutive Monday evenings. Details will be announced in the next Bulletin.

League members are reminded that today, April 3, is the final day of registration for the April 10 bond issue vote in the Onteora Central district. All members are urged to register. The League plans to mail a "Fact Sheet" on the bond issue to every registered voter by April 10.

Today Is Final Registration Day For OCS Bond Issue Vote

Committees and groups for and against the forthcoming $1,016,500 bond issue vote in the Onteora Central District on April 10 will be busy today getting voters to the registration centers.

This is the last day of registration and all four registration places in the district — Shandaken, Boiceville, Woodstock and West Hurley — are expected to hum with activity. The hours are from 2 p. m. to 8 p. m.

Woodstock proponents of the new construction program, dissatisfied with the first-day turnout (286) have been conducting an intensive telephone campaign to persuade persons favorable to the bond issue to register.

Unusually heavy registration in the Town of Olive where anti-bond issue sentiment is well organized indicates the district wide vote could be close. Failure of many Woodstockers to register has injected another imponderable in the guessing game. But Woodstock committees, particularly the Onteora Committee for Better Education, hope to have that situation improved by 8 o'clock tonight.

A record breaking vote already has been assured. As of March 27, there were a total of 2206 persons registered. Of this total, 1266 were on the registration rolls from the 1960 election, the other 940 registered last Monday.

Seek Volunteers At Rec Diamond

Members of the Onteora Central Schools District athletic department will be at the Woodstock Recreation field next Wednesday, Thursday and Friday.

The Onteora Board of Education recently was granted permission to use the baseball diamond by the Woodstock Town Board for the OCS varsity games and practice sessions this season.

Physical Education Director Edward S. Witko of Onteora is seeking volunteers from throughout the district to assist in getting the grounds in shape. The work crews will be there with supervision throughout the day.

All persons in the Woodstock area who would like to volunteer their services are invited to visit the field on any of the work days.

Town Notes

Complaints are being received about the horrible condition of the lower Ohayo Mountain road between the intersection of Hill 9 and Sully's bridge. Large gaping holes in the middle of the road that force motorists to catwalk the shoulders on either side of the highway, could be used as excellent proving grounds for new model army tanks. It seems incredible that such conditions have not yet been corrected and please, let us not hear anything about the new pavement that was supposed to have been started two years ago.

Peace Corps Blanks

Peace Corps Volunteer questionnaires are now available at the Woodstock Post Office, it is announced by Postmaster Leon Carey. Those who may file questionnaires are United States citizens 18 years of age and over, including married couples without children under 18, if both husband and wife are willing to volunteer for the Peace Corps.

Florida Returnes

Allen Dean Elwyn, Woodstock's popular restaurateur and his wife, Kathleen, have returned from a three-weeks stay in Florida. Another Florida arrival is J. Carson Hutchins and family. Hutchins has assumed his duties as golf professional at Woodstock Country Club.

A committee of Democratic women will meet at the home of Mrs. Donald Twine this evening at 7:30 p. m. to make plans for the Democratic Club's rummage sale on Memorial Day.

Postmaster Leon Carey of Wodstock has been nominated to the board of directors of the New York Chapter of the Postmasters Association. Carey was nominated at the March meeting of the Ulster County Postmasters Association. Frank Burger, postmaster at Rhinebeck, has been nominated for president. The elections will be held at the annual state convention in Fallsburgh, in June.

In the Matter
the Final Judicial Settlement of the Account of Proceedings of HELEN M. LACKEY, as Administratrix of the goods, chattels and credits which were
of
JOSEPH A. BRETT,
Deceased.

NOTICE OF SALE
AUCTION

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN that, pursuant to an order of HON. FRANCIS X. TUCKER, Surrogate of the County of Ulster, duly made and entered on the 15th day of February, 1961, HELEN M. LACKEY as Administratrix of the goods, chattels and credits which were of Joseph A. Brett, deceased, will sell at public auction at the front door of the County Court House, 285 Wall Street, Kingston, New York, on the 7th day of April, 1961, at twelve o'clock noon of that day, the real property, together with the contents located in the buildings thereon, owned by Joseph A. Brett, the decedent above named, situated in the Town of Rosendale, County of Ulster, and State of New York, consisting of two parcels, each to be sold separately, said parcels being more particularly bounded and described as follows:

PARCEL I—RESIDENCE PROPERTY

ALL THAT TRACT, OR PARCEL OF LAND, situate in the Town of Rosendale, County of Ulster and State of New York, and lying on the northerly side of the Kingston-Rosendale State Highway, bounded and described as follows:

BEGINNING at the southwest corner of the lands of Mrs. Horn on the Northerly side of the said State Highway and runs thence North forty-one degrees fifteen minutes West five hundred ninety-six and nineteen hundredths feet to a stone wall the southerly bounds of lands of the Consolidated Rosendale Cement Company; thence along the same South fifty-two degrees ten minutes west one hundred ninety-three and five tenths feet to lands of Lillian M. Brett; thence along the easterly side of same south forty-one degrees fifteen minutes east six hundred fifty-nine and nineteen hundredths feet to the northerly side of the aforesaid State Highway; thence along the same North thirty-three degrees forty-five minutes East two hundred feet to the point and place of beginning.

Being the same premises as described in a Deed from Phoebe Marie Brett to Joseph A. Brett, dated August 1st, 1947, and recorded in the Ulster County Clerk's Office on August 4th, 1947, in Book 685 of Deeds, at page 375.

PARCEL II—BUNGALOW PROPERTY

ALL THAT TRACT, OR PARCEL OF LAND, situate in the Town of Rosendale, County of Ulster, and State of New York, bounded and described as follows:

BEGINNING at a point on the westerly side of Rosendale Boulevard, said point being the southeasterly corner of the property of Peter Britt (Lillian M. Brett), from thence running along the southerly bounds of the said Peter Britt (Lillian M. Brett) on a course of north 63 degrees 50 minutes west for a distance of about 754.00 feet to the bounds of the property known as the Wood Farm, now in possesion of Hall and Bernett, thence along the easterly bounds of the said Hall and Bernett in a southwesterly direction for a distance of 50 feet, to the northwesterly corner of lot No. 2, thence along the northerly bounds of said lot No. 2, on a course of south 62 degrees 50 minutes east for a distance of about 753.00 feet to the westerly side of the aforesaid Rosendale Boulevard, thence along the westerly side of the aforesaid Boulevard on a course of north 26 degrees 10 minutes east for a distance of 50 feet to the point or place of beginning.

Being the same premises as described in a Deed from Andrew A. Matheia and Margaret E. Matheia, his wife, to Joseph A. Brett, dated September 30th, 1929, and recorded in the Ulster County Clerk's Office on October 8th, 1929, in Book 541 of Deeds, at page 90.

The parcel designated as "PARCEL I—RESIDENCE PROPERTY" shall not be sold for less than $3,500., and shall be sold subject to the unpaid 1961 Town Taxes of the Town of Rosendale of $52.14, plus interest and penalties thereon, and

The parcel designated as "PARCEL II—BUNGALOW PROPERTY" shall not be sold for less than $1,800., and shall be sold subject to the unpaid 1961 Town Taxes of the Town of Rosendale of $33.52, plus interest and penalties thereon.

This sale is held pursuant to an order of the Surrogate of the County of Ulster, and is made subject to the approval of said Surrogate, as is required by law. In the event that the said Surrogate shall not approve this sale, the moneys paid by any purchaser on the day of the sale will be returned to him without interest.
Dated: February 15th, 1961.

In the Matter
of
the Final Judicial Settlement of the Account of Proceedings of HELEN M. LACKEY, as Administratrix of the goods, chattels and credits which were
of
JOSEPH A. BRETT,
Deceased.

AUCTION

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN that, pursuant to an order of HON. FRANCIS X. TUCKER, Surrogate of the County of Ulster, duly made and entered on the 15th day of February, 1961, HELEN M. LACKEY as Administratrix of the goods, chattels and credits which were of Joseph A. Brett, deceased, will sell at public auction at the front door of the County Court House, 285 Wall Street, Kingston, New York, on the 7th day of April, 1961, at twelve o'clock noon of that day, the real property, together with the contents located in the buildings thereon, owned by Joseph A. Brett, the decedent above named, situated in the Town of Rosendale, County of Ulster, and State of New York, consisting of two parcels, each to be sold separately, said parcels being more particularly bounded and described as follows:

PARCEL I—RESIDENCE PROPERTY

ALL THAT TRACT, OR PARCEL OF LAND, situate in the Town of Rosendale, County of Ulster and State of New York, and lying on the northerly side of the Kingston-Rosendale State Highway, bounded and described as follows:

BEGINNING at the southwest corner of the lands of Mrs. Horn on the Northerly side of the said State Highway and runs thence North forty-one degrees fifteen minutes West five hundred ninety-six and nineteen hundredths feet to a stone wall the southerly bounds of lands of the Consolidated Rosendale Cement Company; thence along the same South fifty-two degrees ten minutes west one hundred ninety-three and five tenths feet to lands of Lillian M. Brett; thence along the easterly side of same south forty-one degrees fifteen minutes east six hundred fifty-nine and nineteen hundredths feet to the northerly side of the aforesaid State Highway; thence along the same North thirty-three degrees forty-five minutes East two hundred feet to the point and place of beginning.

Being the same premises as described in a Deed from Phoebe Marie Brett to Joseph A. Brett, dated August 1st, 1947, and recorded in the Ulster County Clerk's Office on August 4th, 1947, in Book 685 of Deeds, at page 375.

PARCEL II—BUNGALOW PROPERTY

ALL THAT TRACT, OR PARCEL OF LAND, situate in the Town of Rosendale, County of Ulster, and State of New York, bounded and described as follows:

BEGINNING at a point on the westerly side of Rosendale Boulevard, said point being the southeasterly corner of the property of Peter Britt (Lillian M. Brett), from thence running along the southerly bounds of the said Peter Britt (Lillian M. Brett) on a course of north 63 degrees 50 minutes west for a distance of about 754.00 feet to the bounds of the property known as the Wood Farm, now in possesion of Hall and Bernett, thence along the easterly bounds of the said Hall and Bernett in a southwesterly direction for a distance of 50 feet, to the northwesterly corner of lot No. 2, thence along the northerly bounds of said lot No. 2, on a course of south 62 degrees 50 minutes east for a distance of about 753.00 feet to the westerly side of the aforesaid Rosendale Boulevard, thence along the westerly side of the aforesaid Boulevard on a course of north 26 degrees 10 minutes east for a distance of 50 feet to the point or place of beginning.

Being the same premises as described in a Deed from Andrew A. Matheia and Margaret E. Matheia, his wife, to Joseph A. Brett, dated September 30th, 1929, and recorded in the Ulster County Clerk's Office on October 8th, 1929, in Book 541 of Deeds, at page 90.

The parcel designated as "PARCEL I—RESIDENCE PROPERTY" shall not be sold for less than $3,500., and shall be sold subject to the unpaid 1961 Town Taxes of the Town of Rosendale of $52.14, plus interest and penalties thereon, and

The parcel designated as "PARCEL II—BUNGALOW PROPERTY" shall not be sold for less than $1,800., and shall be sold subject to the unpaid 1961 Town Taxes of the Town of Rosendale of $33.52, plus interest and penalties thereon.

This sale is held pursuant to an order of the Surrogate of the County of Ulster, and is made subject to the approval of said Surrogate, as is required by law. In the event that the said Surrogate shall not approve this sale, the moneys paid by any purchaser on the day of the sale will be returned to him without interest.
Dated: February 15th, 1961.

WANT-AD WONDERS Trade Mark

"Auto" Ad Brings Quick "Results"

An auto firm in Lawrence, Kansas, believed its prices were so low that buying was just like stealing and placed a Want Ad which read: "Come in and steal our cars . . ."

The Ad brought quick results —someone broke into the showroom and drove off a new model.

First Million State Tax Refunds Reported Issued

ALBANY — The first million New York State income tax refund checks on 1960 returns had been issued as of today, it was announced by State Tax Commissioner Joseph H. Murphy.

Total value of the 1,016,687 refund checks issued so far is $32,051,153.14. The average value of refund checks is $31.52 each.

By mid-June, when it is expected that most of the 6,400,000 state income tax returns will have been processed, Commissioner Murphy said that approximately 4,500,000 refund checks will have been mailed to taxpayers.

He emphasized that taxpayers who have not already filed their 1960 income tax returns may expect to get their refund checks more quickly — if a refund is due — if they file now rather than wait until the April 17 deadline.

He said also that an examination of returns already filed indicates that many state taxpayers still are not sure how or where to compute the 10 per cent tax reduction.

"For those taxpayers using the short form IT-200," he said, "the 10 per cent cut is to be taken in the space under line 7. For those using the long form IT-201, the computation is to be made under line 13. That is also the space to be used for those filing on the new husband and wife combined income form IT-208."

Newspapers Favored By Savings Banks

NEW YORK, April 3—Mutual savings banks estimate 1961 individual bank advertising expenditures of almost $19 million, more than in any previous year, according to a survey made by the National Association of Mutual Savings Banks.

Actual expenditures for 1960 exceeded $18 million, also a record. In recent years, actual expenditures have been greater than estimates, usually because of special campaigns for new depositors and new branch offices.

As in previous years, top advertising copy emphasis is placed on savings, with mortgages and banking by mail second and third respectively. Although newspapers continue to head the list of advertising and promotional media used by mutual savings banks, community relations have moved from sixth to second place since the 1960 survey.

More than half of the banks employ an advertising agency, and one-fifth subscribe to an ad mat service. More than three-quarters of the savings banks participate in some form of group advertising programs, usually with other savings banks.

WEATHER FORECAST FOR NEXT 30 DAYS—These maps, based on those supplied March 31 by the United States Weather Bureau, forecast the probable rainfall and temperatures for the next 30 days. (AP Wirephoto Map)

Weatherman Says Cold Week Ahead

ALBANY, N. Y. (AP)—The extended forecasts for New York State, prepared by the U. S. Weather Bureau, for the period from 7 p. m. today to 7 p. m. Saturday:

Eastern New York—Unseasonably cold most of the week with temperatures averaging 3-6 degrees below normal. Few light showers or snow flurries through Wednesday and rain or snow likely by Thursday or Friday. Total water content of precipitation averaging around one-half inch.

Western New York — Continued changeable weather is indicated. Temperatures are expected to average below normal. A few snow flurries and cold tonight. Partial clearing, moderating Tuesday, followed by snow or rain Wednesday. Showers, snow flurries and little temperature change thereafter. One-half inch or more melted precipitation is expected.

Temperature normals — Normal temperatures over Upstate New York now range from daytime highs of 46-54, to overnight lows of 27-35.

Mark Independence

DAKAR, Senegal (AP) —Government leaders from East and West trooped to the gleaming presidential palace of Senegal today to open the former French colony's celebration of one year of independence.

U. S. Vice President Lyndon B. Johnson, Soviet Deputy Foreign Minister Jacob Malik and French Cultural Affairs Minister Andre Malraux drove through cheering street crowds to the palace of Leopold Senghor, the poet and politician who is president of Senegal.

Women Live Longer

WASHINGTON (AP)—A decade ago the Census Bureau first reported that women outnumbered men in the United States.

Now, as results of the 1960 census roll in, the bureau says the women's margin is increasing. The reason is women live longer.

In 1950, the Census Bureau reported 100 women for every 99 men. Preliminary data from the 1960 canvass show 100 women for every 97 men—91 million females and 88.3 million males.

Police Say Pair Took Cash From Telephone Boxes

MINEOLA, N. Y. (AP) — Two young partners in a Hempstead, N. Y., television business did some illegal shooting after business got bad last February, police say.

Their rifle and pistol targets were described as the locks on outdoor telephone booth cash boxes—some 60 of them extending as far north as Glens Falls, N. Y.

A telephone spokesman estimates the haul in the forays was between $2,000 and $3,000.

Thomas M. McKee, 23, of Uniondale, N. Y., one of the two, pleaded guilty in first district court here Sunday to petty larceny and violation of the weapons law.

Judge Albert C. Moore ordered him held in $500 bail for sentencing April 24.

John Bertuccio, 23, who police said helped McKee in the looting, was picked up on still another charge Saturday at his home in Woodhaven, Queens.

Bertuccio was arrested for failing to answer a traffic summons and was taken before Justice of the Peace William Hauf in Putnam Valley, N. Y., where he was given five days in the county jail.

Search Resumed For Missing Boy

GILBERTSVILLE, N. Y. (AP) —The number of searchers dwindled along with hope today in the hunt for 3-year-old Thomas Neers, who vanished a week ago from this community near Oneonta.

State Police said only 15 searchers were on hand this morning, compared with 400 who combed the hills and the banks of swirling Butternut Creek after Easter services Sunday. The number included volunteers, firemen and police. A helicopter from Griffiss Air Force Base also participated.

The boy's tracks have been traced to the creek, which runs near the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas J. Neers. Neers is a social studies teacher at Gilbertsville Central School.

Policy Instructions

WASHINGTON (AP) — A two-day foreign policy briefing for about 500 members of the radio-television industry opens today with a speech by Secretary of State Dean Rusk.

President Kennedy will address the group Tuesday.

Police Say Pair Took Cash From Telephone Boxes

MINEOLA, N. Y. (AP) — Two young partners in a Hempstead, N. Y., television business did some illegal shooting after business got bad last February, police say.

Their rifle and pistol targets were described as the locks on outdoor telephone booth cash boxes—some 60 of them extending as far north as Glens Falls, N. Y.

A telephone spokesman estimates the haul in the forays was between $2,000 and $3,000.

Thomas M. McKee, 23, of Uniondale, N. Y., one of the two, pleaded guilty in first district court here Sunday to petty larceny and violation of the weapons law.

Judge Albert C. Moore ordered him held in $500 bail for sentencing April 24.

John Bertuccio, 23, who police said helped McKee in the looting, was picked up on still another charge Saturday at his home in Woodhaven, Queens.

Bertuccio was arrested for failing to answer a traffic summons and was taken before Justice of the Peace William Hauf in Putnam Valley, N. Y., where he was given five days in the county jail.

Search Resumed For Missing Boy

GILBERTSVILLE, N. Y. (AP) —The number of searchers dwindled along with hope today in the hunt for 3-year-old Thomas Neers, who vanished a week ago from this community near Oneonta.

State Police said only 15 searchers were on hand this morning, compared with 400 who combed the hills and the banks of swirling Butternut Creek after Easter services Sunday. The number included volunteers, firemen and police. A helicopter from Griffiss Air Force Base also participated.

The boy's tracks have been traced to the creek, which runs near the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas J. Neers. Neers is a social studies teacher at Gilbertsville Central School.

Policy Instructions

WASHINGTON (AP) — A two-day foreign policy briefing for about 500 members of the radio-television industry opens today with a speech by Secretary of State Dean Rusk.

President Kennedy will address the group Tuesday.
